Dedication

Whether we wish to admit it or not, we are the future of our ancestors, as our descendants are our future. We owe our descendants our dreams and bequeath to them the legacy of our collective accomplishments – nothing more and nothing less. To our descendants, we charge you with the honoring of your heritage. Your ancestors were hardy folk, god-fearing and plain spoken, and who recognized that nothing was due them except that which they themselves earned. They were not ashamed to profess their belief in God, their country and the American ideal. Of course, there were a few rascallions in our collective history, but neither more nor less than in any other family.

We too easily forget what it took to forge a life in a new world, one rife with peril and with little at hand but a steadfast determination to not only survive but to thrive. Our ancestors bequeathed us with their genes, aspirations and talents. It is therefore fitting that the Blandford Series of Yarbrough Family Records be dedicated to them for making it possible for us to be who we are.

To paraphrase Robert Kincaid<sup>1</sup>, “The dreams they had were good ones. They didn’t all come true, but they were worth having, all the same.”

Acknowledgement

The Yarbrough Association is greatly indebted to the vision and efforts of Cathy Y. Walker and William A. (Bill) Yarbrough, the late president and vice-president of the YNGHA, respectively, for beginning the project to digitize the 150+ volumes of records accumulated over the life of the Association. Fulfilment of the project was through the efforts of a number of officers and members, including Bill’s son Mark, Rachel and Don Yarbrough, Hal Yarbrough, Jan and Jim Yarbrough, Ann and Al Bush, Elaine and Lyle Wolf, Joan Y. Singlaub, and Joanne and Bill Augspurger.

It was my privilege to be a part of this dedicated team.

Preface

These records are the legacy of our Yarbrough family researchers, to whom much is owed. The known family researchers include Jean Baker, Ann Y. Broadbent, Mary Y. Daniel, Frances (Rea) Donohue, Betty Humrighouse, Pauline Gray, Evelyn Goble, Nelle Morris Jenkins, Ophelia Kessler, Frances Lockwood, Karen Mazock Renee Smelley, Dorothy Svec, Jeanette Wilson, Cleveland “Cy” Yarborough, Edna Yarbrough, George A. Yarbrough, and Robert Price Yarbrough.

The originals of these volumes are being kept for the benefit of future generations by the Williamson County Library, Franklin, Tennessee.

No claims of accuracy or authentication of the material herein are made or may be assumed. Many of these records have been superseded by subsequent research. Hence, there are records which are erroneous and unreliable; it would have been a Herculean task to attempt to correct all of them. Fortunately, there are only a few critical genealogical facts that are involved, and which are correctly stated here:

- Richard (the Immigrant) Yarborough was never married to Frances Proctor;
- Ambrose Yarbrough did not immigrate from Yorkshire; he is now believed to be a descendant of Richard the Immigrant;
- There are so far only two proven sons of Old Richard – John and Richard II;
- There is so far no evidence proving Joshua Yarborough I to be a descendant of Old Richard.
- The “Old Country” referred to in old documents and letters is the Colony of Virginia, not England or the Old World.
- There were not seven brothers who immigrated from “the old country”; in fact, it now appears there were three brothers and four sons of the brothers. Which were the fathers and which were the sons are so far unknown.

In spite of these inaccuracies, these records comprise much of our history and some of our accomplishments. There are pages whose print quality is so poor that word recognition was not possible. In spite of that, at least partial capability for searching these volumes is provided, as well as an index to each volume. Nonetheless, the viewer is cautioned to perform his/her own due diligence in connection with any use of this material.

The various spellings of the Yarbrough surname have never been applied consistently, even within a given family. To the extent possible, the names in the index reflect the names used on the source pages; where it wasn't clear as to which might be the proper spelling, the spelling used is “Yarbrough”.

Nelle Morris Jenkins

As the saying goes, “Mrs. Jenkins was researching the family before it was a family”; she was the first Yarbrough family researcher that I found when I began my own family research back in the early 1980’s. She was a descendant of Manoah Yarbrough and Nancy Cunningham and a grand-daughter of John Yarbrough, Ashville, AL. She was a wife and homemaker, teacher and a dedicated family researcher. The focus of her efforts was the pioneer families of Marengo and Sumter Counties, but she also researched the Yarbrough family, publishing The Yarbrough Family Quarterly<sup>1</sup> from 1961 until her death in 1963.

Besides the Quarterly, her other publications include:

- Pioneer families of Sumter Country, Alabama
- Marengo County, Alabama, marriages, 1818-1828
- Morris genealogy, 1605 to 1959
- Abstracts and genealogical records of Sumter County, Alabama
- Morris genealogy, 1605 to 1959

We are all indebted to her.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT

My interest in local history began after World War I, when Mrs. Rosa Little Weck of Panola told me so much about the pioneer families of Warsaw. Later on Hon. John A. Rogers, late of Gainesville, gave me in his own handwriting the history of his town. Mr. John T. Simms; my father-in-law Mr. T. L. Jenkins; Mr. Phillip Willingham, Sr.; my husband, the late Bertram Andrews Jenkins, and Dr. Robert Spratt of Livingston, all fed my growing interest in the early settlers of our county. My good friend, Mrs. Julia Praytor Killingsworth, and our Probate Judge, Wilbur Dearman abetted me in my efforts in collecting data for this volume. To the families of those who have passed on, and to those of you who are still living, I wish to express my feeling of gratitude for stirring within me the desire to set down, for posterity, what I have gleaned from them and from you.

SUMTER COUNTY, ALABAMA

HISTORY OF SUMTER COUNTY

Sumter County was not one of the original counties organized when Alabama was admitted to the Union in 1819. At that time the land which is now Sumter County belonged to the Choctaw Indian Nation. Negotiations, which were begun between the Choctaw Indian Chiefs and the United States Government in 1804, were not consummated until 1830 and it was not till 18 December 1832 that this land was made into a county. Sumter County was named for General Sumter of Revolutionary fame from South Carolina.

It was in 1824 that the mighty Choctaw Indian Chief, Pushmataha, visited Washington with the avowed purpose of bringing into closer relationship the Choctaw Nation and the United States Government. He became the toast of the town. He was tall and very erect, and quite proud. Whenever he entered a room he would announce in an eloquent and a grand manner, "I am Pushmataha." He took quinsy while in the capital city and when death seemed eminent he asked that the big guns be fired over his grave. He was buried at Arlington Cemetery and the great of the country followed his body to its last resting place. He was accorded a full military funeral with the firing of the guns and the sound of taps.

On the 27 September 1830 representatives of the United States Government and of the Choctaw Nation met on the banks of Dancing Rabbit Creek near Macon, Mississippi and signed a treaty giving to the United States the Choctaw lands west of the Tombigbee River. The Indians were to be transported to Oklahoma. This treaty is known as "The Treaty of Dancing Rabbit Creek."

The Indians went into a period of mourning before the long and tragic trek west. It had been handed down from father to son of another transplant of their nation when their Chiefs bet their hunting ground on the outcome of a ball game and lost to another Indian Nation. The Choctaws boasted of the fact that they had never shed white man's blood in battle.

As the French, the Spanish and the British had maintained a fort (called Tombecbee and later Fort Confederation) at different times on Sumter soil at the bluffs on the Tombigbee River at what is now known as Epes, and that these people had always maintained a friendly relationship with the Choctaws one can readily see why there should have been a peaceful co-existence.

Many of the French, Spanish and English took Indian wives. Some American men who wandered into the Indian Territory prior to 1830 married Indian maids, also. These men were known as squaw-men. Coleman at Gainesville, Brashier at Jones' Bluff, a freeman (Negro) by the name of Tom and many more were squaw-men. By virtue of this they were awarded so much land under a provision of an article in the Treaty of Dancing Rabbit Creek.

A commission was appointed by Governor Gayle to select a County Seat and to organize the county. Those appointed were: Judge William G. Anderson, Edward B. Colgin, Warham Easley, Dr. Charles J. Puckett, Andrew Ramsay, John C. Whitsett and William D. Winston. Judge Dillard stated in his unpublished history of Sumter County which may be seen at Court House in the Probate Judge's office, that little was known about the background of William G. Anderson except he had a meagre education, but had an abundance of common sense, native shrewdness and decision of character. He was arbitrary in disposition and quick in temper. He also stated when the commission met to select the location for the county seat that William O. Winston had illness in his home so did not attend the first session. It looked as if Hickory Hill, just out of what is now Sumterville, would be selected as the County Seat, and it struck the irascible chairman (Judge Anderson) as being so preposterous and so excited his fears that it would be selected that he denounced the entire proceedings as tomfoolery and vented his abjurgations on the commission in the tersest Saxon, enlivened by an occasional ejaculatory oath that pooped out with a bang. He clutched his hat and swore he would not preside over such a set of fellows. Judge Dillard went on to say that this pleased Major Whitsett and Dr. Puckett so they tore up the minutes.

The next day William O. Winston made his appearance and saved the day by casting his vote for the present site of Livingston for a County Seat. Andrew Ramsay had nominated Hickory Hill; Dr. Puckett had nominated present site of Livingston, Warham Easley nominated Chiles' Place or Mill across and down Sacarnoochee River from Livingston several miles.

The commission selected the name of Livingston as a name for the new county seat. It was named for Edward Livingston who at that time was Secretary of State in President Jackson's Cabinet.

Judge Anderson's father was William Anderson and his mother was Elizabeth Easley. Her great grandfather was Warham Easley who married Sara Barnes. Warham's father was Robert Easley the immigrant forebear. Judge Anderson's great grandfather was James Anderson, born in Scotland and who went to Ireland from where he emigrated. He landed in Philadelphia and went to Augusta County, Virginia. His wife's name was Jean. Their son John went to Madison County, Kentucky. His wife's name was Ann

Erwin. Their son William married Elizabeth or Betsy Easley in Greenville County, South Carolina and removed to Kentucky and then to Clark County, Alabama where we find him in the 1816 Census - a special Census taken of Alabama inhabitants in the Mississippi Territory of which Alabama was a part before it became a state. (See Alabama Genealogical Register, page 183 Volume 1 number 4). There were some Easleys in this census also, among them was Warham Easley who was later a member of the Sumter County Commission. (See the various members of the Anderson family elsewhere in this book.)

Edward B. Colgin, a wealthy planter, was from Gainesville, Alabama. His history will be given in Volume 3, Pioneer Families of Sumter County.

Andrew Ramsay was from near Sumterville. He was a brother of Alexander Ramsay who was born 1799 in Pendleton District, South Carolina. Andrew and Alexander Ramsay were the sons of Alexander Ramsay born 1747 in Scotland and his wife Mary Egger was born 1755, also in Scotland. It is said that Andrew H. Ramsay, who patented land near Sumterville, was a son of Andrew Ramsay. We know that Andrew Ramsay, the member of the Commission to form Sumter County returned to Tennessee after a short time in Sumter County, and from there he went back to South Carolina. Andrew H. Ramsay was here much longer. His daughter, Margaret married Fūrney Richardson in 1845. G. W. Ramsay of Sumter County married his first cousin, Willie Ramsay both of whom were grandchildren of Alexander Ramsay, who married Sara Hartgrove Ried in Pickens County, South Carolina.

Warham Easley was in Clark County in 1816 (see Alabama Genealogical Register page 184 Volume 1 number 4.) Roderick Easley was also named in this census of 1816 along with Warham Easley. We next find them in Marengo County, Alabama when Roderick's estate was settled (Will Book A page 189.) It seems that the Easleys, the Andersons, the Moores, the Mitchersons, the Hollands, the Cherrys, the Davises, the Lacys, the Darnells, the Jenkins, and the Brownings came from Kentucky. We believe that the William Andersons, the Lacys, the Easleys came first and were later joined by other members of the families. We found them living together in Kentucky and later in Marengo County and still later in Sumter County, Alabama.

Charles J. Puckett patented quite a lot of land in Township 19N Ranges 3 and 4 West and he was one of the founding fathers of Payneville. He was also a practicing physician, and became Paynesville's first postmaster in 1837.

Major John C. Whitsett was born in North Carolina, came to Sumter County before it was organized. He was trustee or a factor for the many Indians who received land in Sumter County by virtue of a clause in the Treaty of Dancing Rabbit Creek. They could not sell the land without permission, that is to see that they were not taken advantage of by unscrupulous settlers. More will be given about Major Whitsett in volume 2.

William O. Winston was a large landholder in Township 21N Range 3 W. He married Amanda Morrison (2nd wife) and they were parents of six children. Mr. Winston was a member of a large and prominent family in Sumter County and as they lived in and around Gainesville their history will be given in Volume 2 "Pioneer Families of Sumter County."

On the 22 December 1814 the Governor of Mississippi Territory, which did not belong to the Indians of which Alabama was then a part, had a bill passed providing for militia duty in case of emergency. (See page 586 Digest of Alabama Laws, Published 1823.) On 31 December 1822 a bill was passed in the Alabama Legislature which amended the preceding act. It stated that all free white men between the ages of 18 and 45 be compelled to register with the Military Authorities within 30 days after immigrating into a county. Everyone had to serve when called upon except all public officials, Ministers of the Gospel, public ferrymen, Justices of the Peace, Postmasters, postriders and millers except in invasion or insurrection. Every county had its Battalion or Regiment, and each beat had its company with officers. The companies had to be mustered out once each year upon a 30 day notice.

Much of the social life of Sumter County centered around the military Companies in each beat. Once a year a Military Ball was held either in Livingston or Gainesville.

Another bill passed 7 December 1811 (same book page 623) related to Mills and Millers. One section provided for the erection of mills so as to not overflow any other mill or create a nuisance to the neighborhood. In 1821 the act was amended to provide that each take his turn in grinding and that the miller could legally take only 1/8 part of grain ground for toll. As Sumter County was and is well blessed with waterways, several people applied the first year of the organization of the county for permits to erect mills.

Another interesting bill enacted in 1807 was the one requiring persons who wished to sell liquor to present a petition with names of freeholders saying that the person was of good character before he could obtain a license.

In 1815 a levy of 20¢ on each $100.00 value to be paid on all land.

In the early years after Alabama became a state all divorces were granted by the Legislature. Before the County Courts were established couples were known to announce in what was called "bans", their intention of marrying. Later, when a minister came into the community, they had him do a better job of it. Funerals were held months after death because no minister was at hand when death occurred. The colored people continued this custom for a century after it was discontinued by the whites.

In an article "Alabama Black Belt" by the Reverend Kenwick C. Kennedy, in the Alabama Historical Quarterly Number 3, Volume 2, 1940, page 282, gives the following: "The Alabama 'Black Belt' is a fair-spoken term and corresponds not merely to the 'right side of the tracks' but to the old, exclusive, best-family streets; being from the 'Black Belt' is like being from the Low Country in South Carolina, or the Blue Grass in Kentucky or Tidewater in Virginia.

"The Virginians and South Carolinians are still proud of the states that gave them birth. Virginia and South Carolina are the two states in which pre-Confederate, Southern aristocracy reached its zenith. In Alabama the Black Belt counties achieved the most exalted aristocracy of any other section in the state.

"The type is nearly extinct, but not entirely. In the Carolina Low Country, the Mississippi Delta, a few parishes in Louisiana, a few counties in Georgia and in the Alabama Black Belt the strain still survives, somewhat tainted by the Twentieth Century, but preserved well enough to be recognized. Nowhere is it more authentically intact than in the Alabama Black Belt. Nowhere is it preserved in a larger area than here. Yet of all the museum pieces of the Old South that remain, none has received less publicity and none is less widely known. So, unsung and unknown and relatively unexploited, it has gone its quiet, calm way, restoring much of its former grandure."

THE EARLIEST SCHOOLS (1830s - 1840s)

IN SUNTER COUNTY, ALABAMA

The 16th section in every Township was set aside by the State Legislature to be used for schools. The land was rented or gradually sold off and the funds were used to build schools, to help pay salaries of teachers whenever parents were not able to pay tuition, and for other school purposes. At the organization of the county the governor other school purposes. At the organization of the county the governor of the state appointed commissioners to look after these sections, as well as the schools within the various townships.

Township 16, Range 2 West was the Gaston District. George Kennard, Pleasant White and Solomon Williams were the commissioners in 1841. 13 November 1841 the citizens voted on whether to consolidate their schools. There were two factions in this township so finally two academies were organized. As this was an important section of the county I will give names of those voting in this election, as follows: John Dill, Thomas Young, J. H. Simmons, J. J. Shields, J. H. Kennard, Thomas Nelson, G. J. Wilson, R. L. Hunter, John C. Ward, Bird Wheat, Jacob Kuhn, John Kuhn, N. A. Davis, W. Ward, James Auld, John Gilmer, John Wayne, Geo. W. Kennard, Solomon Williams, Samuel Halsell, Hiram Township 1B Range 4 West the following were appointed Commissioners in 1842: Benj. Stone, R. R. Shelton, G. W. Grant, F. M. Grant, Jabal Faulkner. In Township 18, Range 3 West Richard Yarbrough was J. P. and Stephen and C. P. Yarbrough figured in the school business in 1838 with Stephen Webb, Thomas Porter, R. D. Twombly (?) and P. M. Fullingham were teachers. In Township 19 Range 3 West David Boyd, Amos Travis, Micajah Frazer were Commissioners in 1840; in Township 21 Range 2 West Ferney Richardson, A. H. Ramsay, William R. Colgin and Mitchell Malone were Commissioners in 1835 with John McNiece and John Griswold teachers. In 1848 Elias N. Wrenn, Thomas Lacy, and Warren Woodson were teachers.

There was Black Jack Academy at Bluff Port, Prof. Nuffer was the first master of this academy; then Prof. T. A. Hunter, a Harvard graduate was master; other teachers were Prof. Jonathan May, Mr. Hoit, Miss Dutch Cook and Miss Mary James.

Old Payneville had a famous academy headed by the Rev. Hadden, a Presbyterian minister. Mr. Farrah was an early teacher. There were other academies and schools in the county, which will be mentioned as we give the histories of different towns and villages.

According to Mr. Joel Campbell DuBose in his "History of Alabama" the young people in these early academies studied Quackenbos' Rhetoric, Caesar's Gallic War, Virgil's Aeneid and all the Bucolics and Georgics, Orations of Cicero, Horace entire, Juvenal's Satires. The course in Greek embraced the four books of Xenophon's Anabasis, Homer's Iliad, Herodotus, Cyropaedia, De Corona and others.

In the field of mathematics they were proficient in University Algebra, Davies' Legendre, and Surveying and Navigation. Grammar and rhetoric were studied year in and year out. Every Friday afternoon was devoted to reading of compositions and to "speaking". The close of the session was about July 1st with public examinations, which swept the whole range of poetry, music, philosophy, science and nature. A great public dinner was a climax to the school closing; perhaps this custom was the beginning of our barbecues for which Sumter County is so famous.

CHAPTER II

SUMTERVILLE

HISTORY OF SUMTERVILLE

In pioneer days most communities grew up around churches which contributed to the social as well as to the religious life of the people for miles around, but Sumterville was different from the average pioneer village. The people, as a whole, were well educated and many of them were men of means; so their first thoughts were, not only of churches, but schools as well. From the earliest days Sumterville boasted of three churches; the Presbyterian which was really three miles west of Sumterville; Old Side Baptist Church and an Episcopal Church; and at the same time a boys' Military Academy and a Female Academy were organized. Around 1844 another school was organized near the Presbyterian Church which was near the present Bethel Memorial Chapel. This school had as its head master, Professor Benjamin P. Burwell who saw to it that his pupils were quite proficient in Greek and Latin. This school was more centrally located so served not only Sumterville but the Old Ramsey community, as well. Professor W. Fayette Davidson was Head Master of the Boys' Academy for many years.

The northern part of Sumter County, the part of the county in which Sumterville is located, is in what is known as the "Black Belt". The black, waxy soil was too heavy for the average farmer of that day to till with the equipment he brought with him from sandy areas, so he sold out to his neighbor who had slaves to work the soil. In that way the whole area finally fell into the hands of a few land lords. Many tales have been told about Sumter County mud but the poem written in 1852 by Professor W. Fayette Davidson and published in "Sumter Democrat" aptly tells the tale as follows:

SUMTER COUNTY MUD

I've wandered in distant climes
And seen a host of sights
By day light and by moon light
In fact all sorts of lights;
But ne'er yet where e'er I'd stray
In regions ill or good

Did I ever find one thing to match
This Sumter County Mud.

