Dedication

Whether we wish to admit it or not, we are the future of our ancestors, as our descendants are our future. We owe our descendants our dreams and bequeath to them the legacy of our collective accomplishments – nothing more and nothing less. To our descendants, we charge you with the honoring of your heritage. Your ancestors were hardy folk, god-fearing and plain spoken, and who recognized that nothing was due them except that which they themselves earned. They were not ashamed to profess their belief in God, their country and the American ideal. Of course, there were a few rascallions in our collective history, but neither more nor less than in any other family.

We too easily forget what it took to forge a life in a new world, one rife with peril and with little at hand but a steadfast determination to not only survive but to thrive. Our ancestors bequeathed us with their genes, aspirations and talents. It is therefore fitting that the Blandford Series of Yarbrough Family Records be dedicated to them for making it possible for us to be who we are.

To paraphrase Robert Kincaid¹, “The dreams they had were good ones. They didn’t all come true, but they were worth having, all the same.”

Acknowledgement

The Yarbrough Association is greatly indebted to the vision and efforts of Cathy Y. Walker and William A. (Bill) Yarbrough, the late president and vice-president of the YNGHA, respectively, for beginning the project to digitize the 150+ volumes of records accumulated over the life of the Association. Fulfilment of the project was through the efforts of a number of officers and members, including Bill’s son Mark, Rachel and Don Yarbrough, Hal Yarbrough, Jan and Jim Yarbrough, Ann and Al Bush, Elaine and Lyle Wolf, Joan Y. Singlaub, and Joanne and Bill Augspurger.

It was my privilege to be a part of this dedicated team.

Preface

These records are the legacy of our Yarbrough family researchers, to whom much is owed. The known family researchers include Jean Baker, Ann Y. Broadbent, Mary Y. Daniel, Frances (Rea) Donohue, Betty Humrighouse, Pauline Gray, Evelyn Goble, Nelle Morris Jenkins, Ophelia Kessler, Frances Lockwood, Karen Mazock Renee Smelley, Dorothy Svec, Jeanette Wilson, Cleveland “Cy” Yarborough, Edna Yarbrough, George A. Yarbrough, and Robert Price Yarbrough.

The originals of these volumes are being kept for the benefit of future generations by the Williamson County Library, Franklin, Tennessee.

No claims of accuracy or authentication of the material herein are made or may be assumed. Many of these records have been superseded by subsequent research. Hence, there are records which are erroneous and unreliable; it would have been a Herculean task to attempt to correct all of them. Fortunately, there are only a few critical genealogical facts that are involved, and which are correctly stated here:

- Richard (the Immigrant) Yarborough was never married to Frances Proctor;
- Ambrose Yarbrough did not immigrate from Yorkshire; he is now believed to be a descendant of Richard the Immigrant;
- There are so far only two proven sons of Old Richard – John and Richard II;
- There is so far no evidence proving Joshua Yarborough I to be a descendant of Old Richard.
- The “Old Country” referred to in old documents and letters is the Colony of Virginia, not England or the Old World.
- There were not seven brothers who immigrated from “the old country”; in fact, it now appears there were three brothers and four sons of the brothers. Which were the fathers and which were the sons are so far unknown.

In spite of these inaccuracies, these records comprise much of our history and some of our accomplishments. There are pages whose print quality is so poor that word recognition was not possible. In spite of that, at least partial capability for searching these volumes is provided, as well as an index to each volume. Nonetheless, the viewer is cautioned to perform his/her own due diligence in connection with any use of this material.

The various spellings of the Yarbrough surname have never been applied consistently, even within a given family. To the extent possible, the names in the index reflect the names used on the source pages; where it wasn't clear as to which might be the proper spelling, the spelling used is “Yarbrough”.

CAPT. E. YARBOROUGH TO GENERAL SUMNER.

Charlotte, 12th May, 1781

Sir:

I was at General Butler's Camp a few days after your letter was received ordering Capt. Read and myself to take command of the Troops, that was sent out under Col. Linton. I set out immediately for Head Quarters with my baggage that came from Virginia and by the Tories residing in Randolph County and on Deep River I was obliged to make my rought by Guilford Court House and Salisbury and Charlotte. I had got as far as the lines of South Carolina when I was taken very sick and obliged to return to this place to the Hospital and am not able to judge when I shall be able for the field. Capt. Read was sent to Salisbury on some business from General Greene and there is no Officers at camp with the North Carolina Troops but Major Eaton and Lieutenant Campbell.

