Dedication

Whether we wish to admit it or not, we are the future of our ancestors, as our descendants are our future. We owe our descendants our dreams and bequeath to them the legacy of our collective accomplishments – nothing more and nothing less. To our descendants, we charge you with the honoring of your heritage. Your ancestors were hardy folk, god-fearing and plain spoken, and who recognized that nothing was due them except that which they themselves earned. They were not ashamed to profess their belief in God, their country and the American ideal. Of course, there were a few rascallions in our collective history, but neither more nor less than in any other family.

We too easily forget what it took to forge a life in a new world, one rife with peril and with little at hand but a steadfast determination to not only survive but to thrive. Our ancestors bequeathed us with their genes, aspirations and talents. It is therefore fitting that the Blandford Series of Yarbrough Family Records be dedicated to them for making it possible for us to be who we are.

To paraphrase Robert Kincaid¹, “The dreams they had were good ones. They didn’t all come true, but they were worth having, all the same.”

Acknowledgement

The Yarbrough Association is greatly indebted to the vision and efforts of Cathy Y. Walker and William A. (Bill) Yarbrough, the late president and vice-president of the YNGHA, respectively, for beginning the project to digitize the 150+ volumes of records accumulated over the life of the Association. Fulfilment of the project was through the efforts of a number of officers and members, including Bill’s son Mark, Rachel and Don Yarbrough, Hal Yarbrough, Jan and Jim Yarbrough, Ann and Al Bush, Elaine and Lyle Wolf, Joan Y. Singlaub, and Joanne and Bill Augspurger.

It was my privilege to be a part of this dedicated team.

Preface

These records are the legacy of our Yarbrough family researchers, to whom much is owed. The known family researchers include Jean Baker, Ann Y. Broadbent, Mary Y. Daniel, Frances (Rea) Donohue, Betty Humrighouse, Pauline Gray, Evelyn Goble, Nelle Morris Jenkins, Ophelia Kessler, Frances Lockwood, Karen Mazock Renee Smelley, Dorothy Svec, Jeanette Wilson, Cleveland “Cy” Yarborough, Edna Yarbrough, George A. Yarbrough, and Robert Price Yarbrough.

The originals of these volumes are being kept for the benefit of future generations by the Williamson County Library, Franklin, Tennessee.

No claims of accuracy or authentication of the material herein are made or may be assumed. Many of these records have been superseded by subsequent research. Hence, there are records which are erroneous and unreliable; it would have been a Herculean task to attempt to correct all of them. Fortunately, there are only a few critical genealogical facts that are involved, and which are correctly stated here:

- Richard (the Immigrant) Yarborough was never married to Frances Proctor;
- Ambrose Yarbrough did not immigrate from Yorkshire; he is now believed to be a descendant of Richard the Immigrant;
- There are so far only two proven sons of Old Richard – John and Richard II;
- There is so far no evidence proving Joshua Yarborough I to be a descendant of Old Richard.
- The “Old Country” referred to in old documents and letters is the Colony of Virginia, not England or the Old World.
- There were not seven brothers who immigrated from “the old country”; in fact, it now appears there were three brothers and four sons of the brothers. Which were the fathers and which were the sons are so far unknown.

In spite of these inaccuracies, these records comprise much of our history and some of our accomplishments. There are pages whose print quality is so poor that word recognition was not possible. In spite of that, at least partial capability for searching these volumes is provided, as well as an index to each volume. Nonetheless, the viewer is cautioned to perform his/her own due diligence in connection with any use of this material.

The various spellings of the Yarbrough surname have never been applied consistently, even within a given family. To the extent possible, the names in the index reflect the names used on the source pages; where it wasn't clear as to which might be the proper spelling, the spelling used is “Yarbrough”.

The material contained herein is subject to the copyright laws of the United States. Material may be freely used by Yarbrough family researchers so long as proper attribution to the Yarbrough National Genealogical & Historical Association, Inc. is given. This material, in whole or in part, may not be used for any other purposes without the express written permission of the Yarbrough National Genealogical & Historical Association.

We welcome the submission of any Yarbrough family information that can be added to our growing data base. P. G. NASH, Administrator of the Estate of NIEL S. YARBROUGH, deceased.

Died at the residence in Sumter County on 2nd of December last, DAVID DRUMMOND in his 52nd year.

