THE YARBOROUGH FAMILY IN THE UNITED STATES

The Yarborough family is indeed one of our country's early pioneer families. Yarbroughs have been here since colonial times. Genealogical studies and records show that there were at least three main Yarbrough immigrants to America from England before 1800: Richard Yarbrough to Amelia County, Virginia in 1653 from Lincolnshire,<sup>1</sup> then in 1732, Ambrose Yarbrough to Amelia County, Virginia from Yorkshire,<sup>2</sup> and between 1750 and 1760 Guy Yarbrough to Virginia, also from Lincolnshire.<sup>3</sup> It is generally assumed that most of the Yarbroughs, Yarboros, Yarbroughs, Yarbros, Yarbers, Yarberrys, and Yerbys (as well as other variations of the name) in the United States today have descended from these three men.

Their sons, grandsons, and great grandsons migrated from Virginia west into Kentucky, and south into the Carolinas, and thence into Georgia, Tennessee, Alabama, and Mississippi. From these states their descendants gradually worked their ways into Louisiana, Texas, and the Indian Territory (Oklahoma), and then pushed on West.<sup>4</sup> Today, 1966, there are members of the Yarborough clan in nearly every state of the Union.

It is of interest to note that once you connect your family line to one of these early Yarbrough immigrants, you automatically have one of the longest genealogies--anywhere! You see, the English Yarborough family "is one of great antiquity,"<sup>5</sup> and can actually be traced back, thanks to old monastary records which were unearthed in World War II bombings, in an unbroken chain to the year 853 A.D., when the House of Yarburgh was formed by Germund. The family was of Danish origin,<sup>6</sup> and it is generally assumed that its progenitors came into the country (England, known then as Angle-land) during the Danish invasions of about 800 A.D.<sup>7</sup> The Danes in England, historically being enemies of the Anglo-Saxons, sided with William the Conqueror of Normandy during his invasion of 1066.<sup>8</sup> As a result, William awarded these Danes various estates when he came to power.<sup>9</sup> According to records which were extant before World War II, Eustachius de Yarburgh (a descendant of Germund) was made Lord of Yarburgh, co. Lincoln at this time.<sup>10</sup>

Few families have such a rich history, nor can be traced back so far. The Yarborough family is reportedly the eleventh oldest recorded family in England.<sup>11</sup> From the time of their coming to America, Yarbroughs have served their country faithfully and well. Yarbroughs have fought in the American Revolution, the War of 1812, the War for Texas Independence, the Mexican War, the Civil

THE YARBOROUGH FAMILY IN THE UNITED STATES

The Yarborough family is indeed one of our country's early pioneer families. Yarboroughs have been here since colonial times. Genealogical studies and records show that there were at least three main Yarborough immigrants to the United States from England before 1800: Richard Yarborough to Amelia County, Virginia in 1653 from Lincolnshire, then in 1732, Ambrose Yarborough to Amelia County, Virginia from Yorkshire, and between 1750 and 1760 Guy Yarborough to Virginia, also from Lincolnshire. It is generally assumed that most of the Yarboroughs, Yarbors, Yarbroughs, Yorbros, Yorbers, Yerbaryz, and Yerbys in America today have descended from these three men.

Their sons, grandsons, and great grandsons migrated from Virginia west into Kentucky, and south into the Carolinas, and thence into Georgia, Tennessee, Alabama, and Mississippi. From these states their descendants gradually worked their ways into Louisiana, Texas, and the Indian Territory (Oklahoma), and then pushed on West. Today, 1966, there are members of the Yarborough clan in nearly every state of the Union.

It is of interest to note that once you connect your family line to one of these early Yarborough immigrants, you automatically have one of the longest genealogies--anywhere! You see, the English Yarborough family is one of great antiquity, and can actually be traced back, thanks to old monastic records which were unearthed in World War II bombings, in an unbroken chain to the year 853 A.D., when the House of Yarburgh was formed by Germund. The family was of Danish origin, and it is generally assumed that its progenitors came into the country (England, known then as Angle-land) during the Danish Invasions of about 800 A.D. The Danes in England, historically being enemies of the Anglo-Saxons, sided with William the Conqueror of Normandy during his invasion of 1066. As a result, William awarded these Danes with various estates when he came to power. According to records which were extant before World War II, Eustacius de Yarburgh (a descendant of Germund) was made Lord of Yarburgh, co. Lincoln at this time. It is interesting to learn that Yarburghs are listed in William's Domesday Book of 1086.

Not many families have such a rich history, nor can be traced back so far. The Yarborough family is reportedly the eleventh oldest family in England. From the time of their coming to America, Yarboroughs have served their country faithfully and well. Yarboroughs have fought in the American Revolution, the War of 1812, the War for Texas Independence, the Mexican War, the Civil War, World Wars I and II, and the Korean and Vietnamese Conflicts. Yarboroughs have served and are serving in high governmental positions, especially in the South.

This is a heritage one can be proud to bear. Knowing this heritage, a Yarborough descendant can go about his day to day tasks carrying an inner-pride. While others don't necessarily know about Yarboroughs, he does, and through knowing this he can have a feeling of self-confidence and individualism and Americanism.

Dear Friend:

This is the first issue of the "Yarborough Family Magazine", which is a genealogical publication dealing solely with Yarboroughs (regardless of the spelling). Those of you who have studied the Yarborough family know how incomplete the existing data is, and how difficult it sometimes is to establish a Yarborough relation, even though it is common knowledge that such a relationship exists. The purpose of this publication is to fill in missing information, to bridge missing links, and to acquaint all the Yarboroughs of the United States with one another. We hope that this magazine will help solve genealogical problems, and will lead to the eventual publication of a book on the Yarborough family.

Where verified genealogical information is given it will always be referenced (usually by footnote). Each issue will be divided into sections and these sections will be listed in a table of contents at the beginning of each issue. Space will be divided among the respective branches of the family, and we shall strive to pay no more attention to one branch than to another. An Index for each volume (of six issues) will be included with each sixth issue.

No doubt, many of you were subscribers to the "Yarborough Quarterly" published by the late Mrs. Nellie H. Jenkins of Esmelle, Alabama. The "Quarterly" has not been published since her sudden passing in December 1963. Because we feel that there is a need for this type of publication, the "Yarborough Family Magazine" has come into existence. It will be published bimonthly (six issues per year). Each issue will be a minimum of sixteen lithographed pages, including at least one page of photographs. We believe that a $4.50 per year subscription rate is a fair price.

Yours very truly,

Charles S. Yarborough

BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCHES

W.A. YARBROUGH

*W.A. Yarbrough was born December 30, 1826, in Stewart County, Tenn. He is a son of George and Lucretia (Stokes) Yarbrough. The father was born in North Carolina. He came to Graves County (Kentucky) in 1832, engaged in merchandising, a few years later in farming.
This he continued till his death, which occurred in July, 1848, at the age of fifty-five. The mother was born in North Carolina; she died February 13, 1884, aged eighty-seven years. W.A. Yarbrough was brought up on his father's farm, and has always followed the business of farming. In August, 1878, he was elected sheriff and re-elected in 1880. He was married May 3, 1848, to Elizabeth Leech of Graves County. She died January 28, 1881, leaving three sons and two daughters. His second marriage was in April 3, 1884, to Miss M.E. Purdy of this county. Mr. Yarbrough is a member of the Masonic fraternity.*

JAMES YARBROUGH

*JAMES YARBROUGH was born in Warren Co., N.C., May
- 23, 1804. His father came to Tennessee and settled on White's Creek, in Davidson County, in 1806, when James was scarcely two years of age.

In the month of February, 1823, James was married to

J.H. Battle, W.H. Perrin, and G.C. Knifflin, editors, History of Kentucky (Louisville, F.A. Battery Publishing Co., 1885), p.243.

Margaret Coffman. Of this union there were born nine children, seven of whom grew to maturity; on this number only two are now living,--Mrs. William D. Robertson, who resides on White's Creek, amid the scenes of her early childhood, and James H. Yarbrough, one of Nashville's worthy citizens. Mr. Yarbrough was a man of indomitable energy, and his necessity caused him to be economical. He was one of the best farmers in the county. He commenced life poor, but when he died, in 1861, he left fifty thousand dollars to his family.

His educational advantages were limited; nevertheless he was a close student,--a student of men and things. He was well informed on the current events of the day,--a man of close observation. He was also a very practical man; his neighbors found him a good counselor, and were greatly pleased by his wise judgment.

In 1852 he was elected magistrate of the Twenty-first District, and served two terms. Under the old militia law of Tennessee, he filled the various offices from corporal to major of his regiment.

In all his public ministrations and trusts, he was efficient and true to the confidence imposed in him.

He was a worthy member of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and was truly a Christian gentleman.

He was a true and noble citizen, an affectionate husband, a kind and loving father, and an honest man.<sup>2</sup>

JAMES QUINCY YARBOROUGH

Grimes County

*Col. James Quincy Yarbrough, son of Alfred and Mary Yarbrough, was born in Coosa County, Ala., September 8, 1827, and was reared in Marengo and Sumter counties in that State, growing up on his father's farm, where his boyhood and youth were divided between the duties and sports of the farm, and his attendance at the local schools. His opportunities for obtaining education were good and he availed himself of them. At about the age of twenty-one he married and began life as a planter upon his own account. He engaged in planting in his native State until the death of his wife in 1852, when, unsettled by that event and filled with a desire to try his fortunes in the new West, he went to California in 1849 where, however he remained only a short time, returning thence to Alabama. In 1859 he came to Texas, settling at Apolonia, in Grimes County, where he was residing at the opening of the late war. He entered the Confederate army as a member of Company H., Carter's Regiment, with which he served in Texas, Arkansas and Louisiana until the close of the struggle. His services were rendered in the capacity of a private, but the title of 'Colonel,' which he subsequently bore, was not a purely honorary distinction, as he was Colonel of the State Militia in Alabama previous to his removal to Texas, and took an active part in military matters in that State.

After the war, in 1869, Col. Yarbrough became associated with Lewis J. Wilson and W.R. Nowell, under the firm name of Wilson, Yarbrough & Co., and embarked in the mercantile business at Anderson, Apolonia, and Navasota, in Grimes County, and at Madisonville, in Madison County.

This partnership lasted until 1875, when Col. Yarborough disposed of his interest, and subsequently engaged in business on his own account in Navasota. Later he moved his business to the present station of Yarborough, on the Gulf, Colorado & Santa Fe Railway, ten miles from Navasota, and there followed merchandising and farming until his death. He met with more than ordinary success both as a merchant and planter and left a handsome estate. He was entirely devoted to business, never holding any public positions and taking only such interest in politics as good citizenship required. When occasion demanded, however, he never hesitated to go to the front in every movement and he always displayed in public matters much of the same spirit, energy, and enterprise which brought such pronounced success in his own undertakings. He was especially active in securing the extension of the Gulf, Colorado & Santa Fe Railway through Grimes County and gave to the company the grounds on which the station of Yarborough is situated to which he added a bonus of $2,000 in cash to aid in the construction of the road. Whatever tended in any way to stimulate industry, to increase the value of property or build up the community, found in him an intelligent and cordial supporter. In politics he was a staunch Democrat, abiding strictly to the principles and traditions of the party. He never asked office for himself but always stood ready to assist with his means and personal efforts to those who were honored as standard bearers of the party, and in his quiet but vigorous way did good service for the man and measures of his choice. Col. Yarborough was a man of strong likes and dislikes. There was not the slightest trace of the compromise element in his nature. He always took sides and sought in every legitimate way to carry his point. If he professed friendship in a substantial way, and if any one incurred his displeasure he did not hesitate to let the fact be known. He was of a retiring disposition but did his own thinking, acting vigorously and promptly as occasion demanded. He was of genial nature, affable to his friends and easily approached by strangers. Persistent in what he believed to be right or expedient, he never abandoned his matured opinions at the suggestion, or as the result of the opposition of any one. He joined the Masons in Alabama previous to his removal to Texas, and was a liberal contributor to every worthy cause.