I should be very happy if I could obtain leave of absence for a few weeks for to recover my health and some other business that would be something very considerable to me by the death of my brother, since I march from home last August. I hope you will grant my request, as you are sensible that I am the only officer belonging to the State that has been in service until lately for the last ten months past. I should be happy to hear that you and your family are all well. So conclude with my compliments to all friends.

I am your humble servant,

E. YARBOROUGH

Grave of Revolutionary Soldier

Landon Yarbrough, r, along with members of the Tipton County Bicentennial Commission, visited the grave of his great-great-great-grandfather this past weekend. Henry Yarbrough Sr., who is buried in Indian Creek Ceme-

This log cabin is believed to be one of the oldest houses in Tipton County. The house, located on the Brighton-Holly Grove Road, is owned by Mrs. Leno Mills. According to Mrs. Mills, who lived in the house from 1930 until 1957, the historical structure is more than 100 years old. "I don't know the exact age of the house, but it was standing during the Civil War," said Mrs. Mills. "There weren't any additions to the house while my family lived there, but it was added to prior to that." Mrs. Mills explained that the doors are still on the hinges and most of the windows are still intact.

Townsend Cemetery, located at north end of Covington, Tennessee just off Highway 51, Copied 25 April 1984 by Karen Mazock:

There are four tombstones located in an overgrown section of the cemetery. Because of the proximity to the Yarbrough graves and possible relationships to the Yarbrough family, the tombstones were copied and pictures taken. The tombstone of Peter Winn was broken and the death date completely illegible. Because there was only one picture left on the film, the Winn Tombstone was placed near the Clark Tombstone for the picture. Its correct location is given below:

Dear Cousin Charles;

I was quite thrilled with the back issues of YFM, NYC, and coat of arms and very pleased with your fast response. Am inclosing a check which I hope will cover the cost of same and keep me on your mailing list.

The NYC was unknown to me until last week after spending the last two months drawing on my computer a large family tree which got so large, I started an alphabetic directory. Mostly from the works of Mrs. D. D. Dickey.. I plan to get in touch with our Texas cousin Bill and see if there is any way we can work together or swap information. Am enclosing a sample page of each if anyone is interested.

I have noticed in the NYC Directory that many of the family lines are given. My lines are Richard Y. 1615--Thomas Y. 1674--Zacharian Y. d.1779--Henry Y. 1763--Edward Y. 1808--John Anderson Y.1839. Since I am not sure how you list them, just use what ever fits.

Here's hoping you get the news letter off of "hold" soon as I am looking forward to your next issue.

Wishing you and yours a MERRY CHRISTMAS and a HAPPY NEW YEAR.

Sincerely, yours;

Marion Anderson Yarbrough

Anderson C. and Mary L. are burried in Townsend Cemetery, Tipton County, Tn.

They were members of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church and later joined the Methodisst Episcopal Church South.

Henry Yarbrough in 1833 deeded his son a parcel of land on Indian Creek including the dwelling house and plantation and bounded by Edward Yarbrough's property. He and Edward had numerous slaves. In 1874 three promissory notes of $333.33 were made payable to Mary Yarbrough out of the estate of A.C. Yarbrough; 116 acres was allotted and set apart to Mary Yarbrough as her interest in 1866; and in Book N. p. 159 Anderson C. deeded to his son William A. Yarbrough a tract, being a part and including the house where he dwells and plantation where he now lives. William A. was appointed administrator of his father's estate in the May Court of 1862.

In 1847, Anderson C. moved from his father's plantation to a home two miles north of Covington where he died. He was a major in the militia.

In the 1850 Census Anderson C., age 39, a farmer, lived in District #1 and listed 3000 acre of real estate and A.M. Larimore, age 32, a carpenter, lived in the same household.

Nov. 11, 1964

Dear Annie Laurie ^{DEBOLT} and Gene: (J. E. STEARNS) P.O. Box 742, JACKSONVILLE, TX

We were happy to receive your nice long letter, and about two or three days after receiving it, I came down with "Cellulosis" of the left foot--inflammation and swelling ## were the effects, so been on my back and sitting with foot elevated all these days--after taking a lot of Doctor prescribed Anti-Biotics. It is better, but still sore on top of foot and the leader is still drawn some. No severe pain, just infection that looked like a "twin brother" to blood poison.