The whole area was covered with tall cane when the first settlers moved in; the trees were oak, cotton wood and hickory, but the cedar trees which now grow everywhere were imported from another county. The dogwood and red bud trees were abundant. This limerock, hilly land was noted for its beautiful and brilliantly colored flowers which covered the country side in the spring.

A few white people began to trickle into the Indian Territory before the Choctaw Indians left for Oklahoma after the Treaty of Dancing Rabbit Creek. Clark Crocker and Anthony Phariss were among those who came to Sumterville area while the Indians were yet there. They told how the Choctaws met on a hill just east of what is now Sumterville and went into a period of mourning because they were being transplanted to another soil. A free Negro by the name of "Tom" had wandered into the Indian territory and married an Indian woman. By virtue of this marriage he acquired quite a bit of land under the Treaty of Dancing Rabbit Creek, this land lay just north of Sumterville; and a creek called Tom's creek bears his name, even today.

The first settlers of Sumterville and environment were William Patton, Randle Jackson, Seaborn Jackson, Jacinth Jackson, the Wehbs, John E. Brown, Jeremiah Brown, Terrance Foy, Bryant Richardson, Evan Bryant, William Gilbert, John Holland, William and John Kerr, Tom Ormand and many others. They built their homes on the hill tops and tilled the lower ground. At first there were many springs flowing from the lime rock hills, but after the land was cleared and worked the springs stopped flowing. The Foy's, Bryants and Ormonds suffered the first years from lack of water. Every two weeks they took their clothes to the Parker place on the Suwannee River, five or six miles from Sumterville, to wash. Later on they dug wells in the bottom land and hauled water to their homes, this was before they learned that wells dug on the hills would produce water.

The old road built by the French from Fort Tombechee to the outpost, which was located at the present site of Old Payneville, ran through Sumterville. In places, yet, our modern roads follow the old roads or trails as set forth by the French, Spanish and English in those days before the "Treaty of Dancing Rabbit Creek".

Sumterville was first called Patton's Hill for Mr. William Patton whose home was just behind that of the one we know as the Dr. Wrenn home. Mr. Patton's grave has not been located, perhaps it is unmarked or the stone has crumbled. But we know from his will and settlement of his estate that he died 7 April 1838. He had a son, William S. Patton who studied medicine in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, and later became a practicing physician; his daughter was Cynthia M. Myers, and he left a widow, Eliza

Patton. The town was still called Patton's Hill until after 1841, for on that date the Poll List was headed "Patton's Hill". It is said that John E. Brown was instrumental in getting the name changed to Sumterville when in 1844 the town was incorporated.

In the early 1840's Sumterville boasted of eight business houses, Masonic Lodge, three Churches, two schools, and an Inn for the convenience and comfort of stage coach travellers. The stage road ran between Gainesville and Sumterville and on west toward Jackson, Mississippi through DeKalb. Mr. Webb was proprietor of the Inn. Charles Hinsdale was Post Master in 1837.

The Old Side Primitive Baptist Church was the first one organized in the north western part of the county; the building was erected 6 July 1833. The Methodist Church was built in 1841. The Presbyterian Church was three miles west of Sumterville where Reverend Carothers preached a year or two prior to the erection of the building in 1835. In 1897 this Presbyterian Church building was moved to Sumterville.

The organizing and charter members of Bethel Presbyterian Church were P. R. Fleming, Mary B. Fleming, Jennett (Spence) Dial, Mary Dial, Kerr, Margaret Kerr, Robert S. Lavender, Jane Lavender, (all from Zion and Concord Churches in Greene County), James Wrenn, Eliza W. from Ebenezer Church, Thomas Moore and Elizabeth C. Moore from Bethel Church, Mrs. Anna Elliott from Harmony Church. The next members to be added to the roll were: William and Joseph Greenlees, Mrs. Isabe Greenlees, Mrs. E. Cavert, Mrs. Liza Patton, Mr. Carder and wife Nancy from Mt. Zion all of whom united with the church 23 August 1835. Mrs. Mary Yarbrough (wife of Alfred Yarbrough) joined the church 23 July 1837. David Gage and wife Nancy from Philadelphia Church in Wayne County, Mississippi, George W. Wrenn (who married the daughter of Mary and Alfred Yarbrough) and Jacob Shipman and his wife, Eliza, all united with the church in 1839. (From the original Minute Book of Bethel Presbyterian Church.)

The oldest home in the community is "The Cadare", built by John E. Brown. His great granddaughter, Mrs. Julia Praytor Killingsworth, lives in this lovely old home built in 1838.

The Jeremiah Brown home is about three miles west of Sumterville. It was remodeled after the Civil War by Mr. White who married Addie Brown, a daughter of Mr. Brown. It was changed to look like his old home in Kentucky. The stair case which forms a balcony facing the front door, is especially interesting. Mrs. James, whose home is in Virginia owns this lovely old home which is called "Louden." She is the great granddaughter of Jeremiah Brown, who was the largest slave owner in Sumter County. It is said he owned more than a thousand slaves, many of whom he did not know as he had overseers to look after various sections of his plantations.

Each plantation around Sumterville, and in other parts of this section of North Sumter County, had plantation stores or places to store foods raised on the land and used to furnish the slaves during the year. Each plantation was sufficient unto itself as cotton was raised, ginned, spun into thread and woven into cloth by either the slaves or by the men and women of the home. Leather was tanned at home and made into shoes, harness and the like. The shoes were pegged together with wood pegs, usually made at home. Meat was killed and cured, vegetables and fruits were dried for future use.

Over the years Sumterville failed to grow, in fact it became smaller. Livingston was chosen in 1832 as the county seat instead of Sumterville; or Hickory Hill, which was just out of the town, itself; the railroad was put through or near Jones Bluff so Sumterville was left out of the main line of communication; at a later date another railroad was built six miles west at what is now Emelle; Sumterville was left off the main highways of Sumter County; the planters sold out and moved "west" after the slaves were freed; the top soil was washed off the hills so the bare lime rock was in evidence everywhere. Land in 1832 was bought from the Government from 2¢ to $2.00 per acre; by the late 1830's land was sold for $100.00 per acre and in Reconstruction days some lands were sold again from 2¢ to $5.00 and $10.00 per acre.

In 1840 the population of Sumter County was 29,937. In 1940 (or a century later), we had 2,416 fewer persons; but the amazing part is that in the last hundred years we had lost 8,231 whites and had gained 5,815 Negroes. In 1940 the percentage was 79.4% Negro population or an increase of 21% over 1840; while the white population had decreased 26%. Sumterville had lost more whites in proportion than many other parts of the county. Today there is only one small white school north of Livingston as children are transported by bus to centrally located places. We have in 1959 only 46 white teachers in the entire county; but the Negroes boast of 181 Negro teachers; their schools are newer, more modern and in many cases better equipped than some of the white schools.

The once bare lime rock hills around Sumterville are now covered with grass and the Hereford cows are peacefully grazing, making more money for their owners than the slaves ever produced working in cotton fields. The village is still the quiet, easy going place of yesterday where many of the old timers still live graciously. The names "Sumterville", "Bethel" and "Old Side" are yet loved today by a multitude of people scattered to the four corners of the earth; even though the old glory has all but vanished "with the wind".

METHODIST CEMETERY
SUNTERVILLE, ALABAMA

This cemetery is located on a hill just as one leaves Sumterville on the Emelle road. At one time a church stood by this cemetery. (See Sumterville history.) This old church is still spoken of in reverent tones by those who recall the many memories of days gone by. They love to tell about Henry McDaniel's vision of building a church; of William Godfrey's stroke in the church after "feeling the hand of the Lord" at Quarterly Conference; of the Godly old preacher, Rev. James M. Patton who was born in Perry County, Alabama in 1829 and who married Miss Mary Falconer, born in Eutaw, Alabama in 1843. All the children looked forward to Saturday before "meeting day" when then trudged down the road to meet Brother Patton. They considered it a great treat to unhitch his horse from the buggy and ride him bare back to the pond to let him drink.

Brother Patton buried the dead, married the young and he preached powerful sermons which were instrumental in the salvation of more people than it is possible to estimate. Not a stone is left of this old church; it was sold for a few pieces of silver and the money applied to a debt on the parsonage at Gainesville, Alabama.

Godfrey

William Godfrey, Sr., Revolutionary Soldier, married Sarah Britton 19

June 1777 in South Carolina and they became parents of at least two children: (1) William Godfrey Jr., the pioneer settler of Sumter County, Alabama, and (2) Martha Godfrey who married James Myers. (See Old Side Cemetery records for the Myers history.)

William Godfrey Jr., married (1) Elizabeth Dozier born 24 November 1781, died 28 March 1826 near Fort St. Stephens, Alabama, married 1 March 1809 in South Carolina. They had children (a) Martha Ann born 5 February 1810, died 9 October 1848, Marion County, Mississippi, married Richard Henry Herbert born 1800, died 1870, (b) Abraham Dozier born 1811, died 1843, (c) James Wilson, born 1814, died 1815, (d) Mary Jane born 12 January 1816 married John E. Brown (see John Evander Brown Cemetery records), (e) Wilson Leonard born and died 1818, (f) John Dozier born 6 January 1819 married Margaret Philips, his second cousin as she was the granddaughter of his aunt Martha (Godfrey) Myers, (g) Elizabeth Giles born 13 October 1820, married A. She and William Godfrey had 4 children, viz: Amelia Ann born 29 May 1828, married Frederick Stewart born in New York and died in Mobile; Olivia Ellen born 16 May 1830, married William Underwood; James Myers Godfrey born 7 September 1832, married Lucy Rhodes of Demopolis, Alabama; Eliza McIntosh born 29 May 1834, died 9 February 1907, married William (Billy) Baker, buried in Mobile. Please note that William and Harriett Godfrey named one child "James Myers" the full name of his brother-in-law; note also Asberry Myers, son of James and Martha (Godfrey) Myers, married a McRae, and William Godfrey's wife, Harriett, married (1) a McRae. I believe there was a relationship between the Myers and Godfreys prior to these marriages; both families carry the name Wilson over and over, so the Godfreys must have had a Wilson line, too.

Dr. J. M. Godfrey (James Myers) born 7 September 1832, died 20 January 1890. (He was the son of William Godfrey and wife Harriett Pegues (Powe) McRae Godfrey. Graduated in medicine in Philadelphia, Penna.)

Davis lived in a large two story house between Emelle and Sumterville and today is known as the Bell house.)

- Gilbert -

William Gilbert, born in Jones County, North Carolina, 23 July 1818, died 12 January 1870. (This was William Gilbert, Jr., as his father William Gilbert patented land in the very earliest settling of the County in Township 20, Range 2 West, which is just east of Sumterville. He and his wife Susannah sold land to Seaborn Jackson the first part of 1835; a few months later he alone sold land - just his signature. This was June of the same year. Susannah probably died between January and June of 1835 and he sold land to Ebenezer Wyatt at later time. It was ca1839 when William Gilbert, Sr., died but I have not been able to locate the graves of either William, Sr. or Susannah Gilbert.

William Gilbert, Sr., left children William, Jr., Susan and James - the latter died in 1851. The nuncupative will of James Gilbert was probated 19 December 1853. William Gilbert, Jr., Susan Gilbert, John Gilbert and wife Mary E- Gilbert (nee McDaniel) swore under oath that on 28 April 1851 that James Gilbert thought he was going to die and said he wanted his daughter, Susan Frances and his wife Mary, to have the land he inherited from his father, William Gilbert, Sr., and his said daughter to have the land he owned in Texas; his son, David, not to get any of his property as he had property coming to him from an estate in North Carolina.

William Gilbert, Jr., married (1) Nancy Ann (Amason) Speight, a widow - see Old Side Cemetery records - with two little girls, Catherine and Sammy Ann. William and Nancy Ann Gilbert had two boys, Thomas J. and Eli Amason Gilbert. She and William Gilbert were divorced and she moved to Mississippi. William Gilbert, Jr., married (2) Catherine Poythress who was descended from Pocahontus and John Rolph - see Poythress family in Lavender records in Bethel Cemetery.

William and Catherine Poythress Gilbert had children: J. G., Anna B., Luvenia, William B., John Wesley, and Edward A. (Hash); his will was signed 11 January 1870 and probated 14 February 1870, Will Book 2-394. Luvenia or Lena married John F. Peel 10 July 1875- Mr. Peel was descended from the famous Peel family of Bury, England. Sir Robert Peel, a close relative, founded the British police force. The English police are called "Bobbies" and the Irish police are called "Peelers" after Sir Robert. He and the Duke of Wellington led all the progressive movements in the early reign of Queen Victoria. John F.

and Luvenia (Gilbert) Peel had children: John who married Ina Gilliam and they became parents of Inez who married Walter Watson; Betty who married Dr. Tom Lawrence and they have a son Tom, Jr.; Leon married Myrtle Sheppard and they have children (1) Jackie Nell who married Richard Cobb and are parents of a son Rickie, (2) Leon, Jr., (3) Ina Mae, (4) Carolyn and (5) Jerry Lee; John, Jr. married Bobbie Bishop and they have children Pamela and John III; Albert married Ann Eldridge and they are parents of Charles and Davis; Lucile married J. C. Newberry and they are parents of Michele, Larry and Amelia; Joseph married Bettie Richie. Other children of John F. and Luvenia Peel were Josephine never married, Kate never married, Ellen married James Knighten and had children Leslie, Ernest and Herbert (killed in World War I); Annie B. never married; Fannie married Barney Rigdon and had children Evelyn, Arthur and Roberta; Sara married A. E. Cherry and had children Earl, Virginia, James, Raymond, Arnold, Wilbur, Helen, Fay and Fred; Willis married Gertrude Woods; Ruby married James Harvey Cherry and had children Ellis, Cecil, Richard, Edwin, Catherine and Ralph - both Cherry families live at Townsend, Mississippi, Kemper County. Anna Bell Gilbert married Dr. Hamet Pinson and had several children among whom was Hon. John H. Pinson who has a son Geiger Pinson (more about this family in Volume 2 as space does not permit lengthy record of this family, or the Edward A. History
BETHANY or OLD SIDE BAPTIST CHURCH

Old Bethany Baptist Church was located at Sumterville, it was a Missionary Baptist Church but in 1838 those in the church who did not believe in foreign missions organized what was called "Old Side" Baptist Church, so called because the members were said to be on the "old side" instead of the new side or side of foreign missions. The cemetery is known to this day as "Old Side Cemetery" for this Baptist Church. After the Primitive Baptist Church at Emelle burned the "dye in the wool" Baptists joined Old Bethany Baptist Church at Sumterville and buried their dead in Old Side Cemetery.

The organizing members of Old Bethany Church were: Asa Wright, Clark Crocker, Thomas Hagger, Randle Jackson, Elisha T. Thomas, P. McDaniel, Aratron Smith, James Williams, Sara Irwin, Henry Smith, C. N. Bryant, Wright Jones, Lermel Mathress, Benj. J. Richardson, Henry Richardson, Gain C. Richardson and Washington P. Hutchinson.

GRAVESTONE RECORDS FROM OLD SIDE BAPTIST CEMETERY

This cemetery is located on that part of the old Emelle-Sumterville road which is now abandoned. The only means of entrance is from a road which turns due east from James Ormand's home which is located on the road which connects the old Sumterville-Emelle road with the old Emelle-Livingston road. The road to the cemetery has recently been improved, so is now passable. This cemetery is very interesting; those sleeping here are related to each other either by blood or marriage, and most of them had their roots back in Edgecombe County, North Carolina.

Matthew Parham, born 1792, died 10 January 1859. (He was the father of Mary Ann Parham who married James Q. Yarborough, son of Alfred and Mary Yarborough - see Boney Cemetery -- James Q. and Mary Ann Yarborough had a son named Parham who inherited 77 slaves and quite a bit of real estate. J. J. Arrington was his guardian; one of the slaves owned by Matthew Parham was Hilliard Bryant who was 7 years old in 1859, according to age given in inventory of estate. He lived to be almost 100 years old. William T. Simms bought Hilliard when he was 10 and he lived with the Simms family many years after he was emancipated. He has told me many tales about his youth and about the old white families in the community.) In 1869 we find James Q. Yarborough had moved to Texas and was the guardian of Parham Yarborough, his son. They sold the thousand acres that Parham had inherited from Matthew Parham, the child's grandfather. This land lay in sections 19 and 20 and 30 in Township 20, Range 3 West and patented by Martin Simms, Malachi Nettles, William H. Lacy, Henry J. Darnell, and Benj. Talliaferro.

Virginia, daughter of J. P. and M. W. Ramsay, born 1912 died 1913. (John and Molly (Wrenn) Ramsay had children: John, Molly, Kate and Virginia and perhaps others.)

*****

Molly E. Renfroe born 7 March 1846 and died 2 August 1868. (She was the first wife of Steve S. Renfroe, Sumter County's notorious outlaw; Mollie was buried at Bethel Cemetery but at the funeral of wife #2, Renfroe suddenly decided to exume body of wife #1 and place it by the side of wife #2. He immediately went to Bethel and by the time the grave had been opened it was night, but this did not deter him from completing the task. It was daybreak by the time the last shovel of dirt was thrown on the new grave. He placed a twin monument to memory of his wives - Ripley, In Believe It or Not, paid Mrs. B. G. Killingsworth for sending him this fact.

Mary M. Renfroe, wife of S. S. Renfroe, born 17 November 1849, died 11 July 1871. (She was also the sister of E. S. Sledge who later became target for many of Renfroe's vicious depredations. Renfroe was tall, dark and handsome and a "dare" among the ladies. He was found to be a scion of a Kentucky family who was always feudin' and wightin' with neighbors. He fought from Sumter County as a Confederate soldier who won the love of his comrades; he helped rescue Sumter County from Radical rule of Reconstruction Days by driving out men like Tobias Lane who turned over the rule of the county to the "Freedmen", the Carpetbeggars and the Scallywags such as Freedman Houston, Billings, Grace, Wells and Choutteux, to name a few; helped restore order for the white men who had come home from war, broken in mind, health and spirit, to find themselves paupers and with the foot of tyranny hard pressed against their necks, so he earned the respect of the best citizens; as a true Democrat he won the confidence of his party and as a reward he was elected to the office of sheriff.

This is the first picture with manliness and sparkle on its face. The second picture is as black and heinous as the first is bright. He became a corrupt official who had been a "Doctor Jekyll and Mr. Hide" while showing his bright and shining face to the citizens of Sumter County. It was found that he had sold pertinent information to the Military power in Reconstruction Days, information gained while being on the "inside", a despicable turn-coat in any language. He turned renegade as sheriff while posing as one carrying out the law; he plundered and stole from those who trusted him, even his brother-in-law, E. S. Sledge. Finally, he was stripped of his insigna and was taken to Tuscaloosa jail for safe keeping against infuriated men who had trusted him. There he burned a hole in a 16-inch beam under his bath tub and escaped jail. He left a note to the jailer bidding him good-bye and saying he was taking the first train out of town, no matter which way it went. (In another issue of the same paper an account was given of the honors bestowed on Steve Renfro, Jr., aged 10 years, at the "Prof. Seth Mellen Institute" in Livingston.)

After his jail break, Renfro began operating on a larger scale extending from Tennessee to New Orleans, terrorizing communities as he went, but he made the swamps of Sumter County his headquarters, slipping into town at night burglarizing stores, dwellings, and burning and plundering as he wished. He stole mules and horses and sold them in other states. People were afraid to light their lamps at night or to walk or ride alone on the streets and roads, so great was the fear inspired by this outlaw.