Col. Yarborough was three times married and left surviving him ten children. His first marriage occurred in Alabama and was to Miss Mary A. Parham, a native of that State and a daughter of Mathew Parham, a respectable and well-to-do planter. The issue of this union was one son, the present Mathew Parham Yarborough, of Navasota. His second marriage occurred in Texas and was to Miss Alice Scott, a daughter of Judge James Scott, of Grimes County. Three children were born of this union, viz., Mant, now Mrs. Tom Owen, Alfred, and James L. Yarborough. His last marriage took place in Florida and was to Miss Fannie A. Hilton, a native of Marianna, that State, and a daughter of Governor John A. Hilton, who served in the Florida Indian Wars and was Governor of the State during the war between the States. The six children of this union are: Earle H., J. Milton, Martha E., Virgil H., Guy and Hunter.

Col. Yarborough's death occurred December 23, 1890, and called forth many expressions of sorrow from the people of Grimes County, to whom he was well known and by whom he was greatly respected.<sup>3</sup>

Dear Friend:

You will notice on the cover a dedication to Robert Edward Yarbrough, who is today celebrating his 100th birthday. Mr. Yarbrough is a resident of Meridian, Mississippi, where he has lived for thirty years. His parents were Drury Hutchinson and Mary Tennessee (Reynard) Yarbrough, and his grandparents were Rev. Herdy and Rachel (Yarbrough) Yarbrough of Sumter Co., Alabama. His great grandparents were Rev. Ambrose and Elizabeth (Culpepper) Yarbrough of Sumter Co., Alabama, and his great great grandparents were Jonathan and Amelia Yarbrough of Anson Co., North Carolina. Mr. Yarbrough, who is pictured on page 29 of this issue, married Mary Jane Stone in Lauderdale Co., Mississippi on 27 May 1894. Children are Robert Lowry Yarbrough, Harold Edward Yarbrough, Little Payne (Yarbrough) Cleveland, Ruby Hazel (Yarbrough) Temple, and Myra May (Yarbrough) McDonald.

We are very pleased with the interest which has been shown in YFM as evidenced by the number of subscriptions we have received. If we can reach the mark of 100 subscriptions we will be able to lower the subscription price for Vol. 2.

All suggestions and inquiries are welcomed. The following are a few which we have received as of this date: It has been suggested that we publish in each issue records which were made prior to 1800, since the Yarbrough ancestors of some of our subscribers are from that period. One request is that we publish an old Yarbrough will in each issue, as these are very amusing. Biographical information on Sen. George W. Yarbrough and the late Mrs. Nellie M. Jenkins has been requested. Also, information on the Yarbrough coat-of-arms (which appears on the cover) has been asked. We shall do our best to comply with all these wishes. Please feel free to add your suggestions to this list at any time.

REV. WARREN FURMAN YARBOROUGH<sup>1</sup>

YARBOROUGH, REV. WARREN FURMAN, pastor of the First Baptist church of Jackson and recognized as one of the leading members of the clergy of his denomination in Mississippi, was born in Yazoo county, in this state, Dec. 11, 1867. His father, John Yarborough, was likewise born in Yazoo county, where he resided on his plantation up to the time of the outbreak of the Civil war, when he enlisted in a Mississippi regiment, with which he did valiant service for the Confederate cause. He was taken prisoner in the battle of Missionary Ridge and confined in the Rock Island prison until the close of the war. After the close of the war he married and finally removed into Holmes county, near Pickens, where he continued in the same line of enterprise which had previously engaged his attention and to which he had been reared. He was a son of Thomas G. and Jane (Jacob) Yarborough, the former of whom removed from Franklin county, Tenn., to Franklin county, Miss., about 1840, later taking up their residence in Yazoo county where he married, and where he and his wife passed the remainder of their lives, the former dying shortly after the close of the Civil war. John Yarborough married Miss Mary Elizabeth Toombs, daughter of George W. and Minnie (Green) Toombs, of Copiah county, Miss., where the family lived for many years. Mr. Toombs was a member of the well known Georgia family of that name. Rev. Warren P. Yarborough received his preliminary education in the country schools of Holmes county, his first teacher having been the Rev. Matthew Lyon, one of the ablest and best of the old field type of school teachers. In 1887 Mr. Yarborough was graduated with first honors in the Cullisburg Collegiate Institute, with the degree of Bachelor of Science and in 1892 he was graduated in Mississippi College, at Clinton, with the degree of Bachelor of Arts and with the first honors of his class. In his senior year the Hermenian literary society of the college elected him its anniversarian. From 1887 to 1889 Mr. Yarborough was a successful teacher in the public schools of Pike county, Miss., and he had continued to manifest a deep interest in educational affairs. He completed a three years' course in theology in the Southern Baptist theological seminary, in Louisville, Ky., where he was graduated as a member of the class of 1896, receiving the degree of Master of Theology. He was ordained to the ministry of the Baptist church in Clinton, Miss., Feb. 21, 1892. Thereafter he supplied various churches during his vacation until he was graduated from the theological seminary, and after his graduation became pastor of the Baptist church at Crystal Springs, Copiah county, 1896-7, while in February, 1899, he accepted the call to his present important charge, as pastor of the First Baptist church of the capital city, where his work has been attended with gratifying success, both in spiritual and in temporal advancement. The numerical and financial strength of the church has been materially augmented and in all departments of its work a gracious co-operation and sympathy obtains between pastor and people. Mr. Yarborough is a member of the Mississippi Baptist Publishing Company, the Baptist board of ministerial education, board of trustees of the Baptist Orphanage, the Baptist State convention board, of whose executive committee he is chairman, as he is also of the publishing company of the church, noted above. In 1893-4 he was a member of the editorial staff of the Baptist Seminary Magazine, Louisville, Ky., and in 1899-1900 he wrote able expository notes on the International Sunday school lessons, for the Baptist denominational organ of Mississippi, and has also been an occasional contributor to the denominational and secular press. He is a man of high scholarship, much power and eloquence as a public speaker and of that genial and gracious personality which begets staunch friendships. His political allegiance is given to the Democratic party. On Nov. 24, 1896, was solemnized the marriage of Mr. Yarborough to Miss Mettie May Forbes, daughter of David N. and Delia (Keene) Forbes, of Louisville, Ky. The paternal line is traced to the sturdy pioneer stock of Kentucky, and the maternal ancestors took pride in tracing a direct lineage from Oliver Cromwell. Mr. and Mrs. Yarborough have four children, whose names, with respective dates of birth, are as follows: Warren Forbes, Aug. 23, 1897; John Marion, Oct. 25, 1898; Mary D., Nov. 24, 1900; Lillian, July 20, 1902.

Editor's note: The above article included an oval photograph of its subject. VFM's copy was of too poor quality to be reproduced.

INDEX OF REVOLUTIONARY WAR PENSION APPLICATIONS<sup>2</sup>

Beginning in March, 1945 the National Genealogical Society, with cooperation of the National Archives, began publishing in installments an index of Revolutionary War pension applications. Sixteen pages were allocated to each installment, and completion took twenty years, and was accomplished under five editors.<sup>3</sup> The following is an excerpt (with spelling variation repeats deleted) from the final installment:

Editor's note: In reviewing copies of the above documents which were ordered from the National Archives I found that many of them are officially styled and indexed under the spelling "Yarborough," while various instruments in some of the files use "Yarbrough." Apparently the pension office preferred the longer spelling and arbitrarily used it in preparation of the pension folders, regardless of the way the name was actually spelled in applications and supporting documents. Parenthesis so indicates.

SHORT HISTORY OF THE YARBROUGH

FAMILY<sup>4</sup>

The Yarbroughs of America are lineal descendants of William Yarbrough, who was one of the sixty thousand Normans who embarked as vassals to the Duke of Normandy, in the year 1046, to conqueror England. For his valiancy, William the Conqueror of England, gave him the Earldom of Yorkshire county, England, which Earldom still exists. Some of the Yarbrough gentry came from England in the year 1046, to conqueror or England, gave him the Earldom of Yorkshire county, England, which Earldom still exists. Some of the Yarbrough gentry came from England in the early settlement of Virginia, and located in Amelia county of that state.<sup>5</sup> Between the years 1729 and 1775 seven brothers of the Yarbroughs<sup>6</sup> moved to Louisburg, Franklin county, N. Carolina. Their names were: Zachariah, Archibald, Manoah, Alexander, Thomas, Henry and John. Before the Revolutionary War, 1775, Zachariah left Louisburg and settled in Rowan county, now Davidson county. There he met and married Elizabeth Dowd. Their children were: Zachariah, Henry, Thomas, Alexander, Manoah, Julia and Elizabeth.

Thomas married Jemina Merrill of Lexington. There were the parents of Rev. Aaron Yarbrough who was a Presbyterian minister of much renown, born October 5, 1813, began to preach February 4, 1834. Died December 30, 1897, 85 years of age. He married Elizabeth Womack. Some of the ancestors are buried at Hargrave Place, Lexington, N. Carolina.

Our grandparents were Manoah Yarbrough and his wife, Mary Cunningham, from Rowan county, N. Carolina. Manoah was born in 1770, Mary, his wife on Nov. 12, 1778. They were married August 16, 1799. Both of their fathers no doubt fought in the Revolutionary War. Manoah died September 27, 1836, and his wife July 24, 1840. Their graves are in a field called Yarbrough Cemetery, near the old home place, 4 miles southeast of Ashville, Alabama, graves marked by stones, which in 1926, were in good shape. Their children were:

1. Matilda Yarbrough, born May 20, 1800, married Graham Hunt. Died in N. Carolina.

2. Littleton Yarbrough, born May 20, 1802. Married Nancy Ashcraft, whose mother was a Baker. She died in 1879. Nancy came from a fine old family of much renown in those war-time days. Nancy died June 14, 1883.

Littleton's ability was far above the average for his time, considering the surroundings of pioneer days. Reuben Phillips furnished him some money and he went horseback to Texas, took up

Editor's note: Amelia Co., Va. was not organized until 1734. Franklin Co., N.C. was organized in 1779 from Bute Co., which was organized in 1764, so location there as early as 1729 is improbable.