Well to begin with, regarding Grandpa and Grandma Yarbrough-- His name was Joseph Randolph, and Swanson, was his brother. ### Both were at San Jacinto when they took Santa Anna and both names were on the scroll. Swanson was not killed in the battle--and later settled in East Texas some distance from where Nacogdoches now is. Then he and Grandpa both swapped for some land in Louisiana and I don't know whether Swanson came back to Texas or not. Grandpa did, and settled west of Grapeland about three miles. After he died, in his fifties, Grandpa pre-empted and secured 160 acres of land near the Old Leaverton place, on the two mile branch, west of Grapeland and reared ten children--nine to be grown and have families (all but Aunt Kittie). Grandma's given name was Clementine (only first name I ever heard her called.) She later traded the farm for the little old house that burned on the acre where the other and present house stands, and got $300 in cash, which she used a part of, to help Uncle Sam finish up his course in dentistry.

1 - Oldest child: Aunt Georgianna (your grandma). Guess you know all of your aunts and uncles by her.

2 - Next was Aunt Melissa who married Tom Herod: Her children were: Aurie, who died and left the three warner children that Aunt Melissa reared: They are Luther Warner who lives 3 miles west of Grapeland and is big farm operator and land owner; Elma Warner who married a Pennington, who died before we left Grapeland, about 1937 or 38; Lena Belle Warner, who married Hill Huff and is now about 67. (Hill died in July of this year and she resides on a big farm he left her about 7 miles west of Grapeland.) Then you remember Mollie Story who died in Grapeland while we lived in Troup. Her sister, Eugenia (Gene) died - 4 less than a year later. She married Monroe Carson and he is 84 and still lives in Grapeland. The only son Aunt Melissa had was Mack Herod who moved to West Texas near Snyder, when his children were small and he died about the time the two girls died. All had several children scattered everywhere, except Mollie and Charlie Story who had just one girl (Edna Mae), who died in her early 20's.

3 - Then Aunt Mary Morris. She married Rufus Morris: Their children were Charlie, William, Hamilton, Lewis and John. (John lives on old home place near Grapeland--age about 76.

daughters of Aunt Mary were: Dura, who married a Gordon left one girl (Lillie). Don't know what became of her.
I gave her a home awhile when she was about 16 when we mama first got all but helpless. She lived on awhile at Aunt Mary's while Billie Morris and his wife were taking care of Uncle Roof and Aunt Mary. Then there was Ada, who married a Garner, but know very little about them, except what you wrote about seeing a grand-daughter of Aunt Mary. All the boys had children but who they are and where, I do not know, as it's been more than 25 years since having contacted them.

Aunt Lucinda married a Whitescarver; had two or three boys and two girls. The girls are Jewel and Maggie and live together in the lately fast developed Rhinehardt area, west of Garland about 9 miles and their street is Hartline Drive--don't know the number.

Then your Aunt Belle ^{OWENS} my mother and you know too much already about her "lone rooster".

Uncle Joe was oldest boy. He married Mollie Hollingsworth and they had one daughter--Lura Marsh whose home is on Sherry Lane in Dallas. She is 76 and has one daughter (only child) Dorothy who is with her. Oldest son of Uncle Joe was Eugene, who died at 50 (30 years ago) while in mercantile business down near Liberty, Texas, at Devers.
He left one daughter and one son, both of whom I have heard are dead. The boy was killed in car wreck and don't know about the daughter of Eugene. His wife married again.

Then John Welch, Swanson, Seth Wright and Lewis Riall Yarbrough.
Uncle Scott who lived to be nearly 101--died in Ft. Worth.
He had 3 daughters by his first wife, a Miss Neel, whom he married before I was born. Three girls by first marriage:
Clara, who married Charlie Watkins and they live in North Central Texas, not too far from Ft. Worth; Emma who married Clarence Spence, lives a widow with one unmarried son, near Crockett. She has another son somewhere in Massachusetts or Connecticut (don't remember). Then Martha Ellen, who married Ben Hancock and is a widow, living with different ones of her children. Then by the third wife: (Mattie Simpson), who he married in about 1902 or 03, he has Audrey Yarbrough, a nurse, unmarried, and has a home at 2238
College, Ft. Worth; then Loye, same age as Lillian, mar-

Uncle Sam Houston Yarbrough was the dentist lived at Trinity. Has one daughter, Mrs. Lillie Mae ### Carpenter, still there. She first married Edwin Sandhop and they had one boy, separated from Sandhop and married Geo. Carpenter, who died about 1955 or 56 and has two boys by Carpenter. One girl, Clementine about my age, married P. W. Baker and he died before we left Grapeland. Don't know how many children but think it was one set of twins and a girl. A son, J. D. Yarbrough, I understand lives in the Ft. Worth area.
John Yarbrough, employed for over forty-five years at Palestine Herald--in Palestine. You should know him.
Then a boy, Billie, died unmarried when he was in his late twenties. And Loyd Yarbrough, down in Rio Grande Valley, been married twice. Have not seen him in 30 years.