Posters, giving notice of rewards, were printed and sent out far and wide. Weeks went by but still he was not captured, until someone reported to farmers Ainsworth and Hinton that a white man, at regular intervals, passed along their road leading a train of horses and mules. They waylaid this man and captured him before he had time to draw his gun. He claimed to be a "Mr. Jones" but the men took him to Enterprise, Mississippi 50 miles from where they captured the suspicious looking character. As it happened, the marshall was James S. Boyd, a former citizen of Sumter County and he immediately recognized "Mr. Jones" as the outlaw, Steve Renfro, the fact he did not deny to James S. Boyd who was the son of James Marion Boyd of Sumter County, and an uncle of J. W. Boyd who yet lives at Payneville. Not only did Renfro have stolen stock but had Mrs. John E. Harris' silver with him when captured. A posse formed to take Renfro from Mr. Boyd, who also ran the hotel. He had Renfro in an upstairs room in the hotel and Zora Boyd, the wife of James S. Boyd, stood at the head of the stairs with a

Finally, Mr. Boyd with the help of others, got Renfroe out of the hotel and on a train bound for Livingston in Sumter County. There he was placed in jail and the jailer went to dispatch messages about the capture. A posse found the cell key and took Renfroe, handcuffed, from jail. The men, their faces covered with handkerchiefs, marched him down the street past the Methodist Church, and homes with families barricaded behind closed doors, all except the Scruggs family who were uninformed of pertinent facts. They were sitting in the yard and heard the tramp, tramp of feet going by their gate and down the hill toward Sucarnooche River. Mrs. Temple (Scruggs) Denis was a small child at the time, but she says the memory of that moonlight night burns vividly in her mind, even till today. She said soon afterward that the same men who had marched past her father's gate, came back one by one from the tree where they had left Renfroe's body hanging from a limb, with a placard pinned to his back, "The fate of a horse thief".

The "Messenger" deplored the fact that men were compelled to become executioners, but stated that Renfroe had trampled under foot and disregarded every law in the land "so no man could deny that Renfroe did not merit his doom." Papers over the State condemned Sumter County and blamed the sheriff for being away from jail when the posse appeared. But the editor of the "Messenger" in the next week's paper, reiterated the dire atrocities committed by Renfroe, and stated had Rendroe escaped that he would have burned the town as he had so flagrantly threatened.

Sometime after the lynching of Renfroe, his widow appeared in court and asked that her son's name be changed from Renfroe to Reynolds. They moved away and the boy grew up to be a well respected citizen of a city not far from Livingston.)

The above was taken from "The Gainesville Messenger", "Livingston Journal", and by interviews with J. W. Boyd, Mrs. Temple (W. L., Sr.,) Denis, and from records of Sumter County.

History
BETHEL MEMORIAL CHAPEL

The first Presbyterian Church at this site was called Bethel. Preaching was held a year previous to its organization on 22 September 1835. Mathematical and Classical Academy, under supervision of Benj. P. Burwell, stood a hundred yards or so just north of old Bethel Church.

The Church was in the center of a Presbyterian community extending from almost to the Mississippi State line (Alfred Yarborough family belonged to this church and they lived at the eastern edge of Range 4 West, Township 20 - Bethel Church was in the north central part of Township 20 Range 3 West) --- and south of Bodka Creek on the north, to the southern edge of Township 20 -- east to, and beyond, Sumterville at which point the settlement became Baptist.

The Fultons, the Ramsays, the McDows and the Kerrs and Dials had organized Presbyterian Churches at every place they stopped, in their migration, after landing in the Colonies not many years prior to the Revolution. So it was fitting that they should have a church of their choice in this community. Rev. Carothers was the organizing minister and Bethel came under the auspices of Tuscaloosa Presbytery late in the year of 1835. Rev. Isaac Hadden, who served this church, lies sleeping in Bethel Memorial Cemetery along side of his wife and son.

After the Civil War so many of the old settlers moved away until the church all but died. It was finally torn down and moved to Sumterville, about three miles east of the old site. A church was built near the Fulton home for the Negro members of the old church. After the war the Negroes, themselves, withdrew from the white churches and organized churches of their own. Most Negroes were Baptist, however.

Mrs. Kate Brownson, (Catherine Fleming McDow, daughter of Alexander and Mary Adeline McDow, married John Milton Brownson) conceived the idea of a chapel on the site of the old church ground. She furnished the money to build the lovely brick chapel in which funerals are held. It was called Bethel Memorial Chapel, and was dedicated on 14 June 1908 by a former pastor, Rev. C.M. Hutton, of Ft. Worth, Texas. He took his text from the 21st Chapter of St. Matthew and the 13th verse. "My house shall be called the house of prayer". On the Chapel walls are hung scrolls with the names of the Confederate soldiers who went to war from the old church; the beautiful stained glass windows; the lovely pews facing a simple, dignified altar all attest the fact that this is a sacred spot. One is more impressed of the sacredness of the surroundings when the chapel is seen from the front, so silent, so dignified against the sleeping place of many saints, the ancient stones marking the places where they were laid to rest. Its doors are rarely used any more as the old grave yard is about full, but occasionally some one is buried there; I can think of about eight in the last 35 years. Most people are now buried at Central Cemetery which is used by both Presbyterians and Methodists.

CHAPTER III

PAYNEVILLE

HISTORY OF OLD PAYNEVILLE

Payneville, one of the oldest established towns in the county, lay in Township 19, Section 13, Range 4 West. It was named for Ranson Payne - see Acts, 1839. The town was laid off in lots which were advertised for sale in the "Voice of Sumter" 9 August 1836. The commissioners who signed the notice were: James Hodges, Alexander Campbell, R. T. Payne, James Sample, Tyrell Gorman, A. M. Griffin and J. C. Puckett. It was incorporated 19 January 1839.

There was, already, as settlement on the site chosen for the town of Payneville. It had been an "out look" after Fort Tombecbee became Fort Confederate under the hands of the Spanish and then the English rules. At this time another "out look" was near the present site George S. Gaines. Owen's History of Alabama tells us that the third Alabama Baptist church or mission was within the confine of the present bounds of Sumter County. The mission, established ca1810, was called "Tubby's Oak Mission". It is the opinion of this writer that this mission was near this old out-look because there is a creek that runs near the town of Old Payneville called "Tubby's Creek". When the first settlers, ca1832, came to Township 19 there was an old Indian still living near Tubby's Creek on a piece of land received from the Government by virtue of a clause in the Treaty of Dancing Rabbit Creek; the Indian's name was Tubby which is said to mean "dead man" in the Choctaw tongue. Mr. Greenlee bought Tubby's land and the Indian finally moved on west to join his kindred in their new hunting ground. (Courtesy of Mr. Charlie Burton.)

Payneville was located near the Sucarnoochee River 10 miles above Livingston and a mile or two from the Mississippi State line. James Hodges operated a ferry on this river and the Burtons had a mill near the ferry both of which were at the head of navigation. It was only during high waters that barges came up to Payneville bringing supplies of all kinds and carrying away cotton to be sent to Mobile by steam boats which piled the river during this era ("Voice of Sumter" 1837.) It was just below the ferry and the mill, that James Horn built the first steel bridge in Sumter County. Even though the road has been abandoned and the bridge is impassable the road is called Horn's Bridge Road. John Horn lived near this bridge - see Horn Cemetery records.

An Academy was established at Payneville - a two story brick building - in January 1837 - also according to the "Voice of Sumter" in which was published an advertisement for teachers and signed by trustees: John Thomas, R. T. Payne, William K. Tyler, Thomas M. Jones and James Hodges. The first teacher who taught at the old academy was Bob Farrah, brother of Susan Farrah who married (1) Mr. Silliman and (2) Matthew Boyd. Another early teacher was John W. Beavers. Reverend Isaac Hadden was Head Master at the Academy at a later date and preached in the Presbyterian Church at Payneville - see history of Hadden Presbyterian Church elsewhere in this volume.

The Methodists bought a lot and were ready to build a church when the Mobile and Ohio Railroad built just across the State line in Mississippi. Many first settlers - some of whom were Methodists - moved to Lauderdale, Daleville, Narkeeta and Porterville, towns on the railroad. The Presbyterian Church, rebuilt in 1850, absorbed the membership of the other denominations so the plans for a Methodist Church never materialized. About this time the name of the Payneville church was changed to Hadden Presbyterian Church. The next preacher was a Mr. Bingham. One of the Hadden girls married this minister and Robert Hadden married a Miss Bingham. The Haddens and Bingham contributed culture, book-learning and spiritual discernment to this and other Sumter County communities.

The first post office was established in Payneville in 1837 - see "Voice of Sumter" 18 May 1837 issue - and the first Post Master was C. J. Puckett who helped organize Sumter County and was also the first doctor at Payneville. The last Post Master at Payneville (but at that time called "Dial") was the father of the late John Peel of that community. This post office was discontinued with the advent of Rural Free Delivery. A few years later the school was discontinued and the children were transported by bus to Livingston, and the old town of Payneville whose back was broken by the building of the M. & O. R.R. and the Gainesville-Narkeeta Rail Road, and later by the yellow fever epidemic of 1870, and by the migration west after the War Between the States, gave its last gasp and died. Not a semblance of the old town is left for the Hadden Church was recently rebuilt - a modern brick structure - but stands alone with only the manse near by.

Payneville had no central burying ground but each family or group of families buried in family plots. Very few of the first settlers who who died had tombstones to their graves, perhaps for two reasons. The first was because the Indians could count the graves and see how many or how few settlers were left, and the second was because tombstones were very expensive and hard to get. They had to be shipped down the coast from Vermont to Mobile and thence up the Tombigbee River to a river town. After which the heavy stones had to be hauled over trails and muddy roads to the cemeteries. It was easy, in those days, of hardships and long dreary days of toil, to follow the line of least resistance in cases that did not mean survival to those left to struggle on. These family cemeteries can no longer be found as the forests have losed in and covered the scars man made in the first years of settlement. We understand the Rigdens, the Burtons and the Bullocks were buried at one spot but there is not much left to tell the tale: perhaps a sunken place or two and a few slightly mounded spots which one would guess to be graves. Modern farming with tractors and bull dosers have obliterated other cemeteries while cattle have pushed over the stones in pastures and grass has grown over them. In many instances Mrs. Frank Stegall and I dug up and pieced together the broken pieces in order to record the inscriptions for posterity. In this locality we found the Elliott family cemetery and the large Boyd-Dial family cemetery the only ones to be cared for and enclosed by fences.

One of the early businesses at old Payneville was a gin making establishment owned by A. Campbell and Son. In an issue of the 1840 "Sumter County Whig" there appeared a notice that "in the future the firm would go under the name of A. R. Campbell at the old stand near Payneville" and it was signed by Alexander Campbell and A. R. Campbell.

There was a tannery near Payneville owned and operated by John Knox Elliott. Even yet one can see the old vats lined with hand hewn oak beams, where the raw hides were soaked in red oak bark juice to remove the hair and then the hides tanned to make into shoes, harness and other leather goods used by the community.

A large two story hostel called The Tavern stood near the old Academy. Travellers by stage coach west used this tavern for refreshment and rest as Payneville was a point where horses were changed and mail picked up.

Payneville boasted a battalion of soldiers to protect the town in case of trouble. 19 March 1844 there was an announcement in "Sumter County Whig" of an election to be held at "Yarborough and Daniel's Store" at Payneville on Saturday 13 April 1844 to elect a colonel to command 1st Battalion, 64th Regiment and it was signed by William Arrington, Colonel 64th Regiment, 6th Brigade, 3rd Division.

There were other stores at Payneville, among which were the ones owned by Robert and Jefferson Boyd and by Jim Boyd. There was one owned by Peter and John L. Handley for in 1832 the people of Payneville signed a petition asking "the power that was" to allow this firm to handle spirituous liquors. At that time only store keepers who did not partake of intoxicating refreshments and who were of moral repute could handle "fire water", as it was called by the Indians. But even the most virtuous in that day kept liquor in the home as it was believed by every one, if it were taken in moderation, would cure "what ailed you".

It was not all work with the early settlers at Payneville for the town boasted of a race track where the landed gentry raced their fine horses. Much money and even land changed hands on those "tournament days"; people from far and near came to Payneville to see the races, so the stores and the Tavern promoted these tournaments for they (especially Handley Brothers) did a flourishing business on those and the Tavern was full to overflowing. The men and boys played horse shoe and bets were made on the side. Another game was played from fast running horses with the riders holding outstretched bayonets on which they tried to catch rings thrown to them as they passed certain spots. Indian ball games were well attended - many Indians stayed in this part of the country instead of going to Oklahoma after the Treaty of Dancing Rabbit Creek - for there was sure to be a fight or two between some of the Indian bucks over some of the finer points of their game, made finer by having imbibed too often from the white man's fire water jug.

Those were "the good old days" we have heard about; but Hadden Presbyterian Church, her Elders and her Ministers held the balance wheel in that community. Almost every month some one was brought before the Session for a wrong doing such as drinking, swearing, gambling or an immoral act. Gradually the entire community life centered around the church so that today very few know anything about the sports of the early days. Even then, however, after days of festivities, if preaching day followed, the entire community would scrub behind their proverbial ears and the women would bake pies, cakes and hams - fried chicken galore would be prepared and home made salt rising bread cooked for "dinner on the ground" after Sunday School and Church service. They got a double dose of religion on those days for in the afternoon as soon as every one had eaten, the women had cleared away the tables which had been spread under the trees, and the men had taken several walks down to spring where they had drunk long, cool drinks of water and stretched their legs, the church bell was rung again for afternoon service. The Deacons and Elders sat in the "amen corners" nodding and napping while the preacher's voice droned on and on and on interrupted only from an occasional outcry from one of the infants asleep on a palate in the back of the church. Those days are gone forever.

Then war was declared and men answered the call to arms and rode away, many of whom did not return to their old homes. Union soldiers from across the Tombigbee River in Pickens County, and from Dallas and from Tuscaloosa Counties foraged all over Sumter County for food for their men and beasts. People in Payneville community hid their grain deep in the woods, drove their cattle and hogs into the swamp and buried their meat in a long trench just across the creek and west of the road which connects Highway 11 with State Highway 17. After the trench was dug they placed boughs of trees in the bottom of it and then put the meat on them. They covered the meat with planks and then with soil. It has been said that the Union Soldiers thought that the people around Payneville were on the verge of starvation while all the time they were laughing up their sleeves about how they had fooled the Damnyankees.

Many romances budded during the war one of which was that of Etta Allison and Sam Turk, a Kentucky soldier who came through Sumter County and met Etta. He could not forget her sweet face for after the war he returned to the county and claimed her for his bride. After the war many people moved West; only a few families remained. Within a radius of six miles of old Payneville the Boyds, the Dials, the Danners, the Davises, the Simmons, the Allison, the Moores, the Tartes, the Prest-woods, the Aekins and Sledges remained. Today if you pass through this area and meet a man and say, "Good morning Mr. Boyd," and he looks at you kind of funny you should say, "Ben your pardon, Mr. Dial." There are few left except Dials and Boyds and their kin folk.

Not one thing is left of the once prosperous incorporated town of yesterday but people still speak of going to Payneville when they mean they are going anywhere within the six mile radius of the old church and academy. The old has made way for modern living; the only old homes left have been completely modernized. W. Jake Dial lives in the old John Knox Elliott home and J. W. Boyd lives in the other old house both of which are lovely to see and comfortable to live in. The modern brick church, with the manse near the old spring, is still the center of community life and in every direction, but within a mile or so of each other, one sees modern homes with all the conveniences of the day.

The glory of the past is about forgotten; the young people know nothing of it. Wilbur Dearman, our Probate Judge, recently said to me that very little is known about the history of old Payneville. I went to my notes which I had collected over a period of forty years and talked with many people who had listened to the tales of early settlers. I perused early newspapers and pieced together the history of old Payneville which I hope you have enjoyed.

TOWNSHIP 19 RANGES 3 AND 4 WEST

Many people bought land in this township for speculation so they never lived here. They lived in other parts of the county or in other parts of the state. I shall endeavor to give you something about these people who lived in other parts of the county in later volumes. Those whose histories are given in cemetery records will be merely mentioned, while in some cases I shall give you a little history of others. Range 4 West of Township 19 is in what we call the Flat Woods and was never cleared. Some of this land sold for as little as 2¢ per acre in the early 1830's. Sumter Lumber company, in Electric Mills, Mississippi, Kemper county, owned much of this land. After this company went out of business it was sold to Flintcote. Mr. Fred Rogers of Meridian, Mississippi is also a large holder of this land.

GREENLEES CEMETERY

This cemetery is located near old Payneville but today there are no stones in this burying ground; it is said that the stones are broken and buried in the soil or that they have been carted away and used as door steps. There are signs of many graves in this cemetery.

I was very lucky to have found a book on the Greenlees family dating back to Ireland a generation or two before the immigrant came to America. The book which was so graciously shared with me is owned by Mrs. Margaret Elizabeth (Bessie) Burton Fuller. "The Greenlees of America" was compiled over a number of years and was published about 60 years ago.

Hugh Greenlees born Belfast or Lesbrum, County Down, Ireland married Isabel McGowin born in County Down. They were parents of children among whom were John and Joseph Greenlees who came to America the latter part of the second decade of the 1800's.

(1) John Greenlees was born 11 May 1796/97 in County Down, Ireland and died in Sumter County, Alabama 2 September 1855. He became naturalized in Greene County, Alabama, March Term Court, 1830 and the papers were recorded in Greene County but transferred to Sumter County 7 November 1834 - Probate Records Book 1, page 88. He stated in 1830 that he had "lived in the States upward of 3 years, and in Alabama 1 year of that time." The Greenlees, Calverts and other Presbyterian Irish immigrants settled in Greene County, Alabama in what was known as "the Irish Settlement", and later came to Sumter County when it was opened to the white settlers.

John Greenlees married in Ireland 28 November 1819/20 to Isabella Dickson born 21 July 1797 in County Down, and died near Payneville, Alabama 18 May 1859. She was the daughter of David and Margaret Dickson. The children of Isabella (Dickson) and John Greenlees were: (a) Jane born 11 November 1820 married John Campbell, (b) William born 31 January 1822 died young, (c) Hugh born 26 November 1826 married Mary Elizabeth Hopper born 28 November 1838, daughter of William and Sara (Key) Hopper - see Robert Boyd record in Boyd Cemetery--Hugh Greenlees family lived at Gainesville and had children: Mary Ida born 1863 married R. J. J. (Red Head 'Jeff') Boyd (see Boyd Cemetery), Annie Laura born 1869 is still living in 1960, Helen Irene married Robert J. Dial both of whom are buried at Boyd Cemetery, and Addie who married Wade Hailey - their son Hugh Hailey married Ruby Waddell, sister of Lolita Waddell who married Dr. Austin F. J. Boyd. Hugh and Ruby Hailey have one son Hugh, Jr. who married Patsy . (d) Isabella born 19 May 1829 married 26 August 1856 Joseph Eakins, born 11 May 1829 in Raleigh, North Carolina, the son of William and Ann (Walker) Eakins, (e) Margaret Ann, born 8 January 1830 married Absalom Farrar Burton -- see Burton Cemetery records, (f) Mary born 6 March 1832 married George Calvert, (g) John born 23 March 1833 married Georgie Appleby, (h) David James born January 1837 married Sallie (Hopper) Thomas - see Thomas Cemetery records - he was a member of 43 Mississippi Reg., and was killed at the Battle of Nashville, (i) Joseph Patterson born 9 December 1838 married Sallie L. Manning, (j) Charles born 1839 and died 1845.

(2) Joseph Greenlees or Greenlee was also a son of Hugh and Isabella (McGowin) Greenlees and died circa 1880. His wife (1) was a Miss Bushby - perhaps Isabelle - and (2) Leah Wiggins. The Greenlee family of Epes and Mrs. Bettie J. Lee of the same place are descendants of this branch of the family (more about this family in another volume).