Editor's note: Unnoticed by Y. researchers for years, and contrary to what many of us assume, as now pointed out by Howard E. Yarbrough of Lacy, Washington, this passage does not state that these seven Y's are brothers; instead, it states that they are "brothers of Yarbroughs." With this pointed out, I have re-read it many times, and conclude that it was carefully worded this way by its author, who (according to a letter dated January 11, 1898 in the Lexington, N.C. Dispatch in response to the January 5, 1898 obituary of Rev. Aaron Yarbrough) was Col. George Yarbrough of Tyler, Texas (son of Littleton and grandson of Manoah Yarbrough). Apparently, George was unable to state that the seven were blood brothers, but made the general assumption that they were all in some way kin, and referred to them as "brothers" in Biblical terms.

contracting, and built court houses and jails all over East Texas, one of which is still standing at Tyler, Texas. He also built one at Clarksville, Texas, and the court house and Baptist church at Ashville, Alabama, which still are a memorial to him. Both he and wife are buried in Yarbrough Cemetery, near Ashville, Alabama. His children and grand children who "rise up and call him blessed" are as follows:

1. George Yarbrough, born June 3, 1826. While a young man made the celebrated trip to California in '49 to seek his fortune in the gold field, going by way of Panama, did well financially, returned to Tyler, Texas, where on July 18, 1855, he married a highly cultured, capable woman, Miss Augusta Herrin. He established a mercantile business in 1852, this afterwards became Yarbrough and Wimberly, then Wimberly and Philips in 1875, and now Geo. R. Philips & Sons in 1927 a business of 75 years duration. George Yarbrough was a man of good business acumen, a staunch member of the Baptist church, in which he took a leading part. He was a great student of character, and loved his family and family connections, his home was a home for all the relatives, and each of the Philips boys, sons of his sister, Elizabeth, at different times lived with him, and appreciated his wise counsel and staunch integrity. He passed away after a long illness, February 25, 1899, his wife Augusta, having died July 15, 1890. Both are buried by their daughter, Ione in Tyler Cemetery. The home on South Broadway is still owned by the daughters. They had three daughters:

Ione, a charming daughter, died March 20, 1877, while attending Baylor College. Mary and Annie Yarbrough, twin daughters, born Oct. 15, 1871.

Mary Yarbrough, married Felix Zollicoffer Edwards, March 12, 1896, now a prominent banker of Sherman, Texas, where they live, loved, respected and honored by a wide circle of friends. She is a woman of fine personality, and unusual intelligence. They have one son, Felix Zollicoffer Edwards, Jr., born March 7, 1897, a graduate of Sewanee University of Tennessee. He is following in his father's footsteps as a successful banker and business man and is now assistant cashier of a bank at Sherman, Texas. He married Elizabeth Randolph, November 15, 1924.

Annie Yarbrough, married Ambrose E. Edwards of Greenville, Texas, July 13, 1901, an insurance and loan man of good character and with hosts of friends. They still live in Greenville where they have raised two sons. Annie, like her twin sister is of a very fine type of character. Both have artistic talents and have painted many beautiful pictures and china.

Ambrose Yarbrough Edwards, graduate of high school and Wesleyan College in Greenville, then attended Leland Stanford University in California. He is now employed in Chile, South America, in a most lucrative and important position.

George Newton Edwards, born May 1, 1908, also a high school graduate, now in Wesleyan College at Greenville, Texas.

2. Elizabeth Yarbrough, born June 27, 1828, married James H.

J. Hugh Yarbrough, born April 24, 1830, married Anne Seaton, August 28, 1852. Disappeared mysteriously and was never heard from, presumably murdered. Children:

Fisher Yarbrough, now living in Dallas, Texas.

Amelia Yarbrough, born December 13, 1856. Married A.W. Cox, born June 20, 1849, near Ashville, Ala., May 30, 1877. He died March 2, 1902. They raised eleven children. She still lives at the old home place, loved and respected by all her relatives and neighbors, a fine Christian woman. The children and grandchildren are:

Flora Cox, born July 16, 1878. Married Tilden Ayers, June 23, 1901. One son, D.C. Ayers, now in high school at Gadsden, Ala. Flora died in 1926 at Gadsden, Ala.

Dear Friends:

First, we shall say Season's Greetings--Merry Christmas and a Happy 1967 to you and your families.

Since publication of our last issue there has been a significant occurrence in Yarborough family history. After a dedication ceremony a Texas Historical Marker was placed at the sixty-three year old Charles Richard Yarborough homeplace in Chandler, Henderson County, Texas. We have devoted several pages of this issue to cover the event; therefore, to be fair to those readers more interested in genealogical material, we have made the issue several pages longer than usual.

We are frequently questioned about the Yarborough coat-of-arms. Thus, we are now preparing an illustrated essay on it, which we hope to have completed in time for our February issue.

As soon as we have published a substantial portion of source material on the various Yarborough lines, we can start developing some theories and tying some loose ends together. Until then we'll just keep on giving facts. We are especially interested in the line to which the Yarbroughs of the Battle of San Jacinto belong, and also the line to which several Yarbroughs named Ambrose belong. We are giving portions of both of these lines in this issue. Once we straighten out these two lines, in particular, it should fill in quite a few missing links elsewhere.

In the Nathan Earl Yarborough Family Reunion report of our last issue we inadvertently omitted two of the children, N.P. Yarborough and Edith (Yarborough) Henderson, who both represented their own families. We beg your pardon.

Yours very truly,

1805 GEORGIA LAND LOTTERY<sup>3</sup>

By an act of the 1803 Georgia Legislature three new counties were formed within the state: Baldwin, Wayne, and Wilkinson. Grantees for land in these new counties were to be decided by lottery in 1805. Any free white male over twenty years old, a one year resident of Georgia, and a U.S. citizen was entitled to one draw if a bachelor. But if he were married and had a wife and/or minor child, he was entitled to two draws. A widow who was a one year resident of the state and had a minor child was entitled to two draws, also. Minor orphans, or families of minor orphans, with father dead and mother dead or re-married were entitled to one draw.

Each of the following represents an entry in the 1805 lottery. Following the name is the registrant's serial number, and a "P", indicating a prize, or a "B", indicating that a blank was drawn, and his Georgia county of residence.

1820 GEORGIA FEDERAL CENSUS<sup>4</sup>

When, in 1814, the British burned Washington, the first three censuses of Georgia--1790, 1800, 1810--were among the papers destroyed. Therefore, the 1820 census is the earliest Georgia federal census available. The following is merely an index of this census, giving only the county of residence.

MEMORY of AMBROSE TARBROUGH<sup>1</sup>

Elder Ambrose Tarbrough, son of Jonathan and Emilia Tarbrough, was born in Anson County, North Carolina, on February 19th, 1772, and departed this life on the 20th of July 1861. He was at the time of his death a member of Liberty Church, which is in Lauderdale Co., Miss.

At the age of 20 Years he moved to Washington County, Georgia. He remained there two years and was baptized into the Fellowship of Buckeye Church by Elder Fulgum.

At about the age of twenty-five years he was married to Elizabeth Culpepper, daughter of John and Harry Culpepper.

Immediately after his baptism he commenced exercising his gift in public about the year 1806 he moved to Jackson County, Georgia and joined the Kandler Creek Church, and on the 27th day of August 1816 was licensed to preach the gospel by said church. About the close of the same year he emigrated to Sumter County, Alabama, and joined Harmony Church, and on October 13th, 1839, a presbytery was called viz; Elders Joseph Ryan, James Veazy and Williamson Milburn and was by them ordained to the gospel ministry. Immediately after his ordination, he was called to take the oversight of churches.

We regret we can not give the number baptized during his ministry. The number, however, was great. He was called to preach the funeral sermons of a great many individuals. He was also often called to grace the nuptial feast and to perform the marriage ceremony.

As a husband, he was ever kind and attentive, ever having his companion's happiness before him. As a father, he was kind and indulgent, still at all times striving to promote the happiness of his children, both temporal and spiritual.

As a pastor, he was true to his charge and we venture to say that no man or minister ever enjoyed the confidence of the people more universally than he did. His soul's delight was to preach the blessed gospel of the Son of God. His method of preaching was such--his treasury was so full of things both new and old of Scripture and anecdote--that every body nearly was sure to be interested and benefited in hearing him preach.

Father Yarbrough was twice married. His second companion's name before marriage was Phoebe Holcom. She departed this life in Sumter County, Alabama, on the 3rd day of June, 1858. We regret that we are not able to state the time of the death of his first companion, or the time of his second marriage.

After the decease of his last companion, he lived most of the time with his son Joseph, and his son-in-law, James Culpepper. At the time he died, he was at the home of his son-in-law, where he had been for some six months, and the greater part of the time he was confined to the house. He received during his illness the undivided attention of his daughter, Sister Culpepper and also Brother James Culpepper, who will be long remembered by those of the connection that could not be so constantly with him.

Father Yarbrough lived to see one of his beloved sons, Hardy, an ordained minister of the gospel, who is at this time actively engaged as a minister. Well may Liberty Church say a great and good man has fallen.

Done by order of the Church in Conference on Friday before the 3rd Sabbath of August 1861,

Yarborough Birthplace Due Historical Marker

ATHENS, Texas (AP) — The home where Sen. Ralph Yarborough was born in Chandler, Henderson County, has been designated for a historical marker.

It was the home of Sen. Yarborough's late parents, Charles Richard and Nannie Jane Spivey Yarborough.

Frank Lefever Jr., chairman of the Henderson County Historical Survey Committee, said the marker will be dedicated Saturday at the Chandler High School gymnasium. The ceremony will be opened by the Athens High School band at 10:30 a.m. and the dedication will begin at 11 a.m.

Sen. Yarborough and his brothers and sisters, some of them residents of Chandler, will attend the ceremony.

Lefever said he had appointed R. T. Craig chairman of a sub-committee on historical supervision for Henderson County.

The day and that he will be assisted by a committee of County Judge A. K. Lin, Atty. Jack Herd, a nephew of Sen. Yarborough, Mrs. Clyde Eads, a former historian, U.S. Attorney Wayne Justice of Athens and Tyler and Mrs. Justice, Mrs. Herd, and Dist. Atty. Mack Wallace.

The home was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Yarborough for 42 years and was the birthplace of three generations of descendants. Sen. Yarborough was born in the house in 1882. The marker will honor him as well as his parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Yarborough served their golden wedding anniversary in the home and Mr. Yarborough administered the oath of office to Sen. Yarborough Jan. 3, 1966, in the room where the marker was born.

Mr. Yarborough died a few years ago at the age of 102. Mrs. Yarborough preceded him in death.

CHANDLER — A Texas State Historical Survey marker was placed Sunday at the home where Sen. Ralph Yarborough was born and reared. Former Atty. Gen. John Ben Sheppard presided over the dedication drama at the unadorned and simple Yarborough residence a remodeling spree on behalf of the Yarborough family. The home was first occupied by Charles Richard Yarborough and Nannie Jane Spivey Yarborough, parents of the senator, in 1882.

Sen. Yarborough was born in 1882, shortly after his parents moved into the home. The elder Yarborough was a Justice of the Peace in 1884; he administered the oath of office to the 10th Senator of the United States, C. R. Yarborough, died at the home in 1902, at the age of 10.

At the ceremony, Mrs. Clyde Eads of Murchison presented a history of the house and the Yarborough family. Sen. Yarborough has eight surviving brothers and sisters.

Randolph County Judge Joe

Sen. Lee of Athens and Mayor John Weston of Chandler welcomed the crowd at the dedication. John L. Clark introduced guests.

A delegation of Alabama-Coushatta Indians from the reservation in Polk County also attended.

R. T. Craig, editor of the Chandler Times, introduced Sen. Yarborough. Yarborough was once employed by Craig on his newspaper.