Died at her residence near Jones' Bluff, Sumter County on the 25th of December, 1865, HELEN AMELIA, Wife of ANDREW J. ARRINGTON aged 28 years 2 months and 5 days. Left a husband and three little children. Died with tuberculosis.

Please turn to page 62-Vol. 1 and you will see that Ambrose born 1801 and Stephen (lines 11 and 12) were in Sumpter County Alabama, at exactly the same time and place. (Chile's Mill Township) where Richard Yarbrough lived in the late 1830's and where Richard was J.P. This Ambrose Yarbrough was the son of Humphrey who married a Miss Layton. Humphrey's father was Ambrose Yarbrough who was born 1710 in Yorkshire England, of the Yarbrough de Watson family-and came to the Colonies, Amelia County, Va. (1746) and is said to have married a distant cousin-probably and aunt of my Manoah Yarbrough-that is where Manoah's father Zachariah was from. Ambrose's children or those named in the will-were Ambrose Jr., (RWS); Burley (please note on preceeding page that Ambrose Yarbrough born 1801-do not confuse him with Ambrose Yarbrough the son of Jonathan who was also a son of Jonathan who was also a son of Ambrose Sr. had a son named Burley, aged 16. I am wondering if Burley, the child of Ambrose Sr., were a daughter- I had always thought that person to be a man until I studied the census on preceeding page) Other children were Humphrey, Joseph and Ann and Jeremiah.

More about these families later

There was another family of Yarbrough's in Sumpter County, Alabama in its early days. The head of this family was ALFRED YARBROUGH. He lived in Marengo County prior to his removal to Sumpter in the 1830's. He was in Marengo County as early as 1821. He appears in the Tract Book on 18 May 1821. He sold land to Elisha Yarbrough in 1825. Elisha Yarbrough deeded property to Lydia Yarbrough "for love and affection I have for her." Lydia married John M. Smith in Marengo County, and moved to Sumpter County, living on adjoining plantation to Alfred (between my husband's great grandfather and Alfred) Mr. Smith lost his mind temporarily; he had a child and Alfred was made her guardian. Mr. Smith became better at a later date--probably from malarial fever as the misquitoses were said to be horrible where the people cleared land, and mesquitoses fied in the rotting stumps--so the people thought that foul air from the decaying vegetation caused maleria. He is buried at Boney Cemetery (see your Sumpter Co. map, between pages 50 and 51 in Vol. 1.

The inscription reads;

ALFRED YARBROUGH, born 12 December 1792, died 26 February 1857.

By the side of Alfred Yarbrough lies sleeping, his wife Mary. Her Tombstone reads;

MARY, WIFE OF ALFRED YARBROUGH, born 31 November 1798, died 27 June 1853. (The Bethel Presbyterian Church minutes show that Mary Yarbrough, wife of Alfred Yarbrough was admitted from Millenium Hope Church by letter, 23 July 1837. No mention of Alfred having joined the church, but he must have as on 9 April 1846 a committee was sent to find out ~~why~~ Alfred Yarbrough did not go to church. He told the committee that as long as the present minister (Rev. Isaac Hadden) was preaching there that he would not attend services. Several of the Yarbrough slaves belonged to this church. Son Neil Smith Yarbrough, is buried in the Yarbrough loy-he is Alfred's son.

NEIL SMITH YARBROUGH, son of Alfred and Mary Yarbrough, born 6 March 1835, died 17 January 1861. (He married Sarah S. Manley on 19 June 1857, by a Catholic Priest After the death of her husband, Neil S. Yarbrough she married George W. Bates, by a Baptist Minister. D.P. Bester. He died intestate and his wife was Administrator.

They had two children-minors-Neil S. Jr., and Mary Yarbrough. Neil left a lot of property and slaves; also stock worth $100,000 a share in the Gainesville- Market Railroad which went near the lower end of his place.

Samantha Ann was a daughter of Alfred and Mary Yarbrough. She married George W. Wrenn. They lived near the Yarbrough's. My son, Tom Jenkins, owns this land where they lived. George Wrenn was the son of James and Eliza Wrenn of Sumpterville. No issue)

SAMANTHA A.-wife of George M. Wrenn and DAUGHTER OF ALFRED AND MARY YARBROUGH
born 24, March 1826, died 26 October 1863.