BURTON CEMETERY

This family cemetery lies deep in the woods about a mile north east of, and across the road from Hadden Presbyterian Church near old Payneville. There are signs of several graves but there are only three markers standing. It was by the courtesy of Mr. W. Jake Dial that we found this burying ground. No one knows where the first generation of Burtons is buried unless it is in a burying ground long since abandoned and overgrown with brush with no sign of stones. It is said that the Bullocks, the Hodges, the Campbells, the Calverts and many more are buried there.

EXCERPTS FROM HADDEN PRESBYTERIAN

MINUTES BOOK, OLD PAYNEVILLE, ALABAMA

This church was first organized in Perry County, Alabama, 19 May 1827, and was called "Harmony Presbyterian Church". The Rev. James Hillhouse helped with the organization. The minutes of this first meeting stated, "At this time there was no public house for the worship of God, but a subscription for this purpose was procured. God, who is the Creator and Author of events and the efficient cause of all good design in his creatures hath put it into the hearts of His people to have the Gospel among them," that their children and servants might have the opportunity of attending the means of Grace, united effort was made to build a commodious house. But a few were professors of religion and still fewer of the Presbyterian Order. Numbers few and means limited when the church was organized, only 9 persons were found who were in full communion and who would be united with this branch of Zion, viz: William Cubley, Joseph P. Dowdle, Elizabeth Knox, Rebecca Bell, Jane Boyd (the wife of John Boyd), Margaret M. Bell, Elizabeth McConnell, John M. McConnell, James McConnell. William Cubley and Joseph Dowdle were chosen Ruling Elders. First pastors were Rev. James Hillhouse and Robert Holman, the latter a licentiate from Kentucky. The first Sacrament was administered 3 March 1828 by Rev. White. Mrs. Elliott, Miss Margary Bell and Mrs. Elizabeth McConnell joined the church. The first Sabbath in August 1828 Mr. Thomas L. Eskridge, Mrs. Julia Eskridge, John Knox, David Boyd, John Cameron, Mary Cameron and Maria Holman joined the church."

(At this point the minutes end for Harmony Church. The members picked up lock, stock and barrel and came in a wagon train to Sumter County and settled in and around Township 19, Ranges 3 and 4 West, and named their new town Payneville, and called their new church "Union", and headed their minutes as such with no elaboration; just continuing the minutes in the old Harmony Minute Book.)

"The Tuscaloosa Presbytery invited Rev. J. H. Gray to organize a church in Sumter County (at Payneville). Members to be found in good standing were: Thomas Campbell, Alexander Campbell, Mary Campbell, William Calvert, Francis McEwin, Ellen McEwin, John Dove, Jane Boyd, Rebecca Brown, Dorcas Brown, John Greenlees, Isabella Greenlees, Alex Brothwait, Jane Brothwait, Anna Elliott. John Greenlees and Thomas Campbell Ruling Elders.

The Church was named "Union" and came under the care of Tuscaloosa Presbytery in the Spring of 1838. When William Greenlees and J. K. Elliott presented certificates of church membership it was found that Mr. Elliott had been an Elder from where he removed, so was elected to fill that place in this church.

August 1839 Hugh Calvert and Perry Sylliman were taken into the church.

30 May 1840 Joseph P. Dowdle and Elizabeth Dowdle were received as members. 27 August 1841 Miss Ann P. Moore, Mary Jane Seale, Miss Elizabeth Campbell, Dorcas Campbell, Eliza Calvert, Alex. Brothwait, Jane Dowdle, Isabell Brothwait, David Boyd, united with the church, of this number Eliza Calvert was baptized. The following infants were baptized: John Greenlees, son of John and Isabella Greenlees, Robert Calvert, son of Wm. and A. Calvert, Elizabeth Ann McCowen, daughter of F. and E. McCowen. 16 July 1841 Elizabeth Dowdle died.

September 1843 those taken into the church were: William K. Tyler, Mrs. Ester Calvert, Sara Ann Crenshaw, Miss Elizabeth Pippen, John Boyd, Jefferson Boyd, James Boyd, Lawrence Dogerty, Martin B. Dabney and his wife Nancy, Mrs. Sara Boyd, Aron Calvert, Hugh Greenlees, Isabella Greenlees, William Greenlees, George Calvert, John Silliman.

(The minutes were headed "Union" until through September 1859, then suddenly without explanation they were headed "Hadden" on the 6th of November 1859; named for Rev. Isaac Hadden, an able minister and brilliant educator. (See Bethel Cemetery for more about Rev. Hadden.)

BOYD CEMETERY NEAR BOYD, ALABAMA

This cemetery is about one mile west of the little town of Boyd which is located a few miles north of York, Alabama, on Highway #17. One turns off this highway, just before getting to Boyd, on a black top road which turns due west. The cemetery is to the right of this road, one turns off of it in front of J. W. Boyd home and follows it around through a field for about one half mile back toward Boyd. The road ends at the cemetery. With the exception of one or two, everyone buried here is related to everyone else.

John Boyd, born Chester, South Carolina, 1 November 1776, died 4 September 1854. (He was the son of Hugh Boyd, Revolutionary Patriot and Soldier. Hugh Boyd was a wagon maker as mentioned in both deeds and in Revolutionary Service Records. He was born in Ireland and came to the American Colonies with his father, John Boyd, Sr., prior to the Revolution. Hugh Boyd married Mrs. Jennet Muffitt, a widow. His will is recorded in Book B, page 311, Newberry, South Carolina. He mentions his sons Mathew Boyd, John Boyd, Hugh Boyd and Robert Boyd, and daughters Jane Boyd, Rosanna Boyd, and a brother, John Boyd. It was signed 3 October 1798 and was proved 5 March 1799.

Proof of relationship may be found in Mathew Boyd's will proved 26 November 1835, Box 73, pkg. 35 #831, Newberry, South Carolina, which is as follows: "My estate to my sister's (Rosannah) lawful children, to William Muffitt my half brother, John Boyd my brother, Hugh Boyd's (my deceased brother) children, Jane Campbell my sister and Robert Boyd my brother, -witnessed by Nathan Renwick, Thomas W. Little, John H. Hatton, W. Willson, Ordinary. Signed Mathew Boyd "

Killpatrick on 6 February 1773. Witnesses/ John Blalock, John Blalock, Jr. and William Woodall.

Deed Book A page 156 - On 7 and 8 June 1786 John Reid, a taylor of 96 District, South Carolina sells to Hugh Boyd 150 acres of 250 acres granted John Reid on 1 September 1768 between Broad and Saludy River called Gilders Creek and bounded by Wm. Cannon. Witnesses John Blalock, Sr., John Blalock, Jr. and Simon Keary.

Deed Book A page 195 - James Johnson sold Hugh Boyd Wagoner, 144 acres on 19 November 1785 - (George Eakins, wit.) on branch of Indian Creek, waters of Enoree River.

Deed Book M page 316 - John Boyd of Newberry County, South Carolina sells to Jacob Duckett land on Indian Creek, waters of Enoree River - mentions John Boyd had a brother Matthew Boyd who was willed land by their father Hugh Boyd. It was signed 5 September 1818 and witnessed by Adam Chambers, George McCreless, Young J. Harrington, J.Q. Jane or Jennett Boyd, wife of the above John (Deed Book M-316) signed her dower to the above land willed to John and Matthew by Hugh Boyd, their father, 7 January 1819.

John and Jane (she used "Jane" in signing legal papers, but she was "Jennett" to her husband) Boyd removed to Perry County, Alabama in the early 1820's and patented land in both Perry and in Greene Counties. Some of their children married and lived in both Counties. They sold land in Perry County as late as 1838 (after their removal to Sumter County) and their signatures were witnessed before Jacob G. Danner, J. P. (their son-in-law.) John Boyd and his son John M. Boyd jointly patented land in Sumter County (certificate received in 1834) and we find in Deed Book E. 652 that John and Jane Boyd sold their part of this land for $1.00 to John M. Boyd - 18 December 1840.

Now that I have proved the line of descent I will give you Hugh Boyd's Service record. "Hugh Boyd ... Revolutionary Service .. 668 wagon hire 1780 to 1782 £ 52 5s 8½p .... October 10, 1783, Rec'd by Richard Speake £ 823, signed, Hugh Boyd. Rev. Accts AA668 Acct 1703 X-Hugh Boyd, Department of Archives, Columbia, South Carolina. " I am giving you this wagon service instead of his fighting record to prove he, as wagon maker, was the same as our Hugh Boyd, the wagon maker mentioned in deeds.

John Boyd's will may be found in Will Book 2 page 50 Sumter County. It was probated 14 October 1854 -- and he names his children as follows: Hugh, Mary, David, Sara, Rosannah, Matthew H., Elizabeth, John M., Jefferson, James Marion and Robert. He mentioned "Jennett Dial Boyd, daughter of my son Jefferson Boyd".

Jennett Boyd, born in Newberry, South Carolina, 8 August 1781, died 31 March 1844. (She was the wife of John Boyd who called her "Jennett" but all her legal papers were signed as Jane. Also called Jane in her father's (Jeremiah Dial Sr.) will. We find her father Jeremiah Dial in the Newberry District, South Carolina 1790 Census. He was born in Ireland between 1719 and 1720. According to pension application of Jeremiah Dial Sr., W - 14 Nat'l Archives, Washington, D. C. his father removed from Ireland to Charleston 1772. He and his sons Jeremiah Jr. (whom we call the II), John and William obtained land on south side of Enoree River.

Jeremiah Dial Sr., was a patriot in the Revolutionary War. Reference for Jeremiah Dial Sr., in Books W-W p 260 No. 436 Libr W - issued 19 August 1785 for 88/12/9 and passed by Commissioners of Accts. ... 88/12/9½ and interest.

There are indents showing that Jeremiah Jr. or II, William and John Dial were soldiers. Indent showing that John Dial served 63 days service militia duty 1782 for 4/10/0 approved 20 May 1785; and another entry for 93/19/7½ stg. for duty as Sgt. in Militia as audited .. Books O and R-T pages 257 no. 290, Libr. Q. and p. 175 Libr. respectively.

John Dial's will is in Newberry S.C. Book A-142 Mary Doyle (Dial) admr. Same book p-149 Mary, the widow is called Mary Dial. Sales bill shows that Mary Dial, the widow, and Jeremiah Dial were large purchasers. John Dial left his estate to his widow.

The will of Jeremiah Dial, Sr., Newberry, S.C. -- File 6 p 13, Est #129, Bk. H-114 dated 1 January 1805, proved 4 Nov. 1805, Wit/ Archibald Mc-Millan, John Hopper and Alexander Hopper. Exers. "my beloved wife Margaret, David Montgomery, William Lavender. Signed by Jeremiah Dial (this was "senior"). He made bequests to wife Margaret, to sons William and Jeremiah (II), to daughters Margaret Ingram and Jane Boyd, wife of John Boyd. To grandsons David Montgomery Dial and Jeremiah Dial (III). to daughter Sallie, wife of Hugh Hopper.

Margaret, widow of Jeremiah Dial Sr., sold her land to David Montgomery Dial and Jeremiah Dial (III) 17 January 1808 - Deed Bk J p-220 Newberry, S. C. Jeremiah III then sold his share to David Montgomery Dial 1811. Deed Bk L-268, who then sold to Jacob Duckett M-292. Jennett Dial, wife of David Montgomery Dial signed dower.

According to Sam T. Boyd, grandson of John and Jane (Dial) Boyd, in a sworn statement March 1960, David Montgomery Dial and Jeremiah Dial who came to Alabama in the same wagon train with Jane or Jennett (Dial) Boyd were her nephews, the sons of her deceased brother, John Dial, Revolutionary soldier.

Here, I will give the history of Jeremiah Dial III as his grave has not been located. He patented land in T 19 R2 W. He voted in Livingston March 1841 and died the fall of the same year. Orphans Bk 11 p-222 shows widow Summer Dial. Heirs: John Dial, Mary wife of John Johnson, Davis or David M. Dial, James P. Dial, William H. Dial, Margaret wife of E. Johnson, Geo. W. Dial, Jeremiah Dial, and granddaughter Mary J. Campbell. (She was the daughter of Nancy Dial (dec'd) who married James W. Campbell 25 December 1839.) The 1850 census shows Summer as 57 born in S. C., Wm. H. 24 born in Alabama, George W. 20 born in Alabama, Jeremiah 16 born Alabama.

Mrs. Summer Dial married Calvin Johnson, after death of Jeremiah Dial III; she died 1857 and notices issued to James Dial, Wm. H. Dial, Mary Johnson, John W. Dial (who resides in Pickens County) and David M. Dial minor heir - estate consisting of 1181 67/100 acres.

CHAPTER IV

EMELLE

LIBERTY CHURCH AND BONEY CEMETERY

BONEY CEMETERY is located about two and one half miles due west of the Village of Emelle, Alabama. It is really on the edge of Township 21 Section 36 Range 4 West. However, because so many of those who sleep there lived in Township 20, we decided to include it in the records of that township.

At one time old Liberty Primitive Baptist Church stood at the edge of this burial ground. Mr. Richard Newton and Mr. Wimbeck Boney were two of its founders. Later on, after the death of Mr. Boney, others came into possession of his lands. A dispute arose over the location of the cemetery. The new land owner claimed the cemetery was on his land instead of the land across the road where it was supposed to be; so he cut the timber from the cemetery and church grounds. A law suit followed. In the meantime one of the leading citizens in the suit was brought before the church with a charge of gambling and he was finally turned out of the church. The community took sides in the "rippet" which had now progressed to a heated pace, -- so heated till the church went up in flames.

The Liberty Baptist Association helped the community build another church but instead of putting it back at the old location, it was built near the station, Ramsey, on the Gainesville-Narkeeta Rail Road. By that time families of other denominations had moved into the community and some of the Primitive Baptists had moved away. When a vote was taken the "old timers" found to their utter consternation that the Methodists had out voted them, so the new church became Methodist. Many Baptists removed their letters to the Baptist Church at Sumterville and buried their dead at Old Side Cemetery.

Beginning at this time the cemetery was no longer called Liberty Church Graveyard but gradually became known as Boney Cemetery in honor of the man who helped organize the church. Many years later, Ripley in "Believe It Or Not", said this burying ground was the only one in the world that was called "Boney Cemetery".

RAMSEY STATION (NOW EMELLE)

The community of the present Emelle was known as Liberty Church community in the earliest settling of this part of Township 20 Range 3 West, and a little later became known as Ramsey Station when the Gainesville-Narkeeta Rail Road was built.

The first settlers voted at Sumterville but later two voting places were established in Beat 12: one at Sumterville and one at Ramsey Station. A great deal of the trading of the pioneer families in this section was done at Sumterville. The cotton was shipped from Gainesville, however. I have heard the second generation from those pioneers say that in the fall of the year droves of turkeys were driven to Gainesville to be shipped to Mobile.

There was no academy at old Ramsey but the children were educated elsewhere after getting what education they could at Professor Burwell's school at Bethel which was about half way between Ramsey and Sumterville. Some of the families had governesses or tutors for their children and for those children of their neighbors. Later on, after public schools were established, when John Anthony Winston was Governor of Alabama, Ramsey had a small school from which several men went forth into the world and made high marks for themselves. This section of the township was different from the section around Sumterville as it is more rolling or of a flat nature. It, too, was covered with hard wood trees interspersed with switch cane which grew ten feet tall on high land and about twenty feet tall in creek bottoms.

Mrs. Vincent Anderson has been quoted as saying, "We came to Sumter County when my Catina was a baby, and this country was a howling wilderness." Her Catina was one of twins and a drunken Indian tried to kill them because they thought it was bad luck to have twins.

After the forests were cleared and the cane cut, strawberries sprang up around the edge of the forests. They said that the cows came home at night with their udders stained red from the juice of the berries. This region was the natural habitat for wild pigeons. It has been said by old timers that in time of their migration that they would black out the sun in their flight.

William Thomas Simms had the first store at old Ramsey, Captain Winston and William Maurice (Reuben) Thomas were partners for a number of years in the mercantile business. Squire Folsom, a little later, opened a third store, all of which were built around the station at the rail road. The station was called Ramsey Station for Mr. A. K. Ramsey, a promoter of the rail road, but he lived about one and one half miles west of the station.

In 1872 the mail came from Livingston by star route and William T. Simms was the first post master. (See the 1872 file of Livingston Journal.) T. L. Jenkins was the next post master, he was followed by John T. Simms who kept the office for the next three decades or until just before his death.

The 1850 census shows seven slaves in this county were born in Africa. Most of them belonged to a man by the name of Poole who bought them from a man by the name of Jones in North Carolina. The mother was Betty and one of her daughters was named Elsie. Betty became civilized enough to do real well, but Elsie would have none of the white man's ways. She would not wear clothes provided for her, nor would she eat the fare of the other slaves, she wanted uncooked food. She would not work in the fields with the other women but liked to clear the forests. At night time she would sleep under the trees disdaining the comforts of a dwelling and a bed. She died some time in the seventies when her nephew, Ors Jones (they took the name of the former master when emancipated) was about 25 years old. Ors lived to be about 103 years old and he told me many things about his grandmother Betty and his aunt Elsie. These "Jones" Negroes were powerfully built. Henry could pick up a bale of cotton and walk off with it. One peculiar thing about them was as a family they did not believe in God; most Negroes are very religious. Ors said during the Reconstruction period that he lived on the Trimble place and that a white woman by the name of Sally McCarty came there from the North and taught the Negroes. She boarded with a Negro named John Inge. She never mixed with the white people. A man by the name of Poe did the same thing about three miles west of Ramsey.

The second generation of the "landed gentry" of this section was noted for their gambling, a trait said to have been prevalent among the gentlemen of the Black Belt. They bet on anything and everything. Mr. Frank Watson, Mr. Trimble and Mr. Walter Kerr were fording Bodka Creek when the horse Mr. Trimble was riding got from under him. As he could not swim he was about to drown. Mr. Watson bet Mr. Kerr a dollar that "Trim" would not make it and Mr. Kerr took the bet. Mr. Kerr called, "Come on Trim, You can make it." Mr. Watson yelled, "Give up, Trim, you'll never make it."

During the War Between the States much corn was raised in this part of the county. Log bins were built along the rail road and the corn stored until it could be picked up by the trains and taken to mills to be ground into meal for the Confederacy. Only foraging Union soldiers entered this county but the grain was protected by the home guards. Once a small band of these foragers was reported to be around the bend of the road from the John R. Jackson place. He was home on furlough when a runner told him of the soldiers being in his community. He knew if they found him they would take him prisoner. His granddaughter, Isaphena (Jackson) Joiner, told me he ran around the house looking for a place to hide. The most likely place was the bee hives which were alive with bees. He scraped the bees out of one of them and into the hive he crawled. She said, "The bees were a-humming and the Yanks were a-coming but they could not find Grandpap."

Even tho this section did not see any action during the war, the people were plenty plagued by the Carpetbaggers and a Scallywag during Reconstruction Days. Billings, a lawyer from the North, was the most prominent Carpetbagger around Ramsey. His collaborator (or Quisling, as he would be called today) was Dr. Choutteau who lived in sight of Ramsey Station. Their plan was to steal the wealth of the country through the Negro vote. They incited the Negroes against the whites, promising them 40 acres of land, a mule and their franchise to side with them against the whites. They held big meetings, sometimes attended by as many as a thousand "Freedmen". The Negroes took to the meetings their buckets and sacks in which, they hoped to be able, to take home their franchise.

The Livingston Journal of 9 October 1868 gives a distorted account of the stabbing of Mr. Bryant Richardson, Jr. (he married Mary Sara Grice, niece of Mr. William T. Simms) who was disemboweled by the Negro, Enoch Brown, with a butcher knife which he took from Mr. Richardson's kitchen. The paper said Enoch was apprehended by a couple of Negroes and was turned over to the authorities. This was told to soothe a rabid unrest in the county. Anyway in the search for Enoch he was traced to Choutteau's home where he was asked to surrender. Yankee Ben, a Negro body guard of Choutteau's was mistaken for Enoch. Yankee Ben was so scared he ran up the chimney and jumped to the ground and did not stop running when called to. He was shot. This infuriated the Carpetbaggers and the Scallywags and they would not let an inquest by authorities be made. The body lay where it fell, for several days, during which time hundreds of armed Freedmen milled around. Later the doctor moved to Livingston where Dr. John Bailey Browning (native of Ramsey and a cousin of Catina Anderson) was killed by another body guard of Choutteau's. The Carpetbagger, Billings, was killed; the Negroes quieted down and peace reigned where terror once strode rough shod. It was suggested at the time to use the following epitaph on Billings' gravestone:

"Pause, gentle reader, lightly tread!
For God's sake let him lie;
We live in peace since he is dead
But Hell is in a fry."