Cowards at the dedication included US District Judge Joe Shively of Tyler, Joe Fisher of Beaumont and James Neal and Woodrow Seal of Houston; US Marshals Bob Nash of Dallas and Fort Worth and Del W. Reynolds of Tyler; United States District Attorney Wayne Justice of Athens, Texas State Land Commissioner Jerry Landry of Austin, Congressman Underwood of Washington, Beta Headley of the Dallas Regional Post Office and several other government officials.

Dear Reader:

Just as our printer was putting his finishing touches on the last issue of the Tarborough Family Magazine, a hot Tarborough news story developed, unfortunately, too late for publication. Thus, we now proudly announce the addition of a new branch to the Tarborough family tree. Our daughter, Vicki Lynn Tarborough, weighing in at 7 lbs., 11 ozs., was born on 22 December 1966 at St. David's Community Hospital here in Austin.

The Austin Statesman

She's doing fine, and we plan to start training her to type and do Tarborough research work any day now! By the way, she's our first.

As we promised, in this issue we have an article on the Tarborough coat-of-arms. Because of the complexity of this subject, it is rather long, and will be presented in a series. We hope to have completed it by the last issue of Volume One.

In order to appeal to more readers, we are trying to present material from many branches of the family. One of our policies is to try not to concentrate too much on any one branch or any one geographical area. Checking through our first three issues we find that we have slighted you Tennessee Tarboroughs. Therefore, our next issue will be largely devoted to Tennessee material. Just a little something for some of you to look forward to.

Cordially yours,

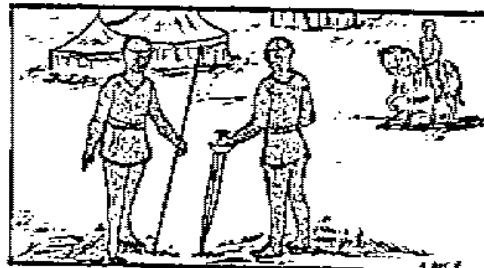

Charles and
Jean Tarborough

HERALDRY and the YARBOROUGH COAT-OF-ARMS

Today the history and practice of bearing, displaying, and recording family arms (armorial insignia) is known as heraldry. In the past, heraldry, a practice which began in the Middle Ages and had become entrenched in both England and Europe by the end of the Twelfth Century, also included the devising (giving by will) and granting (giving by deed) of these arms. Almost from its beginning it has had a set of rules and technical language all its own.

The word "heraldry" is usually associated with the term "coat-of-arms." But exactly what is a coat-of-arms, how is it connected with heraldry, and how did the two develop?

Twelfth Century England saw the advent of body armour, the first type in general use being chain mail. Chain mail armour, which was made in many styles and patterns, may be most easily described by calling it a suit made of small interlinking metal wires, loops, or rings, covering its wearer from head to toe. Because knights wearing chain mail, with only their faces showing, were indistinguishable, the surcoat came into use. This coat, which was sleeveless and was worn over the armour, was decorated with symbols or designs chosen by its wearer, and served as identification. Thus, the coat of arms came into being. Serving as a personal device, this identification was also used on the banner, the horse trapper (cover), and the shield.

As time progressed the personal devices (called charges) used on coats of arms became marks of possession, and no two men in the same region could use identical designs. Besides being used on battle paraphernalia these personal devices came into use as identification marks for nearly all tangible property, being employed in architecture, clothing, and jewelry. Once a personal device had been adopted it was passed from father to son just as other property. In fact, an English court in 1348 ruled that these devices were property. Eventually any personal device became known as a coat-of-arms. Today the coat-of-arms, often referred to as "family arms," is thought of as a heraldic bearing usually composed of a shield and its various accessories.

In tournaments of the Middle Ages heralds were professional criers or proclaimers. When a knight entered the lists to joust, it was the herald's duty to recognize him and announce his name and titles to the assembly. Often, the only way a knight, fully suited in his armour, could be recognized was by his coat of arms; consequently, heralds became much concerned with them. Thus, heraldry, the recognition of coats of arms, had its beginning. Today, while English Heralds, among other duties, have responsibility for the recording of family arms and pedigrees, any activity done in connection with a coat-of-arms, whether or not by a herald, is known as heraldry.

A typical coat-of-arms is composed of the shield with its charges, the coronet or crown, the helmet, the wreath, and the mantling. This array is known as an "achievement." Ancillary to the coat-of-arms are the motto and supporters.

One of the practices connected with heraldry is known as "blazoning." Blazoning is the describing of a coat-of-arms in an accepted sequence of technical terms.

The official coat-of-arms of the English Yarborough (actually "Tarburgh" or "Terburgh") family, as registered with the College of Arms, London, England, is blazoned as follows:

[All rights reserved.]

Shield--Per pale argent and azure, a chevron between three chaplets of roses counter-changed.

Crest--A falcon beaked or, preying on a mallard proper.

Supporters--On either side a falcon, wings extended, beaked or, gorged with a chaplet of roses azure.

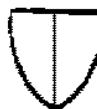

Supposedly, an artist talented in heraldry can take this combination of words and a pen and ink, and come out with a sketch of the Yarborough coat-of-arms. But how? Here, part by part, is the explanation:

The Shield

The shield or escutcheon is the most important part of the achievement; it bears the actual arms. But what shape shield is to be used when drawing the Yarborough coat-of-arms? Originally a shield's shape had a special heraldic meaning, usually representing the century in which the particular arms first came into use; however, the modern heraldic shield basically takes one of two forms: it is somewhat triangular heart-shaped, or it is somewhat squarish. Currently the choice is at the option and to the taste of the artist, and should be appropriate to the contents of the shield in establishing a feeling of balance or symmetry. Because of the rather simple charges of the Yarborough shield, the less bulky triangular heart-shaped shield seems to be proper.

Description of the Yarborough shield begins with Per pale... The first step in blazoning is naming the field; hence, per pale refers to the type field. Specifically, it means a shield partitioned (divided equally) vertically with a single line. The next words are ...argent and azure... These describe the metal and tincture (color) of the shield. In heraldry there are two basic metals: or (gold) and argent (silver), depicted in pen and ink by the heraldic artist with dots and white, respectively. The five basic colors used are gules (red), shown by vertical lines; azure (blue), shown by horizontal lines; sable (black), shown by small squares; vert (green), shown by diagonal lines from left down to right; and purpure (purple), shown by diagonal lines from right down to left. Heraldry has no set shades. They are left to the discretion of the artist. The general rule of colors is that a metal should never be placed upon a metal, nor a color upon a color. Applying all this to the Yarborough shield, it can be visualized as being half silver and half blue.

But there is more to the description--...a chevron... This, the third term of the description, is known as the principal charge or honorable ordinary. It is simply a geometrical figure or some other prominent design placed upon the shield. Imagine a chevron superimposed on the shield which has previously been described. Now come the words ...between three chaplets of roses... This is the lesser charge or subordinary. It is usually some sort of figure or design, here chaplets (garlands) of roses, arranged complementary to the principal charge. Finally, there is the term ...counter-changed, meaning that the color and metal of each field is interchanged in each charge. Thus, the chevron and garlands would be blue on the silver side of the shield and silver on the blue side. Perhaps an artist might desire to be more elaborate, and dress up the shield by going slightly beyond the heraldic description. Here he could easily do so by giving true colors to the garlands of roses rather than using the named metal and color. Besides livening up the color scheme, this would make the shield quite a bit more appealing to the eye.

In review, the following are the various parts of the shield of the Yarbrough coat-of-arms:

the field: per pale, counter-changed;
the metal: argent;
the color: azure;
the principal charge: a chevron;
the lesser charge: three chaplets of roses.

Ex-cst. Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Yarbrough of El Dorado, Arkansas

Line of WILLIAM YARBROUGH
of Ouachita County, Arkansas

Of the two sons and ten daughters of James Yarbrough, a Primitive Baptist preacher of Marengo Co., Alabama, one was William Yarbrough.<sup>1</sup> William was born 1798 in one of the Carolinas,<sup>2</sup> and died at Elliott, Ouachita Co., Arkansas 14 October 1871.<sup>3</sup> His first marriage was to Martha Sample on 15 October 1826 in Marengo Co., Alabama.<sup>4</sup> He subsequently married Susan Morris,<sup>5</sup> and later Elisebeth W. (Jordan) Smith, a widow, ca. 1848-49 in Ouachita Co., Arkansas.<sup>6</sup> Elisebeth was born in 1812 in Western Tennessee--near Dyersburg,<sup>7</sup> and died 7 September 1889 in Ouachita Co., Arkansas. Both William and Elisebeth are buried in Bethesda Cemetery at Elliott, Arkansas.<sup>8</sup>

William Yarbrough went to Arkansas in the early 1840's with his brother, Nathan.<sup>9</sup> Although Nathan settled in Union County,<sup>10</sup> William settled in Ouachita. At that time, 1841, William had with him two children by his early marriages, a son, James, born ca. 1830 in Alabama,<sup>11</sup> and a daughter, Elizabeth Hell Yarbrough, born 1840, died 1864.<sup>12</sup>

William Yarbrough's children by his wife Elisebeth were:<sup>13</sup>

- Octavia Yarbrough
- Richard Yarbrough
- Alfred Yarbrough
- Charles Franklin Yarbrough

Octavia Yarbrough was born ca. 1850 in Arkansas.<sup>14</sup> After her marriage to Jack Butler in 1873, they moved to Texas, where she met with an early death near Waco.<sup>15</sup>

Richard and Alfred Yarbrough died when they were six and ten years of age, respectively, ca. 1865 and 1866.<sup>16</sup>

Charles Franklin Yarbrough was born 25 August 1856 in Elliott, Ouachita Co., Arkansas, and died 8 September 1944 in Atlanta, Cass Co., Texas.<sup>17</sup> He married Martha Georgia (Thompson) Smith, a widow, on 24 January 1875 at Alto, Cherokee Co., Texas.<sup>18</sup> She was born 28 May 1840.<sup>19</sup> After her death, 21

April 1908 in Camden, Arkansas,<sup>20</sup> Charles married another widow, Mrs. Emma Retta (Renfro) Ricketts, on 9 January 1910 in Ouachita County.<sup>21</sup> His second wife, a native of Ouachita County, was born 26 March 1878.<sup>22</sup> She preceded Charles in death, dying in Elliott, Arkansas in 1922.<sup>23</sup>

Charles Franklin Yarbrough's children by his first wife were as follows:<sup>24</sup>

Mary Pearl Yarbrough
Jewel Yarbrough
Charles Stevens Yarbrough
Robert William Yarbrough
Ruby McBride Yarbrough

By his second wife, Charles Franklin Yarbrough had these children:<sup>25</sup>

William Aubrey Yarbrough
Pascal Riley Yarbrough
Ruth Yarbrough } twins
Rachel Yarbrough

Mary Pearl Yarbrough was born on 27 January 1876 in Limestone County, Texas, and died 20 April 1925 in Sand Springs, Tulsa County, Oklahoma. She first married Oscar Dials, and then Mike Trimble.<sup>26</sup>

Jewel Yarbrough, born 16 October 1878 at Hubbard City, Hill County, Texas, died in 1950 at El Dorado, Union Co., Arkansas, being buried at Stamps, Lafayette Co., Arkansas.<sup>27</sup> On 26 October 1900 she married John C. Mitchell,<sup>28</sup> born at Stamps 29 September 1870, son of Thomas Mitchell and Ann Stanley.<sup>29</sup>