A daughter-in-law- Mary Ann Yarbrough lies sleeping by the side of her Husband's mother, Mary Yarbrough. Her tombstone inscription reads:

MARY ANN YARBROUGH, daughter of Matthew and Elizabeth Parham, and wife of James Q. Yarbrough, died 27 May 1852 aged 19 years. (Matthew Parham and his wife Nancy are buried at the Old Side Cemetery about 7 miles east of Boney Cemetery. His second wife, or we think she was a second wife- was named Nancy. Nancy was related to a Day family, Matthew Parham's gravestone states that he was born 1792, and died 10 January 1859. Matthew left his estate, or the bulk of it to his grandson, Parham Yarbrough. There 77 slaves who were sold. I knew one of these Negroes who was 7 years old when Matthew Parham died. His name was Hilliard Bryant. Hilliard lived to be almost 100 years old. He told me about his old master and the little master, Parham Yarbrough. The Parham land is now owned by Mrs. Knox Elliott; those who were the first owners were; Martin Simms, Malachi Nettles, William H. Lacy, Henry J. Darnell, Benj. Talliafarro. James Q. Yarbrough's land lay just west and adjoining my land, between me and Boney Cemetery, and is now owned by Mr. Phil Willingham. My late husband's great Aunt was with these Yarbroughs when their people died. She promised this family that she would see that their family graves would be attended to; she carried out her promise, now my children have those graves cleaned in the abandoned graveyard. My husband had it done for thirty years, His father had it done for forty years and my children have had the lots cleaned since 1948. James Q. wrote my husband's great aunt that they had so many cows in east Texas where they went, that they had to churn in a hoghead. I wondered why they did not skin the milk, but my husband did not know. Dorothy Svec wrote me about a James Q. Yarbrough she found in a Texas Census. I am wondering if Alfred's wife were a Owsley or Quinley. Does anyone know? There were people by that name who lived near the Yarbrough's. I found in the settlement of the Matthew Parham estate that Frances T. Morton and Arnold Walkings of N.C. claimed to be legatees of the Parham estate. James Q. Yarbrough was made guardian of Parham Yarbrough's property.

B. H. AHRENBECK.

NAVASOTA.

Mr. Ahrenbeck was born and reared in Hanover, Germany, whence he emigrated to America in 1855, landing at Galveston in November of that year. He settled on Spring Branch in Harris County, where he resided two years, and then moved to Hempstead. In 1867 he moved from Hempstead to Navasota, his present place of residence. Mr. Ahrenbeck learned the milling business in Germany; but, on coming to this country, for lack of employment at his trade, worked as a wagon-maker. He built a flour-mill at Navasota in 1877; but, after a short and unprofitable run, shut it down, and resumed work as a wagon-maker. In 1891 he again went into the milling business, which he has since followed. Mr. Ahrenbeck was accompanied to this country by his brother Charles, and they were always associated together in business until the latter's death September 23, 1885. Both were competent mechanics, and struggled hard during their early years in Texas to secure a foothold. Their efforts were finally rewarded with success. They built up a good trade and secured a first-class standing in the community where they lived. Mr. Ahrenbeck is one of the leading citizens of Navasota, a man of means and is highly respected.

He married Mrs. Weston, of Grimes County, in 1869, but has no children.

JAMES QUINCY YARBOROUGH,

GRIMES COUNTY.

Col. James Quincy Yarborough, son of Alfred and Mary Yarborough, was born in Coosa County, Ala., September 8, 1827, and was reared in Marengo and Sumter counties in that State, growing up on his father's farm, where his boyhood and youth were divided between the duties and sports of the farm and his attendance at the local schools. His opportunities for obtaining an education were good and he availed himself of them. At about the age of twenty-one he married and began life as a planter upon his own account. He engaged in planting in his native State until the death of his wife in 1852, when, unsettled by that event and filled with a desire to try his fortunes in the new West, he went to California in 1849 where, however, he remained only a short time, returning thence to Alabama. In 1859 he came to Texas, settling at Apolonia, in Grimes County, where he was residing at the opening of the late war. He entered the Confederate army as a member of Company H., Carter's Regiment, with which he served in Texas, Arkansas and Louisiana until the close of the struggle. His services were rendered in the capacity of a private, but the title of "Colonel," which he subsequently bore, was not a purely honorary distinction, as he was Colonel of the State Militia in Alabama previous to his removal to Texas, and took an active part in military matters in that State.