The wood burning engine was taken off the Gainesville-Narkeeta Rail Road after the war and the cars were drawn by mules. One of the most famous mules was named Morgan and was said to be gray. When the engines were used the train stopped at Ramsey Station to take on water from the "Gee well"; a well which never went dry but would fill up to the top over night after the engine had quenched its thirst. William Maurice (Reuben) Thomas, who married Narcissa Anderson, had a steam mill and gin near the well. He sent one of his colored workers to fire up the engine and put water in the boiler. He did it in just that order and when he let the water into the hot boiler it blew everything sky high, killing five persons, one of whom was never found as he must have been blown to bits. The back of Marcus Ramsey's head was taken off and the cavity was filled with shelled corn. A long splinter was thrust through another Negroe's neck between the windpipe and the spine the splinter showing on both sides of the neck. Mr. Asa Simms, son of William Thomas Simms, pulled the splinter from the man's neck and applied kerosene. The Negro lived to a ripe old age.

Old Ramsey Station gave up the ghost and died when the Alabama, Tennessee and Northern Rail Road was built through this section about 1910/12. Mr. Ed Dial gave the railroad a number of lots in the new town and other consideration in building the depot if the town were named for a daughter, Emelle Dial. She was named for two of her aunts, Emma and Ella Dial. The two merchants at Ramsey at the time, were John T. Simms and T. L. Jenkins who picked up, lock stock and barrel, and moved to the new town a mile away. J. W. Burton put up a store, someone opened a drug store. Dr. Swain, physician who married Olive Jenkins, did a thriving practice for miles around.

Today we have paved roads in all directions; people live in modern homes with all the conveniences of the day. The fields are no longer cultivated but white face cattle (they do not dip snuff, nor do they have to be bonded out of trouble) peacefully graze in pastures which are green most of the year. Today we have sans boll weevil, sans row crops, sans Saturday night cuttings among tenants, sans strife - sans everything except quiet, peace and gracious living.

Their son, Thomas Leonidas, stayed with his grandmother Sara Anderson nearly all his life; and remained in Sumter County for good when his aunts needed him, about the time he was 20 years of age. Annie Andrews Jenkins, wife of Thomas Leonidas Jenkins, born 22 January 1856, died 23 February 1926. (She was the daughter of Sara Ann (Smith) born at Centreville, Alabama, 14 July 1832 and William Penn Andrews, the son of Joel Andrews born 29 December 1787 and his wife Ann Lewis who died ca 1836. William Penn Andrews was a Quaker and was born in Medina, Orleans County, New York, 1 September 1825. (from Andrews family Bible). A letter in my possession states that George W. Andrews, brother of William Penn Andrews, assumed the birth year of William Penn, as he hoped to be President of the United States but happened to be born in Canada in 1821 while his parents were there for a short time, "a fact hid from his biographers". The "Auglaize County Atlas, Ohio, 1880" says that General G. W. Andrews was the son of Joel and Ann Lewis Andrews and that Ann was the daughter of Major John Lewis, Revolutionary War soldier from Rhode Island; Joel Andrews was a Quaker and a farmer. G. W. Andrews was a Union Soldier and a Senator, and a lawyer in Wapakoneta, Ohio - Auglaize County. From old letters in my possession from General or Senator G. W. Andrews to his brother William Penn Andrews, Editor of a Newspaper in Marion, Mississippi, we learn that William Penn was Editor of a newspaper in Wapakoneta, Ohio before coming to Mississippi; I have the demit to William Penn Andrews from the Masonic Lodge in Wapakoneta, Ohio. George W. was a General in Union army and his brother William Penn, Captain in the Confederate Army, was killed in the Battle of Corinth. The old letters written before 1860 stated their maternal grandfather, John Lewis fought in the Revolutionary War, he stormed Stoney Point and fought on the Plains of Saratoga. Old letters stated, also, that their father was living in the home of John Mosher in 1857 - John Mosher married their sister Deborah Lewis; another sister, Jane, married a Sylvester; there was a brother John who died in 1857; and a brother Richard who "went west."

From "Rockwell-Keeler Genealogy," Library of Congress, we learn that Joel Andrews born 29 December 1789 was the son of Eli Andrews (Danbury, Conn. records were burned by the British so date of birth is unknown) and wife Ruth Rockwell who was born 13 October 1769 - they married 1789. Eli Andrews was the son of Captain Abraham Andrews, (Revolutionary War soldier), and his wife, Sara (Taylor) Andrews. Abraham was born 1721. Sara, his wife, moved her church letter from Bethel Parish, Danbury, Conn. to Winchester, Conn. November 1774. Abraham was Moderator of Winchester School Society 6 December 1774; Moderator of Town Meeting in 1783; he died 29 October 1805 at the age of 85. According to the "Olmstead History," Library of Congress, Abraham Andrews was a Revolutionary soldier and fought in New York, Long Island and Horse Neck. It went on to say that the parents of Abraham Andrews were Robert Andrews born 1693, posthumous, and his wife Ann Olmstead born 1695; they married 1720. Robert Andrews was the son of Abraham and Sara (Porter) Andrews; he was born 31 October 1648 and they were married 1682. Robert Andrews was the son of John and Mary Andrews or Andrus who came from England to Conn. on 1640. John made his will 14 January 1681, and she, calling herself "Ye aged wife of John Andrews," made her will in 1683 and died in 1694.

In 1743 Joseph Keeler deeded John Rockwell land for "love and fatherly affection ... my son-in-law". He was chosen Deacon 8 March 1770. Page 22 Whitney Genealogy states "Daniel Keeler was the son of John and Millabel Keeler and grandson of John Rockwell, Sr., who died at Rye, New York 1676. Page 1259, "Daniel Keeler's wife was possibly Elizabeth Weed." (This shows all these genealogies go back to the same people, same dates, etc. In 1630 Winthrop's Fleet of 17 ships left different ports in England for America. The Arobella was the one that sailed from

Cowes, Isle of Wight; arrived in Salem, Mass., 12 June 1630. Jonas Weed was one of the passengers, one of the founders of Watertown Congregational Church 26 July 1630; a founder of Wetherford Church 29 May 1635; was one of the 4 voting members at Stamford 1641. ### CENTRAL CEMETERY

This cemetery, located about three and one half miles south east of Emelle on the old Emelle-Livingston road, serves as a burying ground for the families who once buried at Boney, Old Side and Bethel Cemeteries. It is centrally located between Boyd, Sumterville and Emelle. The descendants of the Presbyterians who once belonged to Bethel Presbyterian Church, before it was moved to Sumterville, built a church by this cemetery. There was an interlude, however, when they were united with the Methodist Church at Old Ramsey -- see Ramsey Methodist Church records -- After Central Presbyterian Church was blown down by high winds, it was rebuilt at Emelle.

CHAPTER V

FAMILY CEMETERIES

McCainville, ALABAMA

The town of McCainville was a prosperous town in the early settling of the county but today there is not one thing to mark the site of the town itself except, probably, an old cistern; this is said to have been in the Mount Moriah Academy yard. The town itself was located about four or five miles west of Livingston but the community of McCainville extended to the road which leads to Hornes' Bridge toward the south and toward Old Side Cemetery on the north. Families in the vicinity of McCainville included the Brownrigg, Freeman, Cockrell, Hopper, Madley, Kennedy, Lavender, Martin, McCain, Jeremiah Dial, Parker, Spratt, Thomas, Travis and Horne families.

There are at least eight cemeteries in this community. After the Civil War the families moved either to Livingston or to distant states so the cemeteries have long been neglected or are included in pastures. Some of the stones are leaning against trees, some are buried in the ground, having been knocked over by cows, and some are in thickets so dense until it is almost impossible to get to them - These are not isolated cases but it is true of almost every part of the county. This is the main reason which prompted my collecting tombstone inscriptions. I realized that within a few years these stones would be gone, and information on them would be lost to posterity.

McCain Cemetery

This cemetery is located about a mile west of old McCainville near a Negro Church. One has to walk over muddy, impassable roads (if it drizzles rain). It is about three quarters of a mile from the old McCainville-Payneville road on the north, after one crosses McCainville-Payneville road on the north side, after one crosses a branch, about 200 yards or more. One would have to have a guide to find this cemetery.

INSCRIPTIONS

Adam McCain died 24 April 1841, aged 61 years. (Mr. McCain was born circa 1780 and came to Sumter County, Alabama from South Carolina in 1831. He had children Weldon, George, William and Adam Jr., Weldon taught school; the other boys were in the Confederate Army, and William was killed.)

*****

Elizabeth, consort of Adam McCain, born 13 March 1798, died 11 March 1867. (She was Miss Elizabeth Marshall).

*****

Adam S. McCain, born 23 July 1835, died 3 June 1870. (He was the son of Adam McCain and his wife Elizabeth Marshall McCain. He married Frances Lou Hodges and they became parents of A. C. McCain, Dr. C. M. McCain, Dr. W. J. McCain and Mrs. W. L. Kern. A. C. McCain married Miss Nixon, and had children: Clarence, who married Miss Henton, (he was sheriff at one time of Sumter County), Mrs. John Neilson, Mrs. Frances Turner, and Mrs. David White. Dr. W. J. McCain married Julia White and they became parents of Ada who married Dr. James of Virginia, Louise, Mrs. Evans wife of R. L. Evans who was principal of the Livingston High School for many years, Mrs. Reynolds, Julia, David, Mattie and Adfield who married Maude Mellen of Livingston. (More about these families in another volume.) The mother, Frances Lou (Hodges) McCain, had brothers Marion, Newt and Jasper, who served in the Confederate Army; Marion was killed in battle.)

*****

Lelia Marion, daughter of A. S. and F. L. McCain, born 5 May 1863, died 4 September 1868.

*****

Keyezia, wife of William Kennedy, born 25 November 1874, died 10 June 1902. (It is said that in the early settling of the county that this family spelled their name "Kanady". There were two men in this family, one was John Kennedy who lived where Ernest Boyd now lives, and Tom Kennedy who lived at the R. L. Giles place.)

*****

Margaret (Hodges) Lavender, born 22 May 1815, died 28 June 1871 (wife of Robert Lavender. See Bethel Cemetery records for Lavender history.)

*****

There were several other old graves in this cemetery, unmarked and sunken. There are new graves which seem to be Negroes - their church is near by.

(References: Sumter County Court records and unpublished History of Livingston by Dr. R. D. Spratt.)

SPATT CEMETERY

This cemetery is located about three quarters of a mile on the Sumterville Road which turns north off the Livingston-Emelle road near Leslie Nixon's. A crepe myrtle grove has taken over this cemetery which is on the left hand side of the road just before one gets to the Colored church on the opposite side of the road.

There are only six graves in this cemetery, all of them are Spratts. Three little graves in a row are marked "Infants" and are at the foot of a large marker with the name "Spratt" on it. One stone is marked "Walter, son of R. D. and Lillis Spratt"; another is marked "Mary, daughter of R. D. and Lillis Spratt, 1842-1845"; the third is marked "John B. son of R. D. and Lillis Spratt 1845".

According to Dr. R. D. Spratt, grandson of R. D. and Lillis (Barnett) Spratt, they came to Sumter County circa 1839. They had several children to live, viz: Susan who married A. W. Cockrell, James P., a Confederate Soldier who saw the bombardment of Ft. Sumter. He married Mattie Reges and their children were Robert D., Helen who died young, Lewis B. who married Maggie Smith, daughter of Sallie (Ramsey) and T. L. Smith, granddaughter of Thomas and Anne (Berlin) Smith and great granddaughter of William Smith of Virginia. Sallie Ramsay was the daughter of J. Reid Ramsay (see Bethel Cemetery records.) Mr. and Mrs. Lewis B. Spratt are parents of two daughters, Louise and Lillis, the latter married Andy Allison - more about these families in a later volume.

Dr. R. B. Spratt, brother of Lewis B. Spratt was an authority on historical events around Livingston. In the Public Library is an unpublished history - typed, (and a photostatic copy in "Local History", a loose leaf book, in the vault of the Probate Judge's office), of Dr. Spratt's historical recordings. He was, also, an authority on the Choctaw Indian of this locality.

PARKER CEMETERY

This cemetery is also located in the McCainville area and is about a quarter of a mile from the south side of the Livingston-Emelle road in a pasture directly in front of the Frank Campbell home. The cows have knocked some of the stones down, some are broken and some leaning against trees some distance from the graves, others were on the ground and half buried.

Greene and Ezekiel Greene. (Sumter Court Records.)

*****

The stone at the head of Captain James Parker's grave is very fine and is said to have been imported from France. It was shipped to New York and then by coastal boat to Mobile. There it was transferred to a river steamer to Jones' Bluff on the Tombigbee River where it was put on an ox cart and brought over a dirt road to this cemetery. It is a tall but a substantially erected monument. The history of this gravestone shows how hard it was to obtain monuments so no wonder so many graves are unmarked.

TRAVIS CEMETERY

The Travis Cemetery is located on the next plantation just west of the Parker place. It is a few steps from the house which was a lovely old home in its day. It has not been occupied in years so it is about gone. The graves are fenced off from the pasture which surrounds them.

HORN CEMETERY

This cemetery is near Horn's Bridge on the Sucarnoochee River. The road has been abandoned and the bridge has fallen in - it was built by James Horn (Acts 1835, page 102; Virginia Foscue, Place Names Sumter County - a Thesis U. of A. - page 35.) This cemetery could never be found without a guide; it was by the kindness of Mr. Jake W. Dial that we were able to finally, after much search, to find it deep in the woods. There are several sunken unmarked graves; cows have knocked the stones over and they became covered with the loam of the forest.

INSCRIPTIONS

Mary, consort of Harris W. Killen, and daughter of John and Asenath Horn, born 15 September 1811, died 4 May 1848. (John Horn's wife was Asenath Simms. See Old Side Cemetery records for other Horn relationships.)

Infant son of Harris W. and Mary Killen, who was born 22 July 1840, died 24 July 1840. (See Parker Cemetery records for H. W. Killen's 2nd wife.)

(According to the Thomas, Simms and Horn families there were four Horn brothers who moved to Alabama circa 1836, viz: John, Henry, Josiah and Jere. Josiah, a doctor, settled near Mobile; the others came to Sumter County, Alabama. Henry Horn had children: Jacob, Zillah, John, Jere, Henrietta, Nancy, Millicent, Patience and Martha. Henrietta married George W. Bryant and moved to Louisiana; Nancy married Henry Holland; Millicent married Irvine Barnes and went to Leon County, Texas; Patience married W. E. Ellis; John married Patience Simms.

Isaac W. Horn of Brewersville, Sumter County, was a son of Thomas (Tony) Horn, brother of William Horn - their father was Jacob Horn, the immigrant who married Millicent Thomas, the sister of Theophilus Thomas, just after coming to America. Other children of Jacob Horn were: (1) John Horn born 14 September 1778, died 23 September 1841, who married Asenath Simms, born 8 April 1788, died 10 November 1842. Their children were: Sarah born 3 December 1803, died 25 November 1822, married Robert Simms; Patience born 24 May 1805, died 1847, married Morrison Thomas (brother of Bennett B. (2) Henry - already given; (3) Josiah who went to Mobile; (4) Thomas who had son, Harris, (5) Edie, (6) Millicent, (7) Mourning and (8) Patience.

William Horn died in Choctaw County, Alabama circa 1855 at the age of 65 or 70 years of age; he married Nancy Holland in North Carolina. Nancy Holland had a sister Mary and a brother Exum, (whose daughter married Jesse Simms--see Simms records in Old Side Cemetery); William's wife Nancy died in N. C. in 1829 and he married Nancy's sister, a widow, Mrs. Mary Sykes.

Harris Horn's daughter, Martha, married Alfred Bunn in North Carolina - had two children Kate and Fannie.

RHYNE CEMETERY

This cemetery is located near the Mississippi-Alabama line on the Payneville-Lauderdale road, now abandoned. The road followed the old Indian trail used in pre-historic times. It leaves the present used road near the state line and runs due south west. This cemetery lies at the edge of the woods where the old road becomes impassable except as a trail.

When the Choctaw Indians started their long trek west they followed this trail as far as Daleville, Mississippi. There they congregated in preparation for their journey of blood and tears to their new home in Oklahoma.

I located this cemetery too late to do any research on the families buried there. It was by the kindness of W. Jake Dial that this cemetery was located.

DAVIS CEMETERY

This cemetery is located across Sucarnoochee River from old McCainville; and was considered part of that community. W. R. Davis owned this land; and the Danners, the Mirms and the Mellerds were neighbors along the south side of Sucarnoochee in the Horn's Bridge community.

It would be impossible for anyone to give directions to this cemetery. It is deep in the woods on the very bank of the river in a thicket of trees and brambles. We tried to find it by directions but failed so had a Negro who had worked land on that place years before to guide us to it; even then it was hard to find. At one time there were several graves with stones but today there are only three stones left.

INSCRIPTIONS

William R. Davis, born 8 October 1831, died 11 December 1871. (The Sumter County Journal 1871, 27 October, gives his obituary as follows: "Mr. W. R. Davis was a well-to-do planter ... leaves a daughter circa 13 years old -- (note: see Boyd Cemetery for Susan Boyd records) -- and a large circle of friends; he was a generous hearted friend, obedient son, kind father and true friend." He had married Mary Amelia Danner, the daughter of Jacob Getson Danner and wife Elizabeth Boyd (daughter of John and Jane or Jeanett (Dial) Boyd), 29 October 1857. William R. Davis was the son of Samuel Davis who married (2) Susannah Campbell in Greene County, Alabama 11 November 1830. Samuel was in the War of 1812, Private in Capt. Griffin's Company, S. C. Militia - received land certificate #12321 for 80 acres in Alabama. Samuel's will or settlement of the estate is in Probate Records' Book 8 p-113 Sumter County, Alabama. Names James T., as a non-resident. Other children were: John W., Rachel Walton wife of Richard Walton, William R., Headley, Hugh M., (he was captured at Petersburg in Civil War, and he was born 5 March 1836), Mary, Ellen, Amanda C., and Pernicey. Samuel's wife, Susan, was living at the time of his death. According to the 1850 Census William R. was born in 1830, Headley 1834, Hugh M. in 1836, Mary in 1838, Ellen in 1840, and Penny (Pernicia) in 1844. The marriage records show that Headley married Mary Dial 29 July 1869 - no children, but reared Susan daughter of William R.; Hugh M. married A. T. Johnson 6 December 1866; Ellen married Hugh Getson Danner, brother of Mary Amelia Danner who married William R. Davis; and those who married prior to their coming to Sumter County were Rachael who married Richard Walton, and James T. who married Margaret Waine.)

The father of Samuel Davis and grandfather of William R. Davis was Chesley Davis, a Revolutionary Soldier, who died in Abbeville District, South Carolina in 1827. His will may be found at Abbeville Court House, Abbeville, S. C. He named in his will "my children (1) Samuel, (2) Daniel, (3) Littleberry, (4) Gabriel, (5) Jesse, (6) Beulah, (7) Nancy Hepziah, (8) Augustus. After the death of Chesley Davis certain members of his family came to Greene County, Alabama between 1829 and 1831. (Wesley Davis son of Gabriel Davis is said to have been born in S. C. in 1829 and died in Green County Alabama in 1831 -- Family Bible records). Chesley Davis was a soldier in the 3rd South Carolina Regiment, commanded by Col. Thompson - see Folder 14 page 19, Department of Archives, Columbia, South Carolina.