Charles Stevens Yarbrough, who, on 13 October 1879, was born at Hubbard City, Hill County, Texas,<sup>30</sup> died 15 December 1954 in El Dorado, Arkansas.<sup>31</sup> After attending the University of Arkansas, he married Lula Rebecca Murphy at El Dorado on 10 December 1905.<sup>32</sup> Lula was born 25 December 1885 in Union Co., Arkansas, the daughter of Hial Gray Murphy, Jr. and Mattie Lutisia (Smith) Murphy.<sup>33</sup>

Charles Stevens Yarbrough's children were as follows:<sup>34</sup>

Lorraine Yarbrough (died young)
Robert Franklin Yarbrough
Helen Marie Yarbrough
Mattie Luticia Yarbrough (died young)
Luella Burl Yarbrough (died young)
Infant
Laura Lucille Yarbrough
Theda Rebecca Yarbrough

Robert William Yarbrough was born on 1 January 1883 at Elliott, Arkansas. He now lives in Hope, Hempstead Co., Arkansas.<sup>35</sup> He married Alice Missouri Mitchell, the daughter of Thomas Mitchell and Ann Stanley, in Camden, Ouachita County, on 9 January 1904.<sup>36</sup> Children are:<sup>37</sup>

Linnie M. Yarbrough (died young)
Maurine Minnie Yarbrough
Robert Franklin Yarbrough
Dorothy Belle Yarbrough

Ruby McBride Yarbrough, who was born on 22 March 1886 at Elliott, Arkansas,<sup>38</sup> died 23 April 1911 at El Dorado.<sup>39</sup> She married Edward Rowser on 10 February 1907 at Camden, Ouachita Co., Arkansas.<sup>40</sup>

William Aubrey Yarbrough was born on 19 March 1911 at Elliott, Arkansas, and he later lived near Mercedes, Hidalgo Co., Texas. He married Miriam Dolly Schwartz and they had the following children:<sup>41</sup>

Billie Ann Yarbrough
Myrvin Lynn Yarbrough

Pascal Riley Yarbrough, who was born 13 June 1913 at Elliott, Arkansas, married Lucille Gorham of Norphlet, Union County. They had one child, Nancy Faye Yarbrough.<sup>42</sup>

Ruth Yarbrough, a twin, was born 5 June 1916 at Elliott, Arkansas, dying 15 May 1949 at Atlanta, Texas. She was married to Herbert Gorham, brother of her sister-in-law, Lucille.<sup>43</sup>

Rachel Yarbrough, a twin, was born at Elliott, Arkansas on 5 June 1916. First she married Irve Marx, later marrying Irve Schmidkis.<sup>44</sup>

DR. A.S. YARBROUGH

"Connected with his practice, which he has made a complete success, Dr. A.S. Yarbrough, Como, Miss., is also engaged in farming, and is possessed of those advanced ideas and principles which can not fail to place him in the front ranks as an agriculturist. He was born in Marshall county, Miss., on the 12th of October, 1840, and is the son of Charles and Sallie S.
(Anderson) Yarbrough, the father a native of Franklin county, N.C., and the mother of Lunenburg district, Va. The Yarbrough family is of English extraction, and the first immigrants to this country made their appearance here prior to the Revolution. Many descendants now reside in North Carolina. Charles Yarbrough was reared in North Carolina, was married in Tennessee to Miss Anderson, and in 1839 he moved to Marshall county, Miss., where he followed the occupation of a farmer. He became quite wealthy, and died in Marshall county in 1873. The mother is still living, and is seventy-eight years of age. Seven of the eleven children born to this union grew to mature years, and are named as follows: Martha G., wife of James Sims of Holly Springs; Beatrice (deceased), was the wife of the late Dr. W.M. Compton; Charles G., a farmer of Marshall county;

Dr. A.S.; G.W. and J. Henry, both farmers of Marshall county, and John W. (deceased). Dr. A.S. Yarbrough spent his boyhood days on his father's farm in Marshall county, and when eighteen years of age, owing to ill health, he went to Texas, where he spent a year with the cow boys [sic]. He then returned to Mississippi, studied medicine under the late Dr. William H.
Compton, and took a course of lectures in the medical college at Nashville, Tenn. At the commencement of the late war he entered the Confederate army as a private in company I, First Mississippi Infantry, commanded by Captain Milans. Soon after, on making an application to be examined in medicine and surgery, he was appointed surgeon in 1862. He was in the engagement at Fort Donelson, was captured and taken to Round City, Ill., where he was left with the wounded of his command. Subsequently, fearing that he should be taken farther north, Dr.
Yarbrough made his escape, crossing the Ohio river when it was eight miles in width, (this was before it was agreed upon that physicians should not be considered prisoners of war), and then reported to his colonel, who was at Shannon, Miss. He was granted a furlough. He joined his regiment as soon [as] it was exchanged, was a participant of the siege of Port Hudson, and was again captured. Upon being released he reported to Gen.
Joseph E. Johnston, who was near Jackson, Miss. His regiment was soon exchanged, and his command joined the army of Tennessee, taking part in all fights around Atlanta, Ga., and being with Hood in the Tennessee campaign. He was in the battles of Franklin and Nashville, and after retreating from the latter place to Vernon, Miss., he was given a furlough. He was on the way to join his command when he met Jefferson Davis on his retreat from Richmond, near Washington, Ga. Dr. Yarbrough was then paroled, and returned to the peaceful pursuits of farm life. In 1865 he wedded Miss Texana J. Wilbourn, daughter of Elijah and Eliza Wilbourn, and them were born three children, all daughters: Hattie B., wife of J.B. Davis, of Nashville, Tenn.; May B., wife of J.B. Hardlaw, of Como, Miss.; Winnie L., at home, single. Dr. Yarbrough lost his estimable wife in 1873. His second marriage was to Miss Emma McGee, daughter of Edward and Sarah (McGee) McGee, a very prominent pioneer family of Panola county [Mississippi]. By his last union the Doctor became the father of one son, Archie. Dr. Yarbrough has been a resident of Panola county since 1865, and of his farm for about ten years. He was elected to the state legislature by the democratic party in 1889. He has one of the largest and best improved plantations in the county--two thousand three hundred acres, with one thousand five hundred acres under cultivation, and has all the latest improved machinery for conducting the same. He stands high in the estimation of all who know him.<sup>1</sup>

CECIL SENTELL YARBROUGH

"YARBROUGH, CECIL SENTELL, physician, was born March 10, 1878, at Orion, Pike County [Alabama]; son of Joseph Stratton and Jane (Thrower) Yarbrough, the former who was a native of Georgia, and was for fifty-five years a Baptist preacher; grandson of Stokes A. and Nancy (Allen) Yarbrough, the latter who was a descendant of Col. Ethan Allen of Revolutionary fame, and of Captain Joseph Sentell who served in the Indian Wars of 1813-1814; great grandson of John Yarbrough who immigrated from Ireland to America.<sup>2</sup> Mr. Yarbrough was educated in the public schools of Orion and Luverne, and at the Montgomery high school; attended the University of Tennessee and was graduated M.D., in 1901; took post-graduate course at Chicago university, 1905; and at New York, 1906. In May, 1907, he entered upon the practice of his profession; located at Society Hill; later removed to Lafayette; and finally settled in Auburn; was a member of the city council of Auburn, 1910-14; and served as town health officer for five years. He is a Democrat; a Baptist; and a Knight of Pythias. Married: March 18, 1903, at Auburn, to Bertha Mae Grout, daughter of Oscar D. and Ella Grout of that place, the former who served in the U.S. Army; and granddaughter of John Theodore and Mary Louise (Cheek) Grout. Children: 1. Oscar DeMell; 2. Jane; 3. Cecil S., Jr. Residence: Auburn."<sup>3</sup>

JOHN SWANSON YARBROUGH

"John S. Yarbrough was born in Central Europe, the son of Dutch parents.<sup>5</sup> During his childhood his family moved to the southern United States. Yarbrough grew into manhood in Georgia and Alabama. After he had been married for several years, he journeyed to Texas and landed at Indianola during the middle 1850's. In 1858 he moved into McMullen County [Texas] and was one of the pioneer settlers of Yarbrough Bend, the first settlement to be established within the county. He immediately began capturing wild cattle and horses and entered the livestock industry. The date of his death is not known."<sup>6</sup>

QUERIES

1. JAMES YARBROUGH

Who were the parents of James Yarbrough, Primitive Baptist preacher of Marengo Co., Ala., who died ca. 1830 in western Ala., probably Marengo Co.; two sons: William and Nathan; ten daughters [see 1 YFM 73]? When and where was he born? Whom did he marry? Mrs. Robert F. Yarbrough, 1327 Mt. Holly, El Dorado, Ark. 71730

2. JAMES YARBROUGH
GROVES YARBROUGH

Proof needed that James Yarbrough, who is said to have been killed with his son Charles by Indians in Georgia, is the father of Groves Yarbrough, b. 9 May 1776 in N.C., d. 14 Nov. 1857 in Franklin Co., Ga. (see 1 YFM 82). Also, need records of Groves Yarbrough's marriages: (1) to Miss Chamblin--two children, James Wyatt and Wiley, born; (2) to Mrs. Martha Langston--fifteen children born. Mrs. Elizabeth Gilliland, Rt. 1, Box 33K, Carlsbad, N.M. 88220.

3. EDMOND YARBROUGH

Who were the parents of Edmond Yarbrough, b. ca. 1762 in Anson Co., N.C.; d. ca. 1850 at 85 in Decatur or Perry Co., Tenn; lived in Anson and Mecklenburg Counties, N.C.; m. Sophia Gossett; sons: Henry, James, William, Joseph, John H.; daughters: Nancy (Y.) Fisher, Aquila? Mrs. Zelma McElrath, 7046 Canary Court, El Paso, Tex. 79916 and Mrs. Dorothy Heaner, P.O. Dear Readers:

In this issue, our thickest to date, we have continued our article on the Yarborough coat-of-arms. Also, as well as other selected Tennessee materials, we have published about one-third of the 1880 Tennessee Yarborough census material. The remaining thirds will be published in subsequent issues. You native Tennessee Yarboroughs should be able to find your ancestors in some of this. Good luck.

The next issue will be the last issue of Vol. I. In it we shall include an index and corrections for the volume and an evaluation of our first year of publication.

Regrettably, we must report that Mr. Robert Edward Yarborough of Meridian, Mississippi, to whom the second issue of Vol. I (see 1 YFM 29) was dedicated in honor of his 100th birthday, passed away on 14 February 1967 at the age of one hundred years, four months, and eleven days from complications following pneumonia and two strokes. A telegram from his great grandson, Bryant Edward McDonald, a student at Princeton, to relatives at home, expressed the feelings of the entire family: "Dear all, I share with you your sorrow on the loss of the Head of our family and a great Christian man. Big Papa was always an inspiration to me, and now that he is gone I wish I could have been closer to him. We would all do well to follow his example of friendliness, humility and Christian Dedication. We are blessed with the memory of an uncommon man."

In a speech given by U.S. Senator Ralph W. Yarborough before a joint session of the Texas State Legislature in Austin, Texas on 17 April 1967 the following remarks were made: "My immediate ancestors and family have lived in Texas for 120 years. There were Yarboroughs, a branch of our family, in Houston's army at San Jacinto...." Now, who says that genealogy and politics don't mix?