After the war, in 1869, Col. Yarborough became associated with Lewis J. Wilson and W. R. Howell, under the firm name of Wilson, Yarborough & Co., and embarked in the mercantile business at Anderson, Apolonia, and Navasota, in Grimes County, and at Madisonville, in Madison County. This partnership lasted until 1873, when Col. Yarborough disposed of his interest, and subsequently engaged in business on his own account in Navasota. Later he moved his business to the present station of Yarborough, on the Gulf, Colorado & Santa Fe Railway, ten miles from Navasota, and there followed merchandising and farming until his death. He met with more than ordinary success both as a merchant and planter and left a handsome estate. He was greatly honored in business, never holding any public position and taking only such interest in politics as good citizenship required. When occasion demanded, however, he never hesitated to go to the front in every movement and he always displayed in public matters much of the same spirit, energy, and enterprise which brought such pronounced success in his own undertakings. He was especially active in securing the extension of the Gulf, Colorado & Santa Fe Railway through Grimes County and gave to the company the grounds on which the station of Yarborough is situated to which he added a bonus of $10,000 to aid in the construction of the road. Whatever tended in any way to stimulate industry, to increase the value of property or build up the community, found in him an intelligent and cordial supporter. In politics he was a staunch Democrat, adhering strictly to the principles and traditions of the party. He never asked office for himself but always stood ready to assist with his means and personal efforts those who were honored as standard bearers of the party, and in his quiet but vigorous way did good service for the men and measures of his choice. Col. Yarborough was a man of strong likes and dislikes. There was not the slightest trace of the compromise element in his nature. He always took sides and sought in every legitimate way to carry his point. If he professed friendship for one he was ready to testify to that friendship in a substantial way, and if any one incurred his displeasure he did not hesitate to let the fact be known. He was of a retiring disposition but did his own thinking, acting vigorously and promptly as occasion demanded. He was of genial nature, affable to his friends and easily approached by strangers. Persistent in what he believed to be right or expedient, he never abandoned his matured opinions at the suggestion, or as the result of the opposition of any one. He joined the Masons in Alabama previous to his removal to Texas, and was a liberal contributor to every worthy purpose.

Yarborough was three times married and left surviving him ten children. His first marriage occurred in Alabama and was to Miss Mary A. Parham, a native of that State and a daughter of Mathew Parham, a respectable and well-to-do planter. The issue of this union was one son, the present Mathew Parham Yarborough, of Navasota. His second marriage occurred in Texas and was to Miss Alice Scott, a daughter of Judge James Scott, of Grimes County. Three children were born of this union, viz., Mant, now Mrs. Tom Owen, Alfred, and Jas. L. Yarborough. His last marriage took place in Florida and was to Miss Fannie A. Milton, a native of Marianna, that State, and a daughter of Governor John A. Milton, who served in the Florida Indian wars and was Governor of the State during the war between the States. The six children of this union are: Earle H., J. Milton, Martha E., Virgil H., Guy and Hunter.

Col. Yarborough's death occurred December 23, 1890, and called forth many expressions of sorrow from the people of Grimes County, to whom he was well known and by whom he was greatly respected.

LEWIS J. WILSON,

NAVASOTA.

Was born in Harwinton, Litchfield County, Conn., December 12th, 1832. While an infant his parents moved to Marion, Ala., where they resided until he was fourteen years old, when he was sent North to complete his education, where he remained until he was nineteen years of age.

Mr. Wilson came of an old Connecticut family, one that has long been prominent in the history of that State. His father, Samuel Wilson, a merchant of large means, moved from Connecticut to Marion, Ala., in the early 30's and there engaged in the mercantile business until 1831 when he came to Texas and established a business at Anderson, in Grimes County, in copartnership with Chester M. Case, under the firm name of Case & Wilson. The son, Lewis J., came out to Texas in 1852, took the position of bookkeeper and general manager for the firm and, later, acquired a proprietary interest in the business. Mr. Lewis J. Wilson served as a member of Capt. J. B. Alston's Company, Twenty-first (Carter's) Regiment of Texas Cavalry for two years during the war between the States, and was then honorably discharged from active service in the field on account of physical disabilities. Returning to Anderson, he was soon after made chief clerk in the ordnance department at that place, remaining until the war was over. Immediately after the war he began merchandising in his own name. In 1866 he associated himself with Col. J. Q. Yarborough and, in 1869, Mr. W. E. Howell was admitted to a partnership in the firm. Mr. Wilson and his partner Mr. Yarborough, soon after moved to Navasota and opened up a general mercantile business, leaving Mr. Howell in charge of the business at Anderson. In 1875 Mr. Yarborough withdrew from the firm and the business was continued by Wilson & Howell for six years. Mr. Howell afterwards retired and Mr. Wilson continued the business up to his death. In May, 1890, Mr. Wilson in connection with his son-in-law, Mr. Gibbs, established the Merchants' and Farmers' Bank at Kosse, in Limestone County, a private concern which has done and still continues to do a good business.