The second wife of Samuel Davis was Susannah Campbell of Greene County, the daughter of David Campbell who was a Revolutionary War Patriot and Soldier as per record A A 1018 acct. 1392-B, Department of Archives, Columbia, S. C. "Mr. Campbell supplied a steer to the militia in 1782 - curr. - E15-0 Int. E2/2/10."

According to Snedecor's Directory of Greene County published about 1855, Davis Campbell came to Greene County, Alabama 1817 and became the first settler in the north west corner of the county at Havana. The Indians held possession at that time to the hills of that part of the county and committed acts of depredation and murder, page 60 of Directory. David Campbell's will is recorded in Book C p-119 Greene County, Signed 7 January 1846 and probated 3 May 1846. Wills possessions to wife Lucretia, to daughter Margaret Aubrey; to daughter Susan Davis wife of Samuel Davis of Sumter County; to son William Campbell of Sumter County; to daughter Jane Fields wife of Elias C. Field; to daughter Cynthia Hall wife of A. J. Hall, to daughter Margaret Aubrey wife of Mr. Aubrey of Itawambee County, Mississippi, to daughter Mary wife of Thomas Elliott, to daughter Elizabeth wife of John Elliott (Elizabeth became the second wife of B. H. Elmore).

The family Bible gives the birth date of Susan or Susannah Campbell who married Samuel Davis as 14 March 1814:

Lucretia, wife of David Campbell, died prior to 1856. Will probated in Book 3 p-426 Greene County and mentions in will "my daughter Susan Davis - to whom she willed her carriage, - my son William Davis, and my daughter Mary Autrey."

*****

Robert G. Danner, son of H. G. and E. G. Danner, born 1860, died 1863.

*****

Susan Danner Danner, daughter of H. G. and E. G. Danner, born 2 February 1864. died 1868.

(The above children were the son and daughter of Hugh G. Danner - son of Jacob Getson Danner and his wife Elizabeth Boyd Danner -- See their gravestone records at Boyd Cemetery -- and his wife Ellen Davis the sister of William R. Davis. These children, Robert G. and Susan Emma were double first cousins of Susan Davis, daughter of William R. Davis and wife of Robert J. Boyd who was her second cousin also.) ### MIMS FAMILY CEMETERY

This Cemetery is located north of the Livingston-Horn Bridge road in the woods. It lies to the west of the Fluxer place. One would have to have a guide to find it. There are only two marked graves in this cemetery. One can see partially covered up stones in a big brush, briar tangled heap. It looks as if a bull dozer pushed up the stones in a pile and the brambles grew over them. Neighborhood Negroes have taken over part of this cemetery and keep their part fairly well cleaned off.

WATSON CEMETERY

This cemetery is located on the Watson place on the banks of the Bodka Creek. As there is a close relation of this family to the community and old Liberty Church near Ramsey I will include them in this book. At one time there was a ford on Bodka just behind the Newton place which connected the Newton, Watson, Rae and Lacy families with the Liberty Church-Ramsey community. (See Boney Cemetery and Old Ramsey histories.)

The Watsons, the Newtons, the Reas, the Wrens and others were travelling through in a wagon train for points west when Mr. Watson fell from his wagon and broke his leg. This band of travellers decided to camp on the spot for the winter. They liked the place so they made their permanent homes on the banks of Eodoka.

Jaret Watson came to Sumter County from Marengo County where he married Judy Holt 6 February 1821, page 14 Book 1, Marengo County, Alabama. #### JOHN EVANDER BROWN FAMILY CEMETERY

"The Cedars", Sumterville.

This cemetery is located on the right side of the drive, leading from the old Sumterville-McCainville road, to the John E. Brown home now occupied by his great granddaughter, Mrs. Burton G. (Julia Praytor) Killingsworth. This lovely old home, built in 1848, is known as "The Cedars" as the drive way was lined on either side by stately old cedars imported into the community from old Jones Bluff. A cyclone in the 1950's uprooted all these trees and took the roof off the old house but did not destroy the lovely heirlooms which have been handed down in the family for generations.

JONES FAMILY CEMETERY

This cemetery is located about 2 miles north of Emelle and west of Highway #17 about a mile. It is on an impassable plantation road except in very dry weather. And it is almost impossible to find it except by guide. There is a high brick wall around this cemetery - in perfect condition; the bricks made by slave labor. After the death of Dr. Jones and his wife, and two of his sons dead, Mr. Philip Willingham had charge of this plantation with its 100 slaves. At the present Mr. R. H. Darrah, a relative, has it in charge. Several of the descendants of the old Jones slaves still live on this place. See Township 20 for more history of this family.

DILLARD FAMILY CEMETERY

This cemetery is located north of old Ramsey Station about a couple of miles, and near the south bank of Bodka Creek. It is very hard to get to as one has to go through pastures. The roads are rough in dry weather and like goo in wet weather. The first time I saw this cemetery it was well kept by Osborn Jones, a colored man. Since his death the stones are knocked over, and buried in the ground. My son, Henry Jenkins, had to dig them out of the soil. They were hard for us to locate even we thought we knew exactly where to look.

Dr. Dillard was one of the first doctors of his section, along with Dr. B. A. Jones. He married a sister of W. O. and J. M. Winston, so the Dillard history will be given in Vol. 2. "Pioneer Families of Sumter County," along with the Winston history.

Watson W. Dillard, born 22 June 1843, died 14 August 1856.

(I believe there were other stones in this cemetery but they could not be located. Perhaps they are buried quite deep as it looked as if a bull dozer had pushed trees over the graves and then burned.)

NICHOLAS LACY CEMETERY

This cemetery is located about a mile in front of the A. G. Boyd place on the old Emelle-Livingston road. The Lacy place is now owned by Mr. Jake Dial. The old cemetery is in a pasture. We had to walk about to get to it and even then could find only pieces of two stones which were partially covered with sod. We had to have a guide to show us where the graves were. There are signs of perhaps a dozen graves.

Inscriptions

Nicholas Lacy, born 4 October 1790, died 20 July 1858.

Mary Lacy, born 1793, died 26 June 1843.

( The 1850 Census gives Nicholas Lacy as Family 344, and he was 59 born in South Carolina, Asta M. Lacy was 26 and born in Alabama, Carline Lacy was 19 and born in Alabama, Sara Lacy was 17 and born in Alabama, Feriby Darden was 24 and born in Alabama (Feriby Lacy married John Darden 9 May 1843 in Sumter County, Alabama. Benjamin Bustiant was 10 and born in Alabama, Frely Jones was 30 and born in North Carolina.)

BROWNING CEMETERY

This Cemetery is located about 2 miles north of Emelle on the right side of the road, not far from where the Ramner road leaves High Way #17. It has grown up in bushes; some stones have fallen down and one of them is broken. One would have to have a guide to get to this cemetery because the growth is so dense the graves would be hard to find. There is part of an old picket fence still leaning against the brambles after the passing of a century since it was put there.

Inscriptions

John Bailey Browning, born 21 November 1831, died 12 August 1869. (He was the son of John and Clary (Classie) Browning. He attended the University of Alabama and graduated in Medicine in Philadelphia. He fought in the Civil War and afterward he practiced medicine with a doctor in the neighborhood, Dr. Chouteux. Later Chouteux became a scallywag, cohort of Billings, the notorious carpetbagger. The two of them incited the Freemen against the whites; the situation became so acute until the white people under the leadership of Dr. Browning, Mr. Sledge, the Richardson brothers and many more attempted to stop their dastardly, insidious acts of degradation on the whites. The outcome of which was the murder of Dr. Browning by Coblitz, body guard of Dr. Chouteux after Yankee Ben (Chouteux' former guard) was killed. (See Richardson history.)

Elizabeth C. Browning, born 1829, died 1853.

J. H. Handley, born 24 November 1846, died 3 September 1853.

Schaharrissa B. Handley, born --- dates not readable .. (Schaharrissa Browning married Peter Handley 13 May 1845. After her death Peter Handley married Miss L. S. --Louisiana or Lou -- Hutchins of Sumterville - see Methodist Cemetery records.

Classie - Clary - or Schaharrissa Anderson married John Browning in Marengo County, Alabama 25 December 1823. Bailey W. Anderson was bondsman. She was a cousin of Catina (Anderson) Thomas - see Boney Cemetery records - my late husband, Bertram Andrews Jenkins, has told me many times that his great aunt Catina used to tell him about "Cousin Clary Browning" and related to him the killing of John Bailey Browning; she said also that when the Brownings left here some of Dr. Browning's medical books were left with "Aunt Cat". These books were burned about 50 years ago, however. Clary Browning was closely related to William G. Anderson, Sumter County's first Probate Judge.

The 1850 Census shows the Browning family as follows: John Browning age 50 born in Georgia, Clary Browning age 47 born in Kentucky, John (Bailey) Browning aged 18 born in Alabama, Martha J. aged 15 born in Alabama, John H. Handley age 3 born in Alabama.)

"THE SUMTER COUNTY WHIG" 1840 - 1845

Died 27 October 1843, Mrs. Elizabeth Anderson, consort of William Anderson, Sen., Esq., in the 73rd year of her age. She was born in South Carolina in 1770; she was married to Mr. Anderson at the age of 16; a Baptist. She left many children, grandchildren and great grandchildren to mourn her death. The Andersons left North Carolina early in the 1800's and joined other members of their families in Kentucky. He went home with half dozen friends, ate a hearty supper and soon after without a sigh, moan or a groan he dropped to the floor a helpless corpse. He was a zealous and devoted friend; a kind and affectionate husband, father and master; he was emphatically an honest man. He had children, grandchildren and great grandchildren to mourn his death. (Mr. Anderson's son, William G(owen?) Anderson was Sumter County's first Probate Judge; helped to organize the county and also helped to decide the location of the county seat. A letter published in 1836 Voice of Sumter Newspaper from John B. Stevenson, headed San Augustine, Tex., 24 March 1836, stated that he, Judge W.G. Anderson and R.W. Caldwell were "travelling West" together and that Geo. W. Mason was with main army under Houston. William and Elizabeth Anderson's children were: 1) John Erwin Anderson who married Cynthia D. Harper in Clark County, Alabama 10 August 1816; 2) Caroline M. Anderson who married (1) Henry Walker (2) Elisha Lacy (See Boney Cemetery Records); 3) Dorcas Anderson who married Eli Davis 24 September 1819 Clark County, Alabama; 4) Mary Burns Anderson who married Alexander Birdsong in Marengo County, Alabama 18 February 1819; 5) Bailey W. Anderson who married (1) Isabel Corzine in Sumter County, Alabama 20 August 1833, (2) to Mrs. Elizabeth Taylor ca 1846 in Texas; 8) Albert Gallatin Anderson (Sumter County's first Tax Collector) married (1) Mary Ann Moore the niece of G.W. Harper's wife--she was a descendant of Hance Hamilton, Rev. Soldier, and (2) to Mary Develin Drummond, a wealthy widow, both in Sumter County in 1834 July 23, and 1844 February 9, respectively. Vandyke; Amanda Davis married Jackson Ward (See her obituary in Sumter County Whig); Franklin W. Davis; John E. Davis; William B. Davis; Elisha L. Davis; Jane Davis who married Gray E. Scales; Eli Davis; and Dorcas Davis.

William Anderson was first cousin of Robert Anderson for who Anderson County, South Carolina was named; William's parents were John and Ann (Erwin) Anderson--Ann's parents were Matthew Erwin and wife of Augusta County, Virginia; John Anderson's parents were James and Jean Anderson who immigrated from Scotland to Philadelphia, Penn., thence to Augusta County, Virginia. William Anderson was closely related to John Anderson of Greenville County, South Carolina, who was killed along with his sons Joshua and Scarlett and from whom Vincent Anderson, who died 7 April 1823 in Sumter County, was descended.

CHAPTER VII

TRACT BOOK RECORDS

Township 20N., Range 2 West

Sumterville is in the extreme eastern edge of this township, in section 13. The sections begin with 1 in the extreme north eastern corner of the township, and of course the sections are one mile square; there are six sections east and west, so section #7 is directly under section #6 and section #12 is just below section #1. There are 36 sections in a township. Keeping this in mind, one may make a chart showing just where each person settled.

Section #1

John Chambers, Jesse H. Hutchins, Thomas H. Hutchins and Matthew Newton patented land in this section; they received their certificate numbers in the fall of 1834 as did those who were in the first wave of immigrants. Some of these people had been on the land since 1831. Matthew Newton and his wife Leah sold their 160 acres to Thomas Ormond, or Uncle Tom, as all the young people called him. He never married but reared a number of nephews and nieces. At his death, caused by a fall from a wagon, he left each kinsman some land (See Old Side Cemetery Records). The history of Thomas H. and Jesse H. Hutchins may be found in the Methodist Cemetery Records, Sumterville.

Section #2

Brooks H. Davis, Elizabeth Darnell, John L. Davis and Reuben Davidson each patented 160 acres in section #2. The two Davis men married sisters of Elizabeth Darnell, they were daughters of John Holland, Revolutionary War soldier, who patented land in section #6 of Township 20, Range 2 West which was a little more than one mile due east of where his daughters lived. Brooks H. Davis and John L. Davis were sons of Brooks H. Davis, Sr., and his wife Sara Lacy Davis. Brooks H. Davis, Sr., was a Rev. war soldier who died in Kentucky in 1814. He is believed to have been a brother or close relative of Chesley Davis who also had children in Sumter County. They both were in South Carolina during the Revolution, both soldiers, and they had children and grandchildren with the same names. (See Campbell and Susan Davis Boyd for Chesley Davis line.) Sara Lacy Davis wife of Brooks H. Davis, Sr., is buried in Centennial Cemetery, near Carthage, Texas. Inscription reads: born in Virginia 4 February 1777, died in Texas 29 January 1859. She is thought to be the daughter of William Hughes Lacy and granddaughter of Stephen Lacy of Goochland County, Virginia. The other children of Brooks H. Davis, Sr., were William H. Davis who married Frances --, Stephen Lacy Davis born 1798 and married Huldah Anderson, Sara Davis born in Kentucky 16 October 1803, died in Texas 1866, married William Holland, Eli Davis died before 1840, married Dorcas Anderson, in Clark County, Alabama 1819, Avarilla Davis born 1808 in Kentucky and married William Pearson, Archibald B. Davis born in Kentucky, married Charity Thompson, and Austin L. Davis born 1815 (posthumous) in Kentucky and died 1833 (Bible record of Brooks H. Davis, Jr. Bible is owned by Miss Miriam Dozier of Austin, Texas.

The mother of the above children came to Marengo County, Alabama with her kith and kin where she reared her family but in the meantime she married James Murray, also a Rev. War soldier. They removed to Bluff Port, Sumter County, Alabama. She after the death of James Murray, followed her children to Texas.

Brooks H. Davis Jr., born 20 October 1804, died August 1894, his wife Penecy Holland was born 27 February 1804, died 8 December 1873. They were parents of: (1) Avarilla Davis born 10 February 1827, died in Gainesville, Alabama. (See Odd Fellows' Cemetery in another volume), married (1) Mr. Haden of Panola County, Texas and (2) William Thomas Nance born in Va., 24 September 1824, (see Odd Fellows' Cemetery, Gainesville, Alabama in another volume). Their daughter, Ella Nance, was born 17 March 1859, died in Avin, Texas 1897, married 25 December 1879 to William Allen Ward Dozier who was born in Cathage, Texas 21 February 1856, died in Harrisburg, Texas 27 September 1911. They had children: Robert, Henry, Thomas Bailey, Algernon Brooks, Fannie Lucie, Whittie Miriam, Willie Avarilla, Ward Allen and unnamed twin, Earl Vernon and Ella. (2) John L. Davis born in Marengo County, Alabama 1826 and died 1842; (3) William H. John Le Davis, brother of Brooks H. Davis Jr., married Dorcas Holland, daughter of John Holland, Rev. War soldier, 1 February 1829. John Le Davis was born 1811 in Kentucky. The children of this union were: Arch M. Davis, Sara C. Davis, William C. Davis, Celestine Davis, Asbury M. Davis, Margaret Davis. This family was in Panola County, Texas as shown in the 1850 Census. Also living with this family at that time were Dorcas Davis, daughter of Eli and Dorcas (Anderson) Davis, and Jane Holland the widow of John Holland. Jane was 80 years old at the time.

Section #3

William W. Kerr, Benjamin J. Mitchell, Thomas Harper, and Reuben Davidson patented all the land in this section. Reuben Davidson soon sold his land to J. C. Whitsett, no other name but his on the deed. Thomas Harper sold his land to Peter M. Roberts. He was not married, evidently, as no one signed the deed with him.

William W. Kerr received his certificate, #2458, 17 October 1834, but he was certainly here two years prior to that date, as were all the others who settled in this township. All the early settlers received their certificates the fall of 1834, and they got the deeds from Washington in 1837, signed by Martin Van Buren. William Kerr married Sara Dial, daughter of Jennett (Spence) and David Montgomery Dial, 25 January 1825 in Greene County, Alabama, in a double ceremony with her sister Nancy Dial and Benjamin J. Mitchell whose land cornered the land of William Kerr's in Township 20 Range 3 West in Sumter County. The 1850 Census for Sumter County shows this family as:

Mr. Campbell after coming to Kentucky.

John W. Kerr married Margaret Dial, sister of Sara Dial who married William W. Kerr. This family lived in Sumter County until 1853 when they removed to St. Louis, Missouri. The 1850 Census gives this family as:

Section #5

William Brown, James McCown, John Harrick and Jennett Dial, widow, and children, Margaret Kerr, Elizabeth Fulton, Joseph R. Dial, Nancy Mitchell, Sara Kerr, Mary Dial, John Dial, Rebecca Dial, Jeremiah Dial, James C. and William Dial patented the land in this section. David Montgomery Dial, husband of Jennett (Spence) Dial died in the early fall of 1834, so the certificate was made to his widow. The 1850 Census of Sumter County shows this family as follows:

Name	Age	Born
Dial, Jennett	67	South Carolina
Jeremiah	27	Alabama
James C.	24	"

Jennett (Spence) Dial and Summer Dial were sisters-in-law, as their husbands David Montgomery Dial and Jeremiah Dial III were sons of John Dial who was the son of Jeremiah Dial of South Carolina. The two brothers and their families settled in Sumter County; their aunt, Jane or Jennett (Dial) Boyd married John Boyd. The three families are remotely related, today after 130 years since leaving South Carolina they still claim relationship and know their lines of descent. (See Dial and Boyd in Boyd Cemetery and Dial in Sumterville Cemetery.)

Jennett (Spence) and David Montgomery Dial's son, Joseph R. Dial, married Emily A. E. Woodard, daughter of Charity (Simms) Woodard (See Bethel Cemetery Records) and her husband Felix W. Woodward 27 August 1845. It was E. Dial (son of Joseph R. and Emily Dial) who gave the land for the depot at Emelle; and the town was named for his daughter, Emelle Dial.

The 1850 Census shows: Joseph R. Dial as 39 born in South Carolina, Emily A., 20 born in North Carolina, and Emma 3 born in Alabama.

The 1850 Census shows:

Name	Age	Born
Dial, John	31	South Carolina
Elizabeth	26	Alabama
Sara F.	7	"
Mary J.	4	"

Rebecca Dial married 31 January 1843 to George Rix. (See Bethel Cemetery Records.)

Julia Emaline, granddaughter of David Montgomery Dial, married Dr. Wm. Webb and his daughter Betty married Hon. John Sharp Williams, a noted U. S. Senator from Mississippi.

William Brown who settled the E 1/2 of the NE 1/4 of section 5 sold to Thomas Long, with only his signature on the deed.

John Hamrick sold his part of this section to John Long, with only his signature.

James McCown patented land in several townships. He married Charlotte Greene, daughter of Daniel Greene, 27 July 1841. (See Parker Cemetery Records and Daniel Greene land patent.)