Sincerely,

Charles and Jean Yarborough

HERALDRY and the YARBOROUGH COAT-OF-ARMS

The Coronet

The shield of a coat-of-arms is often ensigned (has a charge placed above) with official headgear of rank. Headgear for a peer (a person included in the rank of nobility) is an open coronet, while headgear for the Sovereign is a closed crown. Coronets of different designs are used for duke, viscount, earl, marquess, and baron. Since the titular head of the English Yarborough family is a baron, a baron's coronet appears on the English Yarborough coat-of-arms.

The baron's coronet is a plain silver circlet set with six large silver balls of which four are visible:

The Helmet

Also a part of the headgear, the helmet is placed above the coronet. It differs in position, design, and color according to the rank of the bearer of the coat-of-arms upon which it appears. Artistically, it serves as a link between the shield and crest. As stated above, the titular head of the English Yarborough family is a baron; thus the peer helmet is used with the English Yarborough coat-of-arms. The helmet for peers is silver with five gold bars. It is placed above the shield and coronet, and faces dexter (left). Helmets of other designs denote the Sovereign, baronets, knights, esquires, and gentlemen.

The Wreath

Shown encircling the top of the helmet of a coat-of-arms is a crest wreath (also called a torse). Originally this was a wreath of twisted silk, its purpose being to hold the mantling (top cloak) secure on the helmet. In heraldry it is represented as a twist of two or more colors, which appear in six alternate folds. Generally, it is of the two main colors of the shield; therefore, the wreath of the Yarborough coat-of-arms is of azure and argent.

The Mantling

Originally, mantling (also called the lambregain) was a silken mantle used to keep the heat of the sun off the back of the helmet and body armor. In a coat-of-arms it is used decoratively as an artistic balancing and space-filling device. It may be represented in many ways, the choice being up to the artist. Its gracefully contorted twists and flourishes may be leaf-like, feather-like, scroll-like, or in some other attractive design. Presently, heraldic practice is for mantling to be of the colors. Accordingly, Yarborough coat-of-arms mantling is azure and argent.

NOTES ON THE WILLIAM HEALY YARBROUGH LINE

William Healy Yarbrough was born in Alabama about 1830. His father was from Tennessee and his mother from South Carolina. His wife, Mary E. Lewis, was born in Alabama about 1835. She was the daughter of Dennis Lewis of Tennessee. Her mother was also born in Tennessee, but we do not know her name.<sup>1</sup>

William and Mary apparently married in Alabama<sup>2</sup> and came to Texas by way of Arkansas.<sup>3</sup> Their oldest child, William B., was born there about 1855. By about 1852 they were somewhere in Texas because their next child,<sup>4</sup> Sarah, was born in Texas;<sup>5</sup> as were the remainder of their children, including Amanda, Joseph, Nathan, Robert, and Oscarlan.<sup>6</sup>

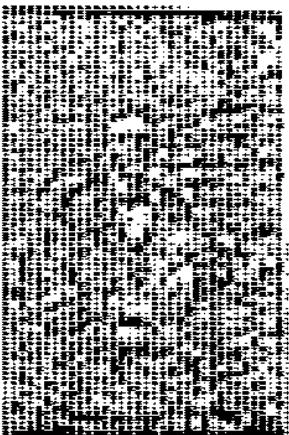

They traveled by covered wagon to Texas. They possibly lived in Milam County around Cameron when they first came to Texas. They settled in Limestone County between 1870 and 1880 according to the census. They later went back to Cameron for a visit, and on the return trip Healy became ill from an apparent heart attack. The family tried to get a doctor, but he died almost instantly.

The kind people found a vacant house for Healy's family and set up beds for them to stay. Healy was buried there. This possibly took place around 1880 to 1883.

The family then came back to the community of Old Union in Limestone County.<sup>7</sup> They stayed with Mary Yarbrough's brother, Hiram (Gadé) Lewis on the old Reeves place until they could get settled on their property which is still known today as 'The Yarbrough Field.'<sup>8</sup> They bought this property which is located southeast of the Union school house adjoining the property now owned by H.P. (Babe) Yarbrough.

After a few short years they moved to Buffalo Gap in Taylor County near Abilene, Texas. Joseph, being the eldest, assumed the responsibilities as head of the household. They herded sheep for a living.

"We do not know anything else about their travels after that; however, they eventually came back to Old Union. Mary died there from blood poisoning in the foot caused from stepping on a tack. She is buried in the Union cemetery along with at least three of her children--Bill, Ellie, & Sally.

"Nathan Earl Yarbrough, fifth child of Mary & [William] Nealy Yarbrough, was born in Milam County, Texas, September 18, 1873. At the age of six he was in Limestone County as listed on the 1880 census.

"He was apparently a happy, lively, inquisitive person, even though the family suffered many trials and hardships. An example of this was an incident that occurred after his father's death when the family lived on 'The Yarbrough Field.' They lived in a house with a dirt floor. One night some of their pigs broke out of the pen and tried to root under the kitchen door. Nathan picked up a piece of stove wood and threw it in the darkness, striking a pig and killing it. Fearing the consequences, he dragged the pig deep into the woods and hid it. He never told of the incident until he was a grown man.

"Another example of his ability to love and appreciate life was shown by the fact that he found pleasure even in work. While herding sheep at Buffalo Gap, he found time to chase rabbits and prairie dogs.

"Another time, during his teenage years, he was hunting with several friends. Their dogs treed a small wildcat. The others climbed the tree to scare the cat out. They told Nathan to put his hat over the cat when it jumped to the ground. Instead, the cat landed in his arms. He covered it with his hat as he was told. The dogs were running and barking around him. When he realized that he actually had the cat in his arms, he removed the hat. The cat was so scared he was staring wide-eyed and weak and gentle as a kitten. He took it home and raised it as a pet.

"Nathan had very little formal education. He attended school in the community of Independence in Limestone County. He estimated that he attained the equivalent of the sixth or seventh grade because he studied Texas History; however, his thirst for knowledge was never ended, and he continued always to study and educate himself. He seemed to be blessed with natural wisdom. He was reared as a member of the Church of Christ and lived for some time during his teenage years with Malcolm Smith, and they did church work together. At some time during the time that he lived in Limestone County, he met the girl he would someday marry.

"He moved to Navarro County during his late teens. At the age of twenty he returned to Limestone County and married Delilah Angelina Cox, granddaughter of Thomas and Patsy Cox.

"Delilah Angelina Cox (usually called Annie) was born September 9, 1878, in Limestone County, Texas, in the Old Union community on the Old Cox home place. She was the eighth child of Obadiah Cox and the fifth child born to Eliza and Obadiah. She lived in the Old Union community until the time of her marriage. Nothing much is known of her life until that time.

"Nathan Earl Yarbrough and Delilah Angelina were married August 17, 1894. Nathan was twenty years old, and Annie was fifteen. Nathan lived in Navarro County at that time. He came to Old Union to get Annie in a covered wagon. His brother, "Bill," a widower, came with him. Bill was getting married for the second time to Elizabeth Cox (Obadiah's sister). The Justice of the Peace came out and married both couples in the wagon.

"They stayed with Obadiah and Eliza Cox for a while, then they returned to Mexell, Texas, in Navarro County. Their first three children were born there. Alva Elma was born May 14, 1896. Orlan Gertrude was born January 25, 1899. The weather was very cold and snow was everywhere when she was born. They had no wood for fire, so Nathan went to hunt some. He found someone else's wood already cut and stacked and took a wagon load. This was very unusual for a man of Nathan's character.

Their third child, Cecil Wade, was born November 16, 1901. When Cecil (Bud) was two years old, which would be about 1903, Nathan moved his family to Oklahoma. Nathan's brothers, Bill and Joe Yarbrough, and their families and Nathan's brother-in-law, Sid Clark, and his family all traveled in three or four wagons on the trip to Oklahoma. They traveled in the fall of the year, and it was very cold.

Cecil (Bud) was only two years old, but he drove the family wagon all the way from Navarro County to Ravig, Oklahoma, near Chickasha. Ravig was a very small place. Nathan farmed there for about a year and worked at the sawmill some. They had some Indian neighbors who came to visit quite often. The Indians spoke both English and their native tongue. Annie was never at ease with them because she thought they were plotting to kill her when they were speaking in Indian.

Nathan and Annie had two children born in Oklahoma. Melvin Percy was born March 2, 1904. He later became known as Baby Percy and then later just Babe, which he is still called today. Once when Cecil was thinning corn, Melvin stuck his head under Cecil's hoe, and was practically beheaded.

Nathan and Annie's fifth child, Clifford Eugene, was born September 17, 1907. He lived less than a month and died October 3, 1907. He was buried in Oklahoma.

In approximately 1908 the Yarbrough family returned to Limestone County by train. They moved to the old Preacher Reeves place where their sixth child, Mary Edith Lavellie, was born on July 8, 1909. She said that the only thing she could remember about her childhood was that she was a very pretty child. Gertrude was ten years old at the time Edith was born and had to wash her diapers--she thought Gertrude greatly detested and never let Edith forget.

The family then moved to the Uncle Jim Cox place across Oooley Creek. Their seventh child, Vivian Odene, was born there on January 11, 1912. She was later nicknamed Fag because of the way she padded so loudly across the floor in her bare feet.

They then moved to the Uncle Hughes Henderson place about one fourth mile from the church house. Here, Inith Euaine, their eighth child, was born on July 27, 1914. Inith had very bad leg aches as a child, and her mother had to rub them for her every night so that she could sleep.

When Millicent Hazel, their ninth child, was born, Nathan and Annie were living with Obadiah and Eliza on the old Cox home place. She was born on April 10, 1918, during World War I.

They purchased the property now known as the Nathan Yarbrough home place on October 9, 1917, from Cale T. and Jennie Cox (Annie's brother and sister-in-law). Cale had purchased the property from his father, Obadiah Cox for the sum of $325 in 1910. The deed was signed by Obadiah Cox and Eliza Cox, who could only sign with an X, as she could neither read nor write. Nathan and Annie bought the seventy-five acres for $1125 ($15. per acre). They paid $225 deposit. Edith has possession of the original deed.

They lived with Eliza for a while after they bought the property. After Hazel was born, they moved to their house they had built just below the present Cecil Yarbrough home. They lived there until they built the house now known as the Yarbrough home place in 1936.

The family spent many happy hours as the children all grew to be young men and women. There are some very interesting and humorous stories told by various ones. Edith said she was so mean that she stunk. She also told of hoeing watermelons while Vivian held an umbrella over her head. She was very sensitive about her slip showing. When they started anywhere, if her slip showed the least bit, she threw a fit and would get so upset that her mother would get upset, and everybody had to stay home.

"Once Edith and Cleo Cox (Aunt Tex's daughter) climbed a barn with a steep roof. It had been raining, and the roof was slick. They slipped and tried to hold on. Cleo grabbed the top of the roof, and Edith held on to Cleo's foot. As if that was not enough, along came a scorpion. They started screaming, and Nathan heard them. He said if they had been boys, he would have left them up there, but he had a soft touch for the girls and got them a ladder.

"Hazel, being the youngest of the family, was left to play alone because the other children had other interests. She played in the corn field and called all the corn stalks different people.