In the year 1858 he was married to Miss Lucy Perkins, of Harwinton, Conn., who still survives him. The result of this union was two children, Laura and Sam. Miss Laura married Mr. Blake Gibbs, and is now a widow, Mr. Gibbs having died February 1st, 1891. Sam, who was married to Miss May Matthews, of Navasota, Texas, died July 10th, 1893.

Mr. Wilson died at his residence in Navasota, during the morning of March 8th, 1895, after an illness of only twenty-four hours. For several months

Harry M. M... in 1860. J. N. Singleton established a gristmill and sawmill and a cotton gin near the site in 1870. In 1890, George R. Yantis, operator of a gristmill and gin, secured a post office and gave the settlement his name. In 1900 the village had a store, a gin, a school, and a saloon. Population was 300 in 1915, rose to 400 by 1930, and fell to 350 by 1940.

Yarboro, Texas. Yarboro, in south central Grimes County on the Gulf, Colorado, and Santa Fe Railroad, was first spelled Yarborough and named for J. Q. Yarborough, who established a gristmill and gin at the site prior to 1880. The railroad reached the area in 1885 and Yarboro replaced Groce's Retreat as post office in 1890; population was seventy-five. The village had a store, a church, and a population of fifty in 1947.

Yarboro Creek. Yarboro Creek rises in southwestern Grimes County and flows west about six miles to Walker Creek. The stream was named for J. Q. Yarborough, who established a gristmill and gin on the stream prior to 1880. The stream has been dammed to form Yarboro Lake about seven miles east of the town of Navasota.

Yard, Texas. Yard, in northwestern Anderson County on the Trinity River, was originally a part of Tennessee Colony. The first store in the community was kept by Bruce Gray, who is said to have named the settlement by including a request by a customer for a yard of cloth, on a list of names prepared for the post office department. In 1940 one store and a population of ten were reported.

Yarrellton, Texas. Yarrellton, agricultural, school, and church community in northwestern Milam County, was settled in 1868 and was named for Tom Yarrell, who opened a store in 1870. Population was fifty-eight in 1940.

Yatasi Indians. The Yatasi was a tribe of the Caddo confederacy, closely affiliated in language with the Natchitoch. In order to escape Chickasaw attacks in Louisiana, parts of the tribe took refuge with the Caddo and with the Nasoni in Texas.

Yates, Andrew Janeway. Andrew Janeway Yates, son of Andrew and Mary (Austin) Yates, was born in Hartford, Connecticut, on April 20, 1803. Yates was an M.A. graduate of Union College and a member of Phi Beta Kappa. Before he came to Texas in 1835, he had won recognition as a lawyer, college professor, and author and had acquired a considerable fortune. Upon arriving in Texas, he applied for a headright in Lorenzo de Zavala's colony and located near the town of Liberty. He soon had won the confidence of Stephen F. Austin, Sam Houston, John A. and William H. Wharton, and other leaders of the country.

When the Texas Revolution broke out, Yates immediately joined the army, but late in December, 1835, he was appointed loan commissioner and served under Austin, Branch T. Archer, and William H. Wharton in their efforts to raise funds and supplies in the United States for the Texas Army. Yates' special business was to attend to the legal and clerical details of the loan negotiations and to purchase boats, munitions, and other supplies for the newly declared Republic of Texas. When the revolution was over, he returned to Texas and lived at Liberty until 1841 when he removed to Galveston, where he published the Daily Advertiser and practiced law. He took an active part in enterprises of city and county. Had he so desired, he might have been the leading educator in Texas, being probably the best informed and best trained man in the educational field. He did, however, present to President M. B. Lamar an elaborate but sensible plan for a complete system of schools to be directed by trustees and financed by public lands of the Republic. His plan also provided for the training and certification of teachers and outlined a course of study. Yates was also the first signer of a memorial petitioning Congress to establish a system of popular education.