Section #6

Julius Kirkland, John J. Burton and Mrs. Sara Anderson, patented land in this section. Julius Kirkland and Mary, his wife, sold his land to Benjamin A. Jones (Doctor) of Franklin County, (Va.). This was on 13 January 1837. Dr. Jones acquired a large acreage in Township 21 Range 3 west. As this was about the first land he bought I will give you his record here. He died in the late 1850's (See Jones Cemetery Records.) and named his son John Cross Jones and his son-in-law Simmons H. Giles as the administrators of the estate. He left money to the University of the South, (Gainesville Presbyterian Church received $1,000, according to their church minutes). He asked that three of his slaves, Clark aged 55, Moley aged 15 and Manson aged 42 be given the "privileges of freedom without the disadvantages of being free" so provided for their welfare. He provided for his son John Cross Jones but stipulated that at the death of the son the property would go to Maria F. Giles, his daughter for whom he also provided for. He further stipulated his desire to always keep the land in the family, and if ever sold to be sold to members of the family either by blood or by marriage as he had buried his wife in the family cemetery and expected to be buried there himself. The will was signed 27 September 1858 and probated 11 April 1859, Will Book 2-161. Mr. Philip Willingham took over the management of this large plantation after the death of Dr. Jones. The 1866 Census shows there were 107 slaves on this Jones place. Mr. Giles, the husband of Maria F. operated large holdings across the line in Mississippi from the old Ramsey area. Their daughter married Mr. Shep Neville of Giles, Mississippi between Scooba and the State line. Mr. Shep Neville had two children, Maria who married Mr. Brown of Meridian, Mississippi and they live in Texas. Spencer married Margaret ---- of Texas and they live at the old Giles place near Scooba, Mississippi.

John J. Burton bought much land in several different Townships. An indenture in Deed Book A in 1836 shows that John J. Burton owed William Burwell of Franklin County, Virginia, so certain slaves were assigned him through Armisted Burwell and John Taylor Lomax of Marengo County, Alabama. This was about the time or just after John J. Burton's death. The estate of J. J. Burton was finally settled in 1838 and it shows he had only two children, viz: James C. Burton and Lucinda Burton Carter, wife of Churchwell Carter. His wife Nancy must have died in 1835 as she was not mentioned in the settlement; but she signed a deed along with John J. Burton, her husband, when they sold their land to Allen Harrison on 28 September 1835 - John Long and his wife Elizabeth were co-signers of this deed as they were joint owners of this land.

Sara Anderson, widow of Vincent Anderson, received the certificate for her land, in place of her husband who died soon after their removal from Marengo County. See Boney Cemetery records.

Sara Anderson patented land in Sections 6 and 35 in Township 20 Range 3 West. Her husband, Vincent Anderson, died in 1833 after they came to Sumter County from Marengo County in 1832, (see Sumter County Orphans' Minute Book 1 pages 54, 60, 66), when his cousin, William G. Anderson was Judge of the Probate Court of Sumter County. Vincent's brother, Alexander Anderson, and Sara's brother, John Holland Jenkins, were administrators of the estate. The Andersons, brothers and cousins, left Greenville District, South Carolina about 1799 and went to Kentucky and even to Missouri. In this wagon train were other relatives, viz: the Hollands, Jenkins, Darnells, Lacys and others. They did not like the climate of Missouri so came to Marengo County, Alabama. One the way back they picked up the Cherrys and others. They settled in Marengo and Greene Counties Alabama about 1819. We find records of them in Marengo County in 1820. Vincent's and Sara's first child was born in Alabama in 1821.

Vincent Anderson's grandfather was John Anderson who was killed in the Revolutionary War. John Anderson's wife was named Sara. They had several sons, two of whom, Joshua and Scarlett, were killed in the war along with their father.

Family tradition says that some of the Anderson cousins went from Kentucky to Texas. Some of the Jenkins families stayed in or near Springfield, Missouri. We do know that after the death of her husband, Vincent, Sara Anderson wrote her brother in Missouri to send one of his boys to her to look after her holdings. Dominico Jenkins came to his aunt and later married her daughter, Melvira Anderson. (See Jenkins records Boney Cemetery.) Sara (Jenkins) Anderson's mother, Mrs. Susan Jenkins, came to Marengo County and on to Sumter County with some of her children. She lived with her daughter Sara Anderson in Section 6. Mrs. Susan Jenkins' son, John Holland Jenkins, settled in Section 7, which land joined hers. Other members of the Anderson and Jenkins families went to Texas when they left Marengo County, Alabama.

Vincent and Sara (Jenkins) Anderson had the following children as shown in the 1850 Census of Sumter County, Alabama: Narsissa 29 born Alabama, William S. 20 born Alabama, Catina 18 born Alabama. It shows Sara 49 born Kentucky and her mother Susan Jenkins 89 born Virginia. The family Bible shows a son John Alexander Anderson born 182-.

Section #7

William Thomas Simms, Holland Jenkins, Austin Lacy, Jacob T. Bridges and Mason Tyson patented the land in this section.

Holland Jenkins' land joined the land of Mrs. Sara Anderson, and it was directly south and across the road from her. They were brother and sister. The record on their sister's gravestone states that she (their sister, Susan Cherry) was the daughter of J. and S. Jenkins. So Susan, Sara, Holland, and at least one brother who went on to Springfield, Mo. about the time the rest of the family came to Marengo County, Alabama were brothers and sisters. Edward Jenkins in Marengo County is thought to have been a brother, also. He had a son John Holland Jenkins who went to Texas with his parents when very young. He wrote or kept a diary during the frontier struggles of early Texas. His great grandson, John Holmes Jenkins recently published a book taking the diary as the basis for his work. The Hollands, Jenkins and Andersons had intermarried for a generation or two prior to their removal to Marengo and Sumter Counties. There was a Dominico Holland, a Revolutionary Soldier in South Carolina. The Jenkins brother who went to Missouri had a son, Dominico, who came to Sumter County and married his cousin, Melvira Anderson. Holland Jenkins married Letty Anderson in Marengo County, Alabama 6 August 1827, by John Holland Jenkins, and with Vincent Anderson security. This Holland Jenkins land is now owned by Nelle Morris Jenkins.

William Thomas Simms patented the land lying directly to the east of the Holland Jenkins land. He was born in Edgecombe County, North Carolina.

in 1807 and died of pneumonia at his home at Old Ramsey, Alabama. He received his land patent certificate in the fall of 1834 (see Tract Book, Sumter County.) His grandson, Roland Epes Simms, lives on the land his grandfather patented. William Thomas Simms married (1) Harriett Gray, aunt of the late Hon. Oscar Gray, ex-congressman from the Mobile-Washington-Choctaw District. W. T. and Harriett (Gray) Simms were the parents of (1) Mary Leslie, died infant, (2) William who died young, (3) Asa, (4) John, (5) Sallie who married a Mr. Graham and died soon afterward, (6) Emm, (7) Edith who died young, (8) Leroy, (9) Henry and (10) Benjamin - the three last named little boys died the same night of meningitis. A couple of years later the mother, Harriett, and another son, William, died of the same disease, but two nights apart. Asa married his second cousin, Mary Bell, of Dallas County, Alabama. She was the daughter of Rev. Elijah and Laura (Grice) Bell who married 19 October 1853 (Marriage Book 2 page 208). Asa and his wife Mary (Bell) Simms had the following children: Leslie who never married died in 1956, Mary not married, Julia who married Mr. Hamilton and are the parents of two girls, Susan is Mrs. Spain, no issue.

It is thought that Mason Tyson never lived in Sumter County but bought land here. He married Elizabeth Pate in Marengo County, Alabama 30 March 1830. He and his wife sold their land in this section to Alfred Yarbrough February 1836.

Austin Lacy patented land in this section also. (See Lacy history in Boney Cemetery records)

Section #8

Joseph R. Dial patented land in this section adjoining the land of William Thomas Simms in section 7. He was the son of David Montgomery Dial and his wife Jennett (Spence) Dial. (See Methodist Cemetery Records, Sumterville). He married Emily A. E. Woodward, daughter of Felix H. and Charity (Simms) Woodward - see Bethel and Old Side Cemetery Records. Emily was the niece of William T. Simms. Joseph R. Dial was one of the earliest surveyors in North Sumter County. The records shows he surveyed the Sara Anderson land in 1837. Joseph R. Dial was the father of Ed Dial who gave land for the depot at Emelle, and the town was named for his daughter, Emelle Dial. The 1850 Census shows him as head of family 376 and shows him as 39 and born in South Carolina. Emily was 20 and born in North Carolina. Their baby was Emma aged 3 years.

Sara White patented 80 acres of land next to Joseph R. Dial.

Jason Watson patented the land in South East Quarter of this section.

John Anderson patented the SW $\frac{1}{4}$  of Section 8. He was in Marengo County prior to his removal to Sumter County; it is believed that he was the brother of Vincent Anderson. He and his wife Cassa Anderson sold this land to John Jackson in 1835, and prior to that they sold some of the land to John J. Burton. There was another Cassa Anderson who married Furney Manley in Marengo County, Alabama 23 March 1830.

Section #9

This section was taken up by John W. Kerr (see section #3), Jeremiah Horne and William Darnell.

Jeremiah Horne is said to have married twice, to two Grice sisters. It is a known fact among all the Grice, Thomas, Simms, and Horn relatives living in Sumter County today that they are related through intermarriage. See Horn Cemetery and Old Side Cemetery for other Horn records.

William Darnell patented the E $\frac{1}{2}$  of SW $\frac{1}{4}$  and W $\frac{1}{2}$  of SW $\frac{1}{4}$  of this section. He sold some of his land to Joseph R. Dial in 1840, with no signature but his to the deed. There is a record of a William Darnell's marriage to Jeanette D. Gill 28 May 1840. She was the granddaughter of Joseph Dobbs. Some of the Darnells and Andersons were related. Winter Payne Darnell was a cousin of Melvira (Anderson) Jenkins. It is said he was called "Tump". His family went to Kemper County, Mississippi around Hopewell, west of DeKalb. Among those buried there are: Herbert Crofton Darnell born 1800 and died 1902. He was the son of R. W. and W. M. Darnell. John Darnell was born 1824 and died 1888. The above Darnells once lived in Sumter County. Thomas Darnell and wife Schaharrissa Darnell sold some of the land William Darnell patented, to Joseph R. Dial 26 January 1841. I believe it was this Thomas Darnell who married an Anderson, was probably closely related to both Classie Anderson Browning and to Vincent Anderson; Classie A. Browning had a daughter by the same name who married Peter Handley. This being true then Winter Payne "Tump" Darnell was the son of Thomas Darnell.

Section #10

Edmund R. Rhodes, John W. Kerr, David R. Wilson and Thomas Phillips patented land in this section. See John W. Kerr history under section #3.

David R. Wilson sold this land to Albert G. Dancy 10 January 1838. His wife was named Sara E.

Thomas Phillips and his wife Cyndrilla sold their land in this section.

Section #11

Those who patented land in this section were Charles Wall, Reuben Davidson, Hugh Wall and David J. Wilson.

Hugh Wall was the father of Charles Wall. Hugh died Intestate; settlement in Orphans' Records Book 3 125, Book 4 page 206 and names heirs, Sara E. Wilson wife of David R. Wilson of Giles County, Tennessee; Mary wife of John W. Bodenhammer of Giles County, Tennessee; Charles L. Wall of Louisiana and minor heirs: Peter Bodenhammer heir of Franklin Bodenhammer and Franklin Wall 12 years, both beyond the limits of the State of Alabama.

Section #12

This section brings us to the one just north of Sumterville, and William Holland, Drury Jackson, Ephram Jackson and Lemmon Ward patented this entire section.

William Holland was the son of John Holland, Revolutionary Soldier who patented land in Section 6, Township 20, Range 2 West which was a little more than a mile from William's land. He is named in his father's will which is recorded in Sumter County. William Holland married Sary Davis in Marengo County, Alabama, 11 September 1821, Austin Lacy security. Sara (Sary) Davis born 16 October 1803, died 1866 in Texas was the daughter of Brooks M. Davis and wife Sara Davis. William Holland was born 19 November 1801 in Kentucky and died 28 June 1873. Both are buried in Centennial Cemetery, near Carthage, Texas. They had children as follows: Eli, Brooks, Thomas, William, Elizabeth, Amanda, Pinkney, Avarilla (married John B. Lacy), Pernecy (who married B. B. Lacy), and John who married Elizabeth Collier in Sumter County; there was also a daughter named Susan who married Henry J. Darnell. William Holland sold out to Samuel Speight 20 November 1843 Deed Book G - page 694.

Another son of John Holland was Anderson Holland who married Elizabeth Rainer in Marengo County, Alabama on 6 September 1821, Garrison Anderson, J.P. They had children: Bluford (who married Charlotte A. Davis 8 March 1845 - Marriage Book 1 page 319, Sumter County), F. M., William C. Vincent, Dulcinea, Ann. This Anderson Holland was dead in 1842 when John Holland's will was probated as he named the above children as "the children of my son Anderson Holland." F. M. Holland married Tilitha Riggins.

Drury Jackson patented 160 acres (SW $\frac{1}{4}$ ) in this section. He also bought land from Matthew A. and Leah Newton; and he sold some land to Lemmon Ward. Drury's wife was named Willy. Drury was in Marengo County, Alabama in the 1820's.

Lemmon Ward (Laran) patented land in SE $\frac{1}{4}$  of this section.

Ephram Jackson and wife Rhoda sold part of their land to Dempsey Cockrell. Ephram died 1840. Rhoda, the widow, and Seaborn his brother, were administrators of the estate. See Orphans' Book 2 page 88. Ephram and Hiram held land jointly. Ephram, Hiram, Seaborn, Jacinth, and William were sons of Randall Jackson who died in 1839; however William had died prior to his father's death and left a son John R. Jackson. When Randall Jackson's estate was settled (page 249 - Book 2) the administrator stated all had been given their shares except the "estate of Ephram Jackson." (See Sumterville Methodist Cemetery and Old Side Cemetery records for more Jackson history.)

Section #13

This is the section in which Sumterville is located. Joseph B. Jones, James L. Hutchins, Nicholas Keating, Zacheus Wilson patented this land. Joseph Jones owned the land where Sumterville lies. He sold some of it to William Patton. He married Margaret Patton 11 July 1834, supposedly the daughter of William Patton. She must have died before 1838 when William Patton died as he mentioned his wife, Eliza, a daughter Cynthia Meyers and son William S. Patton, a student, in his will.

See Methodist Cemetery for history of James L. Hutchins.

Nicholas Keating - no history to date.

Zacheus Wilson - no history to date.

Section #14

Terrance (Terry) Foy, Davis and Piester Foy patented all the land in this section. Davis Foy was born in South Carolina about 1811 according to the 1850 Census. His wife was Eliza Amason and born in North Carolina about 1829; they married 28 March 1849 and had one child, Thomas T. who was 3 months old in 1850. Davis Foy's mother Nancy Foy was 67 at that time and was living in the home of her son. See Old Side Cemetery Records for Foy history.

Section #15

Davis Foy, Jeremiah Horne, Jabes Evans and Laman Ward patented the land in this section; the first two have been mentioned elsewhere, as has Laman Ward.

Jabes Evans - no history to date.

Section #16

Every 16th Section in the State of Alabama belonged to the schools, but under the terms of the Treaty of Dancing Rabbit Creek this 16th Section was received in trust by Anthony Winston for Daniel Green.

Section #17

Those who patented land in this section were Charity Pyle, Elizabeth Ann Pyle, Samuel B. Jackson, John E. Anderson, and Malachi Nettles.

Samuel Jackson sold his land to Zachariah Nettles 19 December 1835, no name on the deed but his. Zachariah Nettles married Mary A. Staggs 13 December 1841. Mary was the daughter of Zachariah Staggs according to marriage license in Book 1, Sumter County.

Malachi Nettles - no history to date.

John E. Anderson was the son of William and Elizabeth Anderson whose obituaries are in The Sumter County Whig. He was a brother of William G. Anderson, Sumter County's first Probate Judge. John Erwin Anderson was born circa 1796, in Greenville County, South Carolina, and died 1848, in Panola County, Texas. His wife was Cynthia D. Harper (sister of Sumter County's first Sheriff) born in Georgia 1798 and died after 1870. John E. Anderson appraised the property of Mason L. Anderson in 1838 - Alexander Anderson and Holland Jenkins were administrators of estate. John E. Anderson was security for Calvin Anderson in Marengo County, Alabama when Calvin married Bella Silman in 1824; in 1820 he was security in the marriage between William Mitchell and Sophia Lane in Marengo County; he and his wife Cynthia sold land to William Browning in 1828 and to John D. Collen in 1831, both of Marengo County. They sold land in Sumter County to John J. (or L.) Burton in 1838. John E. and Cynthia Anderson had a daughter Permilla who married Lewis L. Parham.

The Pyles patented land in other Townships in the county. More about them later.

Section #18

John Jackson, George W. Harper, David Jarrell, Alfred Yarbrough and James McCown patented the land in this section. It seems that those with money bought land anywhere in the county as an investment. After the land was cleared and a cabin built it could be sold for large profit. David Jarrell and his wife Mahala soon sold this land to Alfred Yarbrough. Ellender Jarrell, the daughter of David Jarrell married Stephen Grice 25 June 1843, John Grice security. John Jackson and wife Willy sold this land to Malachi Nettles and his land in Range 4 West of Township 20 to Alexander Birdsong.

Alfred Yarbrough was in Marengo County, Alabama before Sumter County was opened for settlement. In 1826 he sold land in Marengo County to Elish Yarbrough; and we find that Elish Yarbrough gave or deeded some land to Lydia Yarbrough in 1825. "in consideration of natural affection and love I bear Lydia Yarbrough". It has not been determined just who were the parents of Alfred Yarbrough but to quote from a letter from G. W. Yarbrough, who has spent a life time tracing Yarbrough families says, to E. R. Hester of Arcadia, Louisiana: "Your Elizabeth Yarbrough Hester was a close relative of Alfred Yarbrough who settled in Sumter County; and they are of the group from whom Mrs. Nelle M. Jenkins is descended through Zachariah Yarbrough of Amelia County, Virginia and North Carolina". He went on to say that John Yarbrough Sr., was either an uncle or brother of Zachariah, and that John's wife was Mary and that John Jr. lived in Person County, N. C.

We believe that Randolph Hester, the husband of Elizabeth Yarbrough, knew the Yarbroughs of Troup County, Georgia, as there is an indenture in Sumter County between Randolph Hester and others of that Georgia County. (See Boney Cemetery records for other Hester history.)

There were two other sets of Yarbroughs in the early settling of Sumter County. One was William Yarbrough, brother of Manoah Yarbrough of St. Clair County, who came to Alabama through Tennessee, St. Clair County, Alabama, Greene County, Alabama and he had children George, Richard, Harvey, William C., Margaret Y. May, Mary Y. May (wives of John and Walter May, respectively), Temperance G. Watkins -- see Orphans' Book 2 page 181, and Orphans' Book 3 page 265, Sumter County, Alabama. Harvey Yarbrough married a Miss Miller from Kemper County, Mississippi - a daughter of Dr. Miller who is said to have lived near old Moscow, in that county. These Yarbroughs all went to Smith County, Texas and lived as neighbors to George, Wiley, Burk and other Littleton Yarbrough (of St. Clair County, Alabama) children who called each other "cousin". Littleton Yarbrough was the son of Manoah and Mary (Cunningham) Yarbrough and the grandson of Zachariah Yarbrough.

Hon. Ralph Yarbrough, Senator from Texas, is the grandson of Harvey Yarbrough who moved from Sumter County to Tyler, Texas. Mrs. Mary Yarbrough Herrin Adams, widow of W. T. Adams and daughter of Margaret Yarbrough who married W. H. Herrin (she was daughter of Littleton Yarbrough of St. Clair County, Alabama), told me in 1952 in Austin, Texas, that she knew the Hon. Ralph Yarbrough's forebears in Tyler, Texas and "we were related even though we spelled the name Yarbrough differently." Mrs. Adams was 84 at the time. The name Yarbrough in Sumter County records is spelled Yarbrough, Yarbrough, Yarbrow, Yarber and Yarbre. Even brothers have been known to put an extra "o" in the name or to leave one out. Mrs. Svec of Houston, Texas is descended from Richard and Leanna (Brazile) Yarbrough. George Yarbrough married (1) a Miss Wyatt and (2) Ada Amazon of Sumter County, Alabama. He also removed to Tyler, Texas and was neighbor to George Yarbrough, the 49er, a son of Littleton and Nancy (Ashcraft) Yarbrough of St. Clair County, Alabama. William H. Yarbrough, son of Charles, and grandson of Thomas (brother of Manoah formerly of Rowan County, N.C. and later of St. Clair County, Alabama) was also a neighbor of the other two sets of Yarbroughs and all claimed relationship. I have copies of letters written almost a century ago telling about members of these families - the above George Yarbrough, the 49er, was the great uncle of Nelle Morris Jenkins.