"Nathan was very active in civic and church affairs. He was a trustee of the Old Union school and then of the Ogletha school after they consolidated. He had gone to singing schools held by various teachers that came to the community during his younger years. He became an excellent singer and leader in the Church of Christ. He traveled to various communities singing for church meetings. He also conducted many singing schools. On a number of occasions he had to break up fights between the boys who came.

"He was loved and praised by everyone who knew him as a wise and fair-minded man. An example of his attitude toward mankind was the occasion when some young men stole some of his chickens. He found out who they were and went to talk to them. He told the boys that if they would just pay him for the chickens, that would be the end of it. They paid him and never stole another chicken from him.

"On another occasion he saw some boys going into his watermelon patch to steal some watermelons. He went down to the patch and found the boys with a green melon burst on the ground. He told them that he knew where there was a ripe one. He cut the ripe melon, and they all had a feast. He told them if they ever wanted a watermelon again, just to ask, and he would give them all they could eat. Needless to say, they did not rob his patch again.

"There always seemed to be something exciting or humorous going on where he was around. One night there was a bright moon, and a skunk got into his chickens. He chased the skunk with a hoe, and it turned and started after him. He had on his longhandles. He jumped upon a gate post and lay on his stomach with his arms and legs outstretched. He really was a sight in the moonlight.

"One night he was eating supper before going to church. He was in a hurry. He was eating a piece of pie and complained of the crust being very tough. Annie noticed that he was eating the paper pie plate as well as the pie.

"Nathan was a farmer by trade, and also had an orchard of beautiful peach and pear trees. These trees grew and flourished until the summer before his death when the heat and dry weather killed them. His orchard was profitable to him as well as a delight to his children and grandchildren.

"Annie Tarbrough was a very kind and gentle lady. She reared her family with a firm but loving hand. She loved flowers and had one of the prettiest yards in the community at the time of her death. Her favorite was roses, and she had a beautiful rose garden. She would go to the woods and bring back leaves for her flower beds. She was a very quiet, reserved person in contrast to the lively nature of Nathan.

"Nathan and Annie lived very happily until August 3, 1949, when Annie departed this life. She had a heart attack about a week before her death. She seemed to be doing better on the morning she died, but had another attack. She was 65 years of age. Nathan lived alone for a while, ...[later marrying] Annie's sister, Mary. She was also the widow of Nathan's brother, Joe Yarbrough.

"Mary and Nathan had a gratifying and comforting companionship in their aging years. ...[In her later years,] Mary also died of a heart attack. Nathan stayed on at the home place, even though he had suffered a stroke that had partially paralyzed him. His daughter, Edith, and her family came to live with him and take care of him. He later suffered another stroke which almost completely paralyzed him. He was never able to talk again. He could, however, pick up a song book and sing from it until a third stroke took his life on November 5, 1952.

The Yarbrough property was divided among the children. Edith bought the property surrounding the home place from the rest of the children, and Cecil bought all the cultivated land.

Item 7th I will that if my wife Leannah Yarborough should with the consent of my executors judge it best to hire out my personal estate or any part thereof that it be done to the best advantage & further if my wife Leannah Yarborough with the consent of my executors at any time should judge it best to sell my real estate, they may do so & convert the money arising therefrom into other lands to be dominated apart of my estate. Item 8. I will that my son Brockenbrough M. Yarborough at the division of my estate have a negro boy Sam valued to him by two good men if he should think proper to take him at valuations. And lastly I constitute and appoint my trusty friend John Thompson my son William P. Yarborough, and my son Joseph J. Yarborough Executors to this my last will and testament. In witness whereof I hereunto set my hand & seal this twenty ninth day of August one thousand eight hundred and twenty five.

Signed Sealed and Acknowledged
In the presence of Alexander
Hibane, Absalom Thompson
Thomas Walton

1880 TENNESSEE FEDERAL CENSUS RECORDS

In the year 1880 more than one hundred Yarbrough families were living in thirty-seven Tennessee counties. The following federal census records of these families are listed alphabetically by county names. Within counties listing is numerically by district, and within district, numerically by household.

To help the reader geographically locate the county in which a certain family is listed, all thirty-seven counties have been assigned consecutive numbers in their alphabetical order. Corresponding numbers appear on the counties in the Tennessee map on page 107.

All names appear exactly as they are on the census. Names of states of birth and other census information have been abbreviated to conserve space.

BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCHES

JASPER A. YARBROUGH.

"JASPER A. YARBROUGH, register of Marshall County [Tennessee], is a son of George and Nancy E. [Gibbons] Yarbrough. The father was born in North Carolina and the mother in Tennessee. They were married in Tennessee, and their family consisted of ten children. Jasper's maternal grandparents had twenty-six children and his paternal had fourteen. Both our subject's parents were members of the Methodist Episcopal Church. The father was a well-to-do farmer and had the honor of furnishing three brave boys for the war, one of whom was killed. The father lived to be about seventy-six and the mother about seventy-four. Our subject, who was born November 7, 1839, in Marshall County, is a man three feet and nine and a half inches in height. He was reared on the farm and received a practical education in the common schools. Having picked up the shoemaker's trade he worked at it for about eight years, besides teaching school. He was always a very handy workman and could make a suit of clothes, knit a pair of socks, or almost anything he turned his hand to. In 1874 he was elected register, and has held that position ever since with ability and to the satisfaction of the people. In 1881 he wedded Lizzie McKee. The fruits of this union were three children, two of whom are living. Mr. & Mrs. Yarbrough are members of the Methodist Episcopal Church. He has been a citizen of Marshall County for forty-six years. In politics he is a warm Democrat."<sup>1</sup>

FRANCIS H. YARBROUGH

"Francis H. Yarbrough was born in this county and State [Montgomery County, Tennessee] November 5, 1832. He is the fourth of ten children born to John and Mary (Vaughn) Yarbrough. His parents were natives of Virginia and Tennessee, and died in 1856 and 1857, respectively. Our subject was united in marriage to Miss C. Davis, May 1, 1856. She was a native of Tennessee, born February 10, 1838. She is the youngest of fourteen children born to Joseph and Elizabeth (Martin) Davis, who were natives of this county and State. Mrs. Yarbrough died in 1882. To our subject and wife were born eight children: David L., Josiah, John R., William H., Bailey, Lessie, Milton M., and Ada. Bailey died in 1869. Josiah died in 1882. Mr. Yarbrough is of English descent, and was educated in the common schools of the county. He is a member of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, and a staunch Democrat. His boys manage the home farm, while he is principally engaged in working at his trade, blacksmithing and wagon-making. He is also a prominent contractor on the Louisville & Nashville Railroad."<sup>2</sup>

SILAS YARBROUGH

"Silas Yarbrough, a farmer of Stewart County [Tennessee], was born in this county, in 1827. He is one of eleven children born to the union of Nathan and Mary (Carter) Yarbrough. His parents were natives of North Carolina and about 1806 came to this county, and after marriage, spent their lives on the farm. The father was a soldier under Jackson on his campaign against the Creeks, of Georgia. Politically he was a Democrat and religiously a Missionary Baptist, as was also his wife. With long life they were especially blessed--he being seventy-seven when he died and she eighty-two. Silas' ancestors on both sides came from England. The immediate subject of this sketch grew up a farmer boy, received almost no schooling--not having attended more than eight months all told. After reaching manhood he picked up the carpenter's trade and worked theretofore some fourteen years, being one of the first workmen of the county. In 1858 he married Julia Landrum, who bore him six children. Both he and his wife are zealous workers in the Missionary Baptist Church. Mr. Yarbrough is a staunch Democrat. He has met with good success; having started with nothing he has worked out a farm of 235 acres."<sup>3</sup>

W.R.A. YARBROUGH

"The death of W.R.A. Yarbrough occurred near Nashville June 21, 1907. He had been in failing health for the past ten years, incident to infirmity of age and exposure during the war of 1861-65.

"Mr. Yarbrough was born in Charlotte, N.C., October 24, 1828, and was seventy-eight years and eight months old. He located in Montgomery, Ala., when a young man. When the tocsin of war was sounded between the North and the Southern States, he enlisted in the Confederate service in Company K, 22d Alabama Infantry Regiment. He served in the Army of Tennessee, commanded by Gen. A.S. Johnston, Braxton Bragg, and General Joseph E. Johnston, until the close of the war. He was detailed by General Bragg for special secret service, and made several trips to Nashville and other places inside Federal lines and procured medicine and surgical instruments, etc., for the Southern army. He often related interviews he had with Federal officers and soldiers while on the hazardous duty. After peace was declared, Mr. Yarbrough entered business in Montgomery, and was a successful coal merchant for twenty years. His health failing, he sought a change of climate in Texas and later in Nashville.

"He was a consistent Christian gentleman, a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South. He had been an inmate of the Confederate Soldiers' Home for the past three years of his own choice. He is survived by his wife and devoted son, Walter S. Yarbrough, of this city. The body was taken to Montgomery, Ala., attended by the son and widow."

NEWSLETTER

OF THE SMITH COUNTY HISTORICAL SOCIETY/TYLER, TEXAS/SEPTEMBER 1966

The first issue of the new "YARBOROUGH FAMILY MAGAZINE" contains an article on one of Smith County's early settlers, Richard Yarborough. Richard had two sons who served in the Douglas Battery and the picture of one of them (W.C.) appears in the magazine. It's the same picture (made in 1861) that we used in our book on the Battery and was loaned by Mrs. W.P. Eads, our member in Houston.

The six-times-a-year magazine is edited by Charles D. and Jean Smith Yarborough and subscriptions are $4.50 per year (P.O. Box 12011, Capitol Station, Austin 78711). Vol. 1, No. 1, published in August 1966, contains 16 pages plus 4 illustrations.

Yarborough News Bulletin Is Published

Following its appearance in El Dorado in Vol. 1, No. 1, of a publication called "Yarborough Family Magazine" edited and published by Charles D. and Jean Smith Yarborough in Austin, Tex.,

It was made available locally by Mrs. Robert Yarborough, 227 Mt. Holly, whose brother is a son of the late Charles S. Yarborough, one of the founders of the El Dorado branch of the family. It will be noted that the name of James here is spelled differently from that used by the authors of the magazine, but a relative says genealogical records indicate that all are branches of the same family.

This El Dorado issue states that the magazine will be published bi-monthly and will at different times feature various branches of the family in the United States along with photographs and notes on their economic activity. This particular issue discusses the birth of Richard Yarborough, born June 1, 1803, in Franklin County, Ala.

The El Dorado branch will be discussed in as early issues. Individuals interested in receiving the magazine or in having their names placed on the subscription rolls should contact Mrs. Yarborough or other members of the family.

In the coming volumes we plan to continue the same policy, procedure, and format. We had hoped to be able to reduce the subscription rate after a year of operation, but unfortunately this cannot be accomplished if we are to carry on as we have been.

With this issue a number of subscriptions expire, as will many others with the next. When yours expires you will receive notice. We hope to have you with us for another six issues.

Several of our friends and subscribers are going to donate bound copies of Volume No. 1 to their local libraries so that this material will be preserved for future generations. If you are interested, please contact us.

An agreement is currently being worked out with a bindery for special prices on binding volumes of the YFR. Details will be given in a future issue.