In 1840, Yates and Sam Houston became involved in a law suit over a league of land at Cedar Point. Two persons had claimed ownership of the land, one selling it to Houston, and the other to Yates. Court records of the case are voluminous, and the Texas Supreme Court did not render its decision in Houston's favor until 1848.

In January, 1851, Yates and his family moved to San José, California, where he established an office and practiced law until his death on August 8, 1856. He was buried with Masonic rites in the cemetery at San José.

Yates, Texas. Yates, on the Llano River in eastern Kimble County, was settled about 1900 and in 1910 had a general store operated by T. J. Land and reported a population of thirty-five. No report has been made since that date.

Yates Oil Field. On his birthday, October 29, 1926, Ira G. Yates, a Pecos County rancher, was handed an estimated $15,000,000 present when the Mid-Kansas and Transcontinental Oil Company's No. 1 Yates blew in a 70,824-barrel producer. The Yates field became the most spectacular in the West Texas area. The second well was a 3,440-barrel producer, and as operations expanded, the daily potential from the Yates field grew to 2,500,000 barrels by the middle of 1928. The field consisted of about 20,000 proved acres, with a potential of 40,000 barrels to the acre, and contained several wells that, if unrestricted, might have had a flow of up to 100,000 barrels a day. The Standard Oil Company of Texas' No. 3 Bob Reid was accounted the greatest oil well in the nation, having a potential rating of 170,000 barrels a day. The tremendous capacity of the field alarmed the oil industry, and effective on January 1, 1928, a system of voluntary proration was instituted by the operators in the field. The maximum production from the Yates field was 41,905,000 barrels for 1929. The production for 1947 was 16,559,000 barrels from 579 wells, 90 per cent of which were still flowing in 1950.

Yearling Head Mountain. Yearling Head Mountain is identified as a 1,669-foot elevation in Llano County by Henry Gannett (Gazetteer of Texas, 1904), but the elevation does not show on more recent maps and possibly was known by another name in 1948.

Yearly, John. John Yearly came to Texas from Arkansas in 1839. In March, 1841, he was living on the Sulphur Fork in present Lamar County near the Fannin county line when Indians made an attack on his home and injured him, his wife, his daughter, and a negro slave. The next month Yearly joined E. H. Tarrant on an expedition against the Indians and was on a scouting party with John B. Denton when Denton was killed. In 1844 Yearly was one of five commissioners who selected the right-of-way for the Central National Road of the Republic of Texas. Impressed with the area covered on his survey for the road, he moved to Collin County, about a half mile from present Farmersville, in 1845. He was the father of five children. Yearly engaged in farming and ranching until his death on December 24, 1854.

Yegua, Texas. Yegua was a Washington County post office in 1860.

Yegua Creek. Yegua Creek heads in three main branches. First (or East) Yegua rises near Rockdale in southern Milam County and flows southeast about twenty-five miles, for most of the distance forming the county line between Lee and Burleson counties to its junction with the Second Yegua Creek, which forms Yegua Creek proper. Second (or Middle) Yegua Creek rises in southeastern Williamson County and flows southeast thirty-five miles across central Lee County to its confluence with First Yegua Creek. Third (or West) Yegua Creek rises in northeastern Bastrop County and flows east twenty-four miles to join Second Yegua in central Lee County. From the junction of its headstreams, Yegua Creek continues as the boundary between Lee and Burleson and Burleson and Washington counties to its junction with the Brazos River at the southeastern corner of Washington County. Yegua Creek has been identified as the stream called San Francisco by Alonso de León in 1690.

Yegua Knobs. Yegua Knobs, rising in northwestern Lee County and extending across the county line into Bastrop County, have an average elevation of 775 feet.

Yell, Archibald. Archibald Yell was born in North Carolina in August, 1797. He migrated to Tennessee, where he saw action with Andrew Jackson in Indian campaigns and at the battle of New Orleans. Yell was a member of the Tennessee Legislature before he removed to Arkansas, where he served successively as land office official, territorial judge, member of Congress, and governor. He resigned the governorship in 1844 and was elected to Congress.

On March 10, 1845, Yell was entrusted with James K. Polk with special instructions. A. J. Donelson, the American chargé d'affaires, confirming John Tyler's choice of the 1845 treaty to bring about annexation. Yell traveled from New Orleans to Texas to offer of annexation. He was active in public meetings, and he was unstinted in his offers of benefits to accrue to Texas and should the measure be consummated. In the United States, he took his seat in the Senate. When the Mexican War broke out, he was commissioned colonel of the First Arkansas Cavalry. He was killed at the battle of Vicksburg on February 23, 1847.