The other family of Yarbroughs in Sumter County in its early settling was the family of Ambrose Yarbrough born circa 1789/90 and his wife Phoebe. He was the grandson of Ambrose Yarbrough who is said to have come from Yorkshire, England ca 1710 - a member of the Yarbrough de Bateson branch of the family. He married into the Va. Yarbrough family which stemmed from Richard, the immigrant of 1643 and died 1702. The two branches of the family probably kept in touch with each other until after the death of Richard; that he came directly to this family in America attests this fact, and later, so G. W. Yarbrough informs me, they are found together in South Carolina. Mrs. Cleon Culpepper who lives south of Cuba in Sumter County is a descendant of Ambrose Yarbrough, Baptist Minister, who is buried near her home. These Yarbrough families will be dealt with in detail in a later volume. The members of this family settled in Mississippi and Louisiana.

George W. Harper was the first Sheriff of Sumter County (See De page 8 Sumter County.) Security: Lodawick Moore, Samuel Grigs Moore and R. W. Lott. He married Malinda Moore, the daughter wick and Rachel Moore. George W. Harper was mentioned in the Moore will as "my son-in-law" being a joint owner with business. Will was proved 22 November 1841 - Will Book 1, County. Settlement of estate in Orphans' Minute Book #4 p. George W. Harper and his wife removed to Harpersville, Miss; Mary Ann Moore who married Albert G. Anderson, the first Tax C of Sumter County, was the niece of the above Malinda Moore Harper. Ann was the daughter of Robert and Theodosia or Ladocia (Ha. Moore.

James McCown and his wife Elizabeth H. sold their land in this section to Eli Seales of Kemper County, Mississippi - See Deed Book A page 496.

Section #19

Glover and Lyons, Darling Seale, Pliny R. Fleming and Martin Simms patented the land in this section. No doubt but that Glover and Lyons bought this land to resell.

Section #20

Malachi Nettles, Elizabeth McLean, Joseph McLean, William H. Lacy and Henry J. Darnell patented the land in this section. However the McLeans never lived on their land. They sold their land to Alfred Yarbrough in 1836. The deeds show they were residents of Washington County at the time. Joseph McLean and H. A. McNiell were witnesses to Elizabeth McLean's signature.

William H. Lacy who settled E $\frac{1}{4}$  of SE $\frac{1}{4}$  section 20 R 3 W married Elizabeth E. Anderson the daughter of John E. Anderson and granddaughter of William and Elizabeth (Easley) Anderson 12 December 1839. Removed to Panola County, Texas. They had children: Sara born 1842 in Texas, James K. Lacy born 1845, Louisa born 1846, Cynthia born 1847, and John born 1850.

Henry J. Darnell patented the 160 acres next to William H. Lacy. He married Susan Holland, the daughter of William and Sara (Davis) Holland.

Section #21

This section was patented by Sina Anderson and children Burbon Anderson, Amelia Anderson, and Mary Anderson "widow and heirs of Mason Lillard Anderson". He married Sina or Tina Donall (or Darnell) in Marengo County, Alabama, 19 September 1827. Mason L. Anderson died in Sumter County, Alabama the fall of 1834. The administrators of the estate were Alexander Anderson, and Holland Jenkins with A. G. Anderson and J. E. Anderson as securities. (The same ones who administered the estate of Vincent Anderson). Bailey Anderson and John E. Anderson appraised the estate. I believe that Vincent and Mason Lillard Anderson were brothers. Vincent's daughter Melvira who married Dominico Jenkins had a daughter named Clara Mason - Clara for Clara or Classie Anderson Browning and Mason for Mason L. Anderson. The widow of Mason L. Anderson sold her property to Pliny R. Fleming who patented land in same section.

Pliny R. Fleming records may be found in Bethel Cemetery records.

Section #22

Lemon Ward (Laman), Samuel Webb, Joseph Young, Edward McCord patented the land in this section.

Samuel Webb lived in Sumterville and kept the Inn where stage coaches stopped for refreshments for passengers and to change horses. Thomas Hodges really entered or patented this land in section 22 and assigned it to Samuel Webb (see Deed Book A - 225) just after he received his certificate of possession; but the deed signed in Washington in 1837 was made in Samuel Webb's name. There is an indenture in Deed Book D page 627 dated 12 November 1845, between Samuel Webb of Sumter County as 1st part and James D. Webb of Greene County, Alabama as 2nd part and James Webb of Orange County of North Carolina as 3rd part; certain slaves were were mortgaged to James Webb of the 3rd part for an indebtedness to him by Samuel Webb.

Section #23

Evan Bryant, Wiley Curry, Nathan Amazon and Asa Amazon patented all the land in section 23. Evan Bryant married the daughter of Bryant Richardson and his wife Uney (Ray) Richardson -- Cherry Lane Richardson. The Bryants, Richardsons along with five other families came to this county together in a wagon train. When they reached the Tombigbee River, on the west side in Greene County, it is said that they thought they had reached the Mississippi River. At that time they had no maps to guide them in their travels. They stopped and began to clear the forests and it was only when they went to apply for certificates did they realize their mistake. They stayed in Greene County until the Indians were sent to Oklahoma, under the Treaty Of Dancing Rabbit Creek, when they came to Sumter County, just across the Tombigbee River. Evan Bryant settled many estates, and was guardian to some of Bryant and Uney Richardson's children. (See Cherry Lane Bryant's obituary, and Old Side Cemetery records)

See Old Side Cemetery Records for Nathan Amason and Asa Amason records.

Wiley Curry - no history to date.

Section #24

Seaborn Jackson, Evan Bryant, John E. Brown, Ebenzer C. Pettigrew and Elisha T. Horne patented land in this section.

Seaborn Jackson was the son of Randall Jackson, as per will and settlement of estate of Randall Jackson as mentioned before. Seaborn was still in Sumter County in 1850 as the census shows him as family 204. He was 34 and was born in Georgia. His wife, Tobitha was 24 and was born in Alabama. His children were William B. aged 8, Mary J. age 6, Benj. F. age 4, and Charles F. was 1 year old. David P. Smith age 28 born in Virginia was living in their home.

Seaborn Jackson bought this land from William and Susannah Gilbert the parents of William Gilbert who married (1) Mrs. Samuel Speight, and (2) Catherine Poythress.

See John E. Brown Cemetery Records for this family.

Elisha T. Horne and his wife Marilda sold this land to Ebenezer C. Pettigrew 6 July 1835. He still lived in this area until after 1841 when he was listed in the voting list at Patton's Hill or Sumterville.

Ebenezer Pettigrew lived in Greene County along with the Horns and Richardsons before coming to Sumter. There was one, James Pettigrew, who married Nancy Richardson in Greene County on the 3rd of September 1825. Book 1 page 33. They lived in Township 19.

Section #25

This section was patented by Ebenezer Pettigrew, James Tribble, Elisha Price and Wade R. Thomas.

The 1850 Census shows Wade R. Thomas as family 348. He gave his age as 46 and his birth place as North Carolina. His wife was Melissa, age was 43, born in North Carolina. The oldest child was Mary, 22 born in North Carolina, John H. was 19 and born in North Carolina, Martha J. was 10 and born in Alabama, Wade R. was 7 and born in Alabama, Morrison was 5 and born in Alabama, Sally was 2 and born in Alabama. Julia Horn was living with this family and she gave her age as 22, born in N.C. Julia Horn became the wife of Bennett B. Thomas (see Simms and Bennett Thomas records). Melissa was the wife of Wade R. Thomas was a Horne, whom he married in N.C., according to the tradition in the families concerned in Sumter County. The daughter of Wade R. Thomas, Martha J., married Dr. J. W. Epes, of Epes, Sumter County. (See Old Side Cemetery records.)

Elijah Price sold his land to Enoch Travis 20 March 1835. His was the only signature to the deed at this time.

James Tribble - no history to date.

Section #26

Wilson G. Myers, William Patton, Morrison Thomas and William S. Patton were the first settlers in this section. Morrison Thomas, brother to Bennett B. and Wade R. Thomas married Patience Horn born 1805 - daughter of John and Aseneth (Simms) Horn. According to the Wade Thomas family records, Morrison Thomas and family removed to Grenada, Mississippi.

Wilson G. Myers came to Sumter County from Marengo County, Alabama. He was the son of James Myers and wife Martha Godfrey Myers, whose estate was settled 20 December 1842 - Orphans' Book 3 page 42. The estate was divided among the following: William G. Myers, George M. Myers, Wilson G. Myers, John M. Myers, John Phillips in right of his wife Martha G. Phillips, Asberry Myers, Joseph Reed in right of his wife Ann D. Reed, Thomas M. Myers and Leonard D. Myers. (Asberry Myers died 1843 -- will probated 18 May 1843. He married Eliza McRae 19 January 1937.)

The above James Myers married Martha Godfrey, sister of William Godfrey of Sumter County. Their parents were William and Sara (Brittain) Godfrey. William Godfrey, Sr., was a Revolutionary Soldier.

Section #27

Leroy Boyette, son of Lock Boyette, married Mary L. Moore 14 May 1842. She was the daughter of Thomas Moore.

Section #28

Those who patented land in section 28 were Joseph Knight, Evant Anders, William Bruton, Stephen Address and John McLean.

See Old Side Cemetery Records for Joseph Knight history.

The NE¼ was patented by Evant Address of Monroe County. He and his wife Catherine probably bought it as an investment as they sold it to Samuel D. Murff in 1836. Evidently Stephen Address and his wife Susan of Monroe County, also, bought their land in this section for the same reason as they sold to John Jackson the same year.

William Bruton married Jane Anderson in Marengo County 22 March 1822, Alexander Anderson, security. She evidently died as we find William C. Bruton married Matilda Lacy in Sumter County 24 April 1834. He sold his land to Morgan Smith in 1837. The two Williams might have been different people. William C. Bruton owned part of the same land that William Bruton patented and sold his part to James Bruton in 1835. There was no name but his on the deed. James Bruton gave his age as 48 and born in South Carolina when the 1850 Census was taken. His wife Lizzie gave her age as 40 and born in Kentucky. Elizabeth was 22, William H. was 19, Matilda was 16, Hellina A. was 12, Schell was 12, Leoncroles was 2 all the children born in Alabama. In this home Sara Anderson resided, and gave her age as 66 and born in S.C. (In some instances this name was written "Bruton" - in other instances it looked like "Burton".)

Stephen McLean

Joseph Knight was assignee of Samuel B. Lacy in 1834 before certificate of possession was issued. He married Rebecca Oneal 20 October 1847. Samuel B. Lacy was the only signature on the deed. (See Old Side Cemetery Records for Knight history.)

Evan and Catherine Evant of Monroe County sold their land to Samuel D. Murff in 1836. The Evant family did not live in Sumter County.

William Bruton married Matilda Lacy in Marengo County, Alabama. William Bruton sold this land to James H. Bruton 28 September 1836 - no name but his to the deed.

Stephen Address and wife Susan, of Marengo County, Alabama sold their land to John Jackson in 1836.

Section #29

Section 29 was taken up by Elijah McCoy, Henry Darnell, John McLendon, and Gaines.

Section #30

Benj. Talliaferro, Whitfield and Wilson G. Myers patented the land in this section. Talliaferro (said to have been pronounced "Toliver") bought land all over the county, probably for investment. They finally went to Mobile where they made their home. Whitfield of Marengo County bought land in many parts of Marengo, Sumter and Greene Counties.

See another section for Wilson G. Myers.

Section #31

John J. Burton, Wilson Myers, Thomas Simpson and Austin H. Lacy patented this section. Austin H. Lacy died prior to 1843. for at that time, his widow Charlotte had remarried Isaac Spinks of Lauderdale County, Mississippi. She and her second husband asked at that time for a settlement of Austin H. Lacy estate.

Others in this section have been given elsewhere or will be given in another volume as they lived elsewhere in the county.

Section #32

Edward Graves, William Burton, Lewis Simmons, Anna Elliott, John Boyd and William C. Day patented land in this section.

William Burton who married Jane Anderson in Marengo County, Alabama, 22 March 1822, with Alexander Anderson as security sold this land in section to Morgan Smith. Others in this section have been mentioned elsewhere or will be mentioned later, except William C. Day and Anna Elliott.

Anna Knox Elliott was born 15 September 1792 and died 8 February 1851; she was the widow of Andrew Elliott born 11 July 1788, died 31 December 1833. Orphans Min. Book 1 page 549, Sumter County, Alabama shows final settlement of Andrew Elliott estate in 1838. But the vouchers are dated from 1834. John K. Elliott was administrator. Anna was to receive 1/5 of the estate; the remainder to be divided among the 6 heirs, viz: John Knox, Lucenda, Betty, Margaret, Martha, Mary Ann. (Rachel had died at the age of 12.)

David Elliott, the father of Andrew Elliott, was born in County Antrim, Belfast, Ireland 1747. He, at the age of 10 years, came to the Colonies with his father in 1757. The Knox family came over on the same boat; with them a daughter named Betsy or Elizabeth, also 10 years of age.

These two children grew up and married in 1773. David Elliott became chief hammerman for Ryd and Fullenwilder Iron Works in North Carolina, then removed to Pulaski, Tennessee where he died in 1804. His widow removed with her family to Greene County, Alabama near Moundville (now Hale County). David and Elizabeth or Betsy had the following children: John, David, Joe, Jenny, Rachel and Mary Elizabeth, (Elizabeth married William Cubley who died 2 February 1841, Elizabeth Cubley died 20 February 1841, John Knox Cubley died December 1839, another Cubley's name I could not make out. These faded names are on a fly leaf of Matthew Henry's Exposition of the Old and New Testament, published 1829 and belonged to Elizabeth Knox - Now owned by Mrs. Robert Knox Elliott of Emelle, Alabama. Jane married a Mr. Gibson and three other girls.

Elizabeth or Betsey Knox Elliott died at the home of her son Joe in Moundville in 1852. The Re-issue of the Alabama Historical Quarterly, Winter Issue 1944, by Willo Publishing Company, Tuscaloosa, Alabama 1959 says "Elizabeth Knox Elliott was a Revolutionary Patriot in South Carolina during the Revolution. It stated that she molded bullets, provided clothing for the soldiers and carried messages for them. It stated she was born 1750 in Ireland and died 1852 at Moundville." David Elliott, husband of Elizabeth Knox Elliott, fought in the Revolutionary War for 7 years.

Andrew Elliott, their son, was with Jackson as body guard during the Indian Wars. Anna Knox, wife of Andrew Elliott, who patented land in this section was the daughter of Elizabeth Knox who founded Elizabeth Presbyterian Church in the southern part of Sumter County in 1834. Anna Knox had brothers John and Jimmy. John Knox died circa 1839/40. Orphans' Record Book 2 page 168, shows Elizabeth the relict. The Knox family is said to be descended from John Knox, the Presbyterian Reformer in Scotland.

Anna Elliott left a will recorded in Will Book 1 page 552, Sumter County. She mentioned daughters Mary A. Payne, Margaret Moore, Martha A. Elliott, granddaughter Mary A. E. Payne, daughter Lucinda Payne, son John Knox Elliott. The Exe'rs John Knox Elliott, David Elliott, Ambrose W. Jones. Signed Anna Elliott. Wit/ John Greenlees, John M. Boyd, J. C. Greenlees, 28 October 1850. Proved 17 February 1851.

We do not know where Anna and Andrew Elliott are buried but probably in a Payneville cemetery where there are many mounds but not a gravestone.

See Elliott family cemetery for more Elliotts; and Central Cemetery for some other members of this family.

William C. Day, who patented land in T. 32, married (1) Miss Pettus who had relatives at Gainesville. They had several children among whom were (a) Pettus died young, and (b) Carrie who married Mr. Die. Wm. C. Day married (2) to Mrs. Sara Ann Andrews, mother of Annie (Andrews) Jenkins. See Boney Cemetery records.

(Margaret J. Elliott married Roderick Ransom Moore - son of Robert and Ladocia, or Theodosia, Moore - 28 January 1847 Book 1 page 388. Margaret Cecile Moore Curlin (Mrs. L. C.) of Waxahachie, Texas is a granddaughter of Roderick and Margaret Moore.

Martha Amanda Elliott born 17 January 1830, died January 1862, married Andrew McNairy Moore born 19 August 1830. They were the parents of Margaret Ella Moore born 16 October 1852, Leodocia Ann Moore born 19 October 1854, and Fanny Moore who married Mr. Morgan and removed to Murphreesboro, Tennessee. Roderick Ransom Moore and Andrew McNairy Moore were the sons of Ladocia or Theodosia (Hamilton) Moore; and Margaret and Martha Elliott were the daughters of Andrew and Anna Elliott.

Even though the Loderick Moore family settled in Township 18 many of his children and grandchildren married into families in Township 19. I will give you the history of this family at this time. Loderick Moore's will is recorded in Will Book 1-208 in Sumter County. He lived in Warengo County before Sumter County was formed (see his wife's (Rachel Moore) obituary in Sumter County Whig for other places of residence. He mentioned his wife Rachel Moore, granddaughters Malindy Leatherman and Martha Fletcher, children of his deceased daughter Mary Washington Fletcher - the rest of the property to be divided into 11 equal parts, naming his children as follows: Alfred Moore, Anthony D. Kinard and Sara his wife, Marquis D. Moore, Eldridge Loftin and Elizabeth his wife, Rolly Morgan and Fanny his wife, Roderick Ransom Moore, George W. Harper and Malinda Franklin his wife, -- he especially stipulated that Nancy Ann Parker, his daughter, should have no part of his estate but 1 part should go to "the heirs of her body", 1 part to go to the heirs of Robert Moore deceased, and 1 part to go to the heirs of Arthur Moore deceased, (this makes 10 parts and the 11th to go to his widow, Rachel.) Signed Loderick Moore. 3 June 1849. Witnessed by Rufus Cotes, Ladocia Moore, George W. Harper.

The settlement of the estate of Loderick Moore shows the heirs of Robert Moore - 8 in number as follows: Hance H. Moore, Loderick Moore, John M. Boyd in right of his wife Louisa J., and minor heirs Roderick R. Moore, John W. Moore, Andrew W. Moore, Catherine E. Moore, Robert Moore.

13 December 1834

Francis McNairy of Guilford County, North Carolina, whose home was used as a hospital after the Battle of Guilford Court House, is said to have been the father of Rachel (McNairy) Moore. It is also said that Francis McNairy's wife was named Mary Hamilton, perhaps the sister of Rance Hamilton of Revolutionary fame. This being true, Robert Moore and his wife Theodosia or Ladocia (Hamilton) Moore were cousins.

The children of Francis born 1734 and Mary (Hamilton) McNairy were: John born 1762 and became a Judge, and his home was used by Cornwallis as Headquarters at one time, Nathaniel, James (whose descendants are said to have gone to Mississippi), Margaret born 1771, Andrew, Mary, Rachel, and Boyd born 1785. (Copied from Commercial Appeal of Memphis, 15 April 1931 - Dropped Stitches Column). Please note Rachel (McNairy) Moore's obituary in Sumter County Whip. <sup>1</sup> In order for the search feature of Adobe Acrobat® Reader to be enabled, a certain level of document legibility is required. That is, post-scanning processing cannot overcome poor print quality of an original document. With this caveat, each volume has been made searchable by Adobe Acrobat, version 9 or later.