Yours very truly,

Charles and Jean Yarborough

Dear Readers:

The annual Yarborough Reunion at Percy Quinn State Park, near McComb, Mississippi, was held again this year on its regular date--the 1st Sunday in May. Due to storm warnings, the crowd was smaller than usual; nevertheless, about 125 were in attendance. By the way, this reunion is open to any Yarborough (or Yarbrough, etc.) or Yarborough inlaw or descendant.

Another reunion, that of the Charles Richard Yarborough family, was held in La Porte, Texas on Saturday, June 10th. Margaret Yarborough Pickett (Mrs. C.R.) of Houston, a daughter of the late Charles Richard Yarborough, was elected reunion chairman for the coming year. Of interest this year were family exhibits, many of which were of museum display quality.

Now, as we complete our first year of publication, we look back on our accomplishments. Having begun publication with only three advance subscriptions, we now have subscribers in twenty-three states. Also, we have acquired a Yarborough mailing list of more than three hundred families across the United States.

The following are some of the comments which we have received from our subscribers:

"I enjoy the magazine very much."--Pauline Yarborough of Vernon, Alabama.

"It is well done in every way. I offer my thanks for a copy."--George W. Yarborough, retired Alabama State Senator, 9th District.

"...think it is excellent. Just looking forward to more issues."--Kathryn Yarborough of El Dorado, Arkansas.

"We found the Complimentary Copy...informative and interesting..."--John T. Yarbrough of San Jose, California.

"So glad you plan further work in this direction."--Doris Patterson of Pontotoc, Mississippi.

HERALDRY and the YARBROUGH COAT-OF-ARMS

The Crest

Coming into use shortly after the introduction of body armour, the crest was some sort of figure or design, usually constructed of wood or leather, attached to the top of the helmet. As well as serving as decoration and identification, it afforded the jousting knight added protection from sword blows to the helmet. As one of the major parts of a coat-of-arms, the crest is placed above the wreath, and faces the same direction as the helmet.

Description of the Yarbrough crest begins with a falcon balled or.... This is simply a golden falcon with bells on its legs. Then comes the following: ...preying on a mallard proper. This is plain enough, except for the word proper, which refers to the color of the mallard, meaning that it should be portrayed in its natural colors, and not in the colors of the arms. Here it should be pointed out that not all references are in agreement on the description of the Yarbrough crest. One reference, instead of having the word mallard, has "cock-pheasant," while another has simply "duck." Also, in one reference the falcon is described as "a falcon, close, or, balled..." meaning that the falcon's wings are closed.

BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCHES

J.C. YARBROUGH

*J.C. YARBROUGH was born in Hopkins county, Kentucky, in 1841, son of Marion and Minerva A. (Morrow) Yarbrough.

*Marion Yarbrough moved with his family to Arkansas when J.C. was a small boy, and settled in Pike county, where he engaged in farming and lived ten years. His death occurred in that State. To him and his wife were born seven children, viz.: John C., whose name heads this biography; Thomas, a resident of Corsicana [Texas]; Alice, wife of J.W. Morrow, of Mason county, Texas; Robert, of Colorado, Texas; Mollie, wife of Dr. Arnett Boston, of New Orleans; Newton J., of Colorado, Texas; Susan, wife of Ben Gooch, of Llano county, Texas. Mr. Yarbrough was the first magistrate of his section of Pike county. In his farming operations he was successful, and as a citizen he was held in high esteem by all who knew him.

*J.C. Yarbrough received his education in Kentucky and Arkansas. He was attending school in Kentucky when the war broke out. In January, 1861, he joined the Confederate forces, becoming a member of Company D, Fourth Kentucky Regiment, and took an active part in the conflict that followed. He was in the battles of Shiloh and Vicksburg, but at the fall of Vicksburg was with General Johnston's armies at Baton Rouge; was at Missionary Ridge, in and around Atlanta, at Resaca, Marietta, Jonesborough; was wounded at Baton Rouge, having his arm broken. He surrendered at Greensborough, being at the time a non-commissioned officer.

*After the war Mr. Yarbrough returned to Kentucky, and remained there until 1873, engaged in farming. That year he came to Texas and settled on his present farm in Bell county. This place consists of 260 acres, and for it he paid $15 per acre. He has 130 acres under cultivation, has a splendid residence and several good tenement houses, and his land is now

SMITH COUNTY, TEXAS HISTORICAL NOTES

The First Court House of Smith County

"Volume A [Smith Co., Texas Deed Book], Pages 178, etc., dated July 7, 1851, states that a contract was entered into between Littleton Yarbrough and Justice Holman, which provided that the said Yarbrough was to furnish materials for and build a brick courthouse in middle of the square and that the building should be so advanced on the first Monday in April A.D. 1852 as to enable the Supreme and District Courts to be held within said building during the Spring term of said Courts for the year 1852, for which the said Yarbrough was to receive the sum of nine thousand dollars for building this brick courthouse.

"The cornerstone of this two-story, brick courthouse which formerly stood in the center of public square in Tyler was evidently laid on December 31, 1851."<sup>1</sup>

Bobo-Yarbrough Marriage Of Wide Interest Here

It is believed that the following extract from THE STATE, Columbia, South Carolina, dated November 4, 1853, will prove of considerable interest to members of the Yarbrough family whose ancestors came from the State of South Carolina.

Of wide interest is the marriage of Mrs. Boyd Bobo to Dabney Randolph Yarbrough Sr. which took place on Nov. 4, 1853.

Mrs. Yarbrough was born marriage, Mrs. Cooper of Laurens County, and was related to Governor Cooper of South Carolina. Her mother was Miss Bragg from North Carolina who was a descendant of Boston Bragg of Confederate Army fame, and for whom Camp Bragg in North Carolina was named. She was also a descendant of Governor Bragg of North Carolina. Mrs. Yarbrough's father was selected from Spartanburg County to help write the first constitution of the State of South Carolina in 1867, and his picture hangs in the War Memorial room at the state capital. Mrs. Yarbrough has two children, Ruskin Bobo, who is chief steward at the Bank of Green, and a daughter Mrs. G. E. Lockett (Billie Bobo), whose husband, Lieutenant Lockett of the United States Navy, has been assigned by the government to teach naval tactics at the University of North Carolina.

Mr. Yarbrough's mother was Elizabeth Henrietta Fitzgerald of Milton, N. C., and his father was George Wilson Yarbrough, a direct descendant of George Wilson, who signed the Declaration of Independence. He served in Stuart's Cavalry in the Confederate war. Mr. Yarbrough has two children, Mrs. Clark DuVal Waring (atherine Yarbrough), whose husband, Major Waring is now stationed at Providence R. I. and Dabney R. Yarbrough Jr. who was recently promoted to assistant sales manager of the Elsmenger Co. at Richmond, Va.

Mr. and Mrs. Yarbrough are now living at 4117 Kendricks Road, Columbia.

worth $30 per acre. It is beautifully and conveniently located, being only a mile from Belton. His chief products have been corn and cotton. He is also giving some attention to the fruit business, and is arranging to make a specialty of it. He already has ten acres devoted to fruit, mostly peaches, which yields a handsome income. He has both seedling and grafted trees, among which are 200 Alexander early fruit. He also has a nice orchard of plums and apricots.

"Mr. Yarbrough has been married twice. In 1867 he wedded Miss Lillie Parker, of Kentucky, daughter of Barnes and Ann (Chandler) Parker. To them eight children were born, three of whom died small. Those living are Anna D. and Frankie, teachers, and Nancy, John and Thomas. Mrs. Yarbrough died in 1886, and in 1890 Mr. Yarbrough married Miss Loretta Burton, of North Carolina, daughter of William and Catherine (Livingston) Burton, also natives of North Carolina. The Burton family went from North Carolina to Kentucky in 1854, and from there to Arkansas at the beginning of the war. Mr. Burton died in 1862. Mrs. Burton subsequently married F.P. Cornell, and is a resident of Kentucky. By Mr. Cornell she has five children: James, Roland, Marion, Alice and Minnie. Alice is the wife of Robert Walker.

"Both Mr. & Mrs. Yarbrough are church members, he being a member of the Baptist, and she of the Christian Church."<sup>1</sup>

JOHN WINGFIELD YARBRO

"JOHN WINGFIELD YARBRO, manager of the Hunger family interests in the famous K H A oil field of Wichita county [Texas], has been a resident of this section since the early days of the first K H A strike in 1915 and made the location for the first well drilled on the Hunger property. The Hunger ranch in Wichita county consists of approximately twenty-four hundred acres of land and a total of fifty-one successful wells were drilled on the property during the period of shallow development. With the discovery of deep production in that area in recent years, fifty-three additional wells have been drilled, bringing the total number of producers on the Hunger holdings by the middle of 1938 to one hundred and four wells. For some time after coming to Wichita county from his former home at Mexia (Texas), Mr. Yarbro's activities were concerned solely with the Hunger royalty interests. After the boom had subsided somewhat in 1923, he then managed both the oil and grain interests and had charge of all the activities pertaining to the growing of wheat, raising of cattle and oil production.

*John Kingfield Yarbro was born in Freestone county, Texas, on the twelfth of May, 1871, and is a son of Mr. & Mrs. F.L. Yarbro, both members of pioneer Freestone county families. Mr. Yarbro spent his childhood in Freestone county and obtained his education in the public schools there. His first employment was with the Hunger Oil and Cotton Company of Mexia and for twenty-three years Mr. Yarbro had charge of one of the chain of cotton gins operated by this concern prior to his transfer to Wichita county as personal representative of the Hunger interests in the then newly discovered oil field.

*Mr. Yarbro was married to Miss Minnie Sewell, a daughter of Captain and Mrs. Sewell of Mexia. Mr. & Mrs. Yarbro have one daughter, J.R. Lakey of Valley View, Texas.

*During his long residence in Wichita county Mr. Yarbro has taken an active part in civic and community affairs and for a number of years served as a member of the local school board. His home is on the Hunger ranch and about one mile from the main portion of the K H A (Kemp-Hunger-Allen) oil field near Iowa Park.<sup>2</sup>

WILL OF WILLIAM TARBROUGH<sup>3</sup>

In the name of God Amen I William Tarbrough of the County of Logan and State of Kentucky, being of perfect mind and memory, and knowing that it is appointed for all men once to die, do make and ordain this my last will and testament. And as touching such worldly estates wherewith it has pleased god to bless me in this life, I give, devise, and dispose of the same in the following manner and form:

First my will and desire is that all my just debts and funeral expences [etc] be paid.

Secondly I leave to my brother Jeremiah Tarbrough the labour of my negro man Ben dureing [etc] of his life, and at his death, I give and bequeathe [etc] the said negro Ben to all my brother Jeremiah Tarbroughs children that may then be a live [etc] to them and there [etc] heirs for ever.

Thirdly I give and bequeathe [etc] to my nephew Benjamin Tarbrough my shot gun, and my saddle and bridle to him and his heirs for ever.

Fourthly and lastly, I give and bequeathe [etc] to my brother Jeremiah Tarbrough, whom I constitute, make and ordain, the sole Executor of this my last will and testament all the rest and residue [etc] of my estate both real and personal by him freely to be posses'd and enjoy'd. And I do hereby disallow, revoke and disannul all and every other former Testaments, Wills, legacies, bequests and Executors [etc] by me, in any wise before named, Will'd and bequeathed, ratifying and confirming this and no other, to be my last will and testament, in witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and seal, this tenth day of July in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and Eleven.