Yell Settlement, Texas. Yell Settlement, in western Hays County about twenty-two miles northwest of San Marcos, was settled in 1840 by Tom George, Elisha McCustion, and John Yell, who was a circuit-riding Methodist minister for whom the settlement was named.

Yellow Bayou. Yellow Bayou rises in Newton County and flows east fourteen miles to Little Cow Creek.

Yellow Branch. Yellow Branch, an intermittent stream, rises in southern Leon County and flows northeast two miles into Boggy Creek.

Yellow House, Texas. Yellow House, in southern Lamb County, was named for the yellow clay in near-by Yellow House Canyon. The site became headquarters for a division of the XIT Ranch about 1880. The ranch was a landmark for surveyors and cowboys. W. Littlefield bought the Yellow House site of the XIT in 1901. During the early 1920's much of the land was in farms. The headquarters house, built by L. White, was destroyed by fire in 1930 and rebuilt in 1933.

Yellow House Creek. Yellow House Creek, an intermittent stream, rises in northwestern Freestone County and flows east and southeast about five miles to join the Double Mountain Fork Brazos River at Lubbock in central Texas. The stream supposedly was named for Indian cave dwellings in the yellowish clay of Yellow House Lake, near which Yellow House Draw or Creek heads. The original Spanish name, Laguna de las Casas Amarillas, was Angli Lake of the Yellow Houses. Viewed from a distance, the high yellow-tinted bluffs to the lake give the appearance of being a walled house. Spanish also call the stream Tesecato (Very Dry Canyon).

The stream drops into a canyon in Freestone County. There fossil beds and Indian battle camp sites are abundant. Spanish travelers traveled the Yellow House because of the Buffalo Springs. In 1877, Z. T. Williams listed a sheep ranch there, and in 1884 the Land and Livestock Company of Iowa bought Williams' holdings and established the Grease Ranch, whose brand became widely known. Several caved-in dugouts near the spring have been the headquarters of early trappers and and wife, Artie Haynie, had 3 daughters, Lois, Bess, and Lucille. 1880 census shows him as a 27 year old merchant with a wife and 9 month old baby girl and a household consisting of 7 young men - a blacksmith, a carpenter, a machinist, a clerk, three laborers, and 4 black servants.

YARBORO

The town of Yarboro was named for Colonel James Quincy Yarborough who owned a large tract of land which included the townsite. Col. Yarborough came to the area sometime after the Civil War. At the peak of its existence Yarboro boasted three stores, a post office, a liquor store, a cotton gin, a train depot, two schools and a church.

The stores consisted of a general store owned and operated by Ferdinand August Meineke, a grocery and dry goods store owned and operated by two brothers, John and Bob McGinty, and a dry goods store owned by Vance Campbell and operated by Baker McGinty. The first post office was located in the store owned and operated by the McGinty brothers but was later moved to the store owned by August Meineke. The post office remained in Meineke's store for many years until blindness compelled Mr. Meineke to retire as postmaster. His daughter-in-law, Mrs. George Meineke (Mary Mitchell), succeeded him, serving from 1938 until 1953, when the postal service was discontinued.

The liquor store was one in which alcoholic beverages were sold in bottles and which was called a "Hiawatha Joint" by the local people. The cotton gin was owned by Erls Yarborough, a son of Colonel Yarborough's, who also owned large tracts of land in and around Yarboro and who used the land for farming and ranching.

The Santa Fe depot was a structure which housed two waiting rooms, a ticket office, a loading rack and living Brenham, and then took the train from there to Galveston.

From the very early days of the town there was a school for the white students. The black children attended school in the church house used by the black citizens, and eventually a school was built for them north of the townsite on Highway # 105. The white citizens did not have a church building, but they did hold church services and Sunday School in their school building.

Early settlers and citizens would include names such as the Yarborough families, Vance Campbell and wife Mattie (formerly Mattie McGinty), Santa Fe Section Foreman Abby Loftin and his wife Ida (formerly Ida McGinty), Baker McGinty and wife Lucille (formerly Lucille Kelly), F.A. Meineke and wife Bessie Lawther Meineke, Crowder Stoneham and wife Belle Martin Stoneham, Austin Prestwood and family, Rev. W.H. Jones and family, Dr. Hunter Clark and family, Ples and Toonie Sullivan Mask, Lawrence and Margaret Stewart, Anna Smart, and Richard and Mandy Mitchell. Northeast of the north end of Bois 'd Arc Lane David White and his wife Lucy A. Lawson and family lived about 1870. Sometime around 1900 or later Jeff Haynie and his wife Myrtle Holderby occupied this house. Haynie died and Miss Myrt married W.C. Mims. The house burned and the Mimses built a two-story structure near the main road, using the lower floor for a store and the upper floor for their residence.

to live there until his death. The second wife died about 1870.

Mr. Wooten's only public service was as Justice of Peace, 437th district Telfair County, to which he was commissioned January 21st., 1825, but which he resigned when he moved to Thomas county. He was a member of Bethel Primitive Baptist Church in Brooks County, as was also his first wife. They were received by letter in April, 1827, into Bethel Church from a church in Telfair County; Mrs. Wooten died a member, and Mr. Wooten was granted a letter of dismission in February, 1853, and placed his membership in another church nearer to his home, the identity of which has not been learned. He died a member of that church.

WARE.

William Yarbrough (name spelled sometimes as "Yarborough" on the public records) was born in 1802 in Montgomery County, a son of his father of the same name. The father moved with his family to Montgomery County about 1800, and became a Justice of Peace there in 1803, and in 1818 was among the first settlers of Appling County, and is listed in the Appling County census of 1820. William Yarbrough, Sr., and his brother, Benjamin, of Laurens County, were both Revolutionary soldiers.

The subject married Elizabeth, born 1808 in Georgia, daughter of Vincent Handley. To them were born eight children, viz:

- | | |
|---------------|---|
| ✓1. Caroline | b. 1822, m. Aaron D. Dyess, son of Henry, Jr. |
| 2. Nancy | b. 1824, m. James McQuaig. |

When Ware County was formed in 1825 out of Appling, the Yarbrough family was cut into it. Mr. Yarbrough lived there until his death about 1845. His widow married Willoughby Cason, Feb. 22, 1849, in Camden County, and they lived in the portion of Camden now in Charlton County.

After marriage, James L. Wilcox made his home in Irwin County. His large plantation was located about ten miles south of Abbeville. When Wilcox county was formed in 1858 partly out of Irwin County he was included in it, and he took a leading part in the creation of the new county.

Mr. Wilcox served as Captain in the 433rd district militia, 1833-38. He was State Senator from Irwin County in the 1829, 1830 and 1832 sessions of the legislature. He was County Treasurer of Irwin, 1830-38, also a Justice of Irwin Inferior Court, 1829-1833 and again 1841-1849. He was listed in the 1860 Census of Wilcox county as a merchant. He and most of his family were members of the Methodist Church, and his membership was at Mt. Zion Church near his home. In the legislative act approved Jan. 26, 1850, incorporating the church, he was named as a trustee of the church, and he held that office and that of steward in his church for several years prior to his death.

Mr. Wilcox died July 14, 1861. His wife survived and died Nov. 8, 1887. They were buried at Mount Zion Church about 15 miles north of present Fitzgerald. Mrs. Wilcox died in Hawkinsville at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Watson, with whom she spent her latter years.

Searching for Indexed Terms¹

First, find the name or phrase (search term) in the index. Then, from the menu bar, select “Edit”, and then “Find” or press CTRL+F. A search field will appear in the upper right corner of the page. Enter the search term into this field and press ENTER. If the search term is not found, nothing will happen; otherwise, the search term will be displayed on the first page in which it occurs. Repeated pressing of the ENTER key will high-light other occurrences within the file. Use the left and right arrow buttons to the right of the search field to look ahead or to look backwards for other occurrences of the term in the document

A directory (folder) or even an entire hard drive may also be searched². First, high-light the selected folder or drive and then press SHIFT+CTRL+F to obtain a listing of all the files in which the search term appears. Next, select and open an individual file to find the first occurrence of the search term(s) in the file, as described in the preceding paragraph.

¹ In order for the search feature of Adobe Acrobat® Reader to be enabled, a certain level of document legibility is required. That is, post-scanning processing cannot overcome poor print quality of an original document. With this caveat, each volume has been made searchable by Adobe Acrobat, version 9 or later.

² This may take quite some time, depending on the size of files contained therein.