Here is an interesting story that I ran across recently in the "Houston County, Texas History" 1687-1979. Compiled and edited by History Book Committee of Houston County Historical Commission of Crockett, Texas. Published by the Heritage Publishing Company, Tulsa, OK. ppg 324-325.

Denson Family History:

Thomas C. Denson - Myrtle Lake property, East of Grapeland, TX.

b. 22 Feb 1793, NC. Father - Shadrack Denson, Anson County, NC

1. O'Connor Denson
2. John Denson. m. Mary Ann Crawford (Houston).
4. Joseph Denson m. Caroline L. Houston (stepdau of his brother John) Caroline was born 11 Nov 1836, Tenn.

(Mary Ann Crawford was born NC about 1817. Her parents were Mary Ann (Polly) Coble, b. about 1793-1799, and Joseph Crawford, b. 1770. Records indicate Polly Coble and Joseph Crawford moved from NC to Tenn where their daughter married Wilson Houston, who was lost some time after 1836 in Texas, while Mary Ann Crawford Houston was still in Tenn.

Mary Ann Crawford Houston came to Texas about 1839 to join her husband, who supposedly perished in the Indian Wars, and subsequently married Joseph Denson.

Lucille Mc Cutcheon of Houston, TX described visiting her Grandmother Caroline when she was about 6 or 7: "Grandmother smoked a corn cob pipe and made Irish lace with some kind of wooden needle. I have an old three legged iron pot which belonged to her and the family story is that, 'Sam Houston has eaten many a meal cooked in that pot.' I do not know how she was related to Sam Houston, but he visited her on many occasions and she called him 'Sam'. She married when she was only 13 or 14 years of age."

Wilson Houston was a brother of Sam Houston.

This may be the basis for the rumors I heard as a boy about some sort of a relationship in our family -- Crawford, Yarbrough, Whitley, DeBolt, and Sam Houston.

DECLARATION
IN ORDER TO OBTAIN THE BENEFITS OF THE ACT OF CONGRESS PASSED
7 JUNE 1832

STATE OF TENNESSEE
TIPTON COUNTY

ON THIS DAY OF 4th OF SEPTEMBER in the year of our Lord 1833 personally appeared before Open Court before the Court of Pleas and Quarters Session of Tipton County aforesaid now sitting Henry Yarbrough, Sr. a resident of said County aged about seventy one or two years, who being duly sworn according to law doth on his oath make the following declaration in order to obtain the benefits of the Act of Congress passed June 7th, 1832.

That he entered the service of the United States under the following named officer and served as herein stated. "Under Capt. Brittain Fuller I volunteered and it was about the year 1779 or 1780 (which precisely I cannot recollect but I believe I was about 18 or 19 years of age) who commanded a horse company. I furnished my own horse and equipage and in the character of a private soldier I volunteered only for three but served six months. We were marched by Capt. Fuller from Randolph County, No. Carolina where I then lived with my father Zachariah Yarbrow and where I volunteered, to Six Mile Creek in the State of South Carolina. When we arrived there Capt. Fuller resigned his command and Capt. Jacob Williams of Dan River took it, under whom we continued until he left us, which was about two months. Under Capt. Williams we were disciplined and performed all the service required of us, such as scouting and collecting provisions, while we were there stationed and employed, it was then Col. Rugilly the Conspicuous Tory of the Erick House was taken by our forces and with him, about two hundred prisoners, who at once surrendered upon exhibition of pine logs painted and made to resemble cannons. They were all marched into the camp and subsequently marched northward under the command of Capt. Williams. After Williams left us with the prisoners, we passed under the command of a captain of horse whose name I cannot now recollect, but he was attached to Gen Morgan's command. There was also Col. Washington, Genl. Greene, Linnborn and several others. Some of whom perhaps had no command at the time. I believe Genl. Greene was our Commander-in Chief. I was actively employed the whole six months in partisan war against the Tories, having frequent skirmishes with them and sometimes some pretty active and sharp fighting. I was then young and being fired with atrocities of the Tories. I bore hard upon them, sparing the women and children. Capt. Knights and Lieutenant Elijah Williams commanded on these occasions.

We were marched from the Six Mile Creek back to Charlettesville, No. Carolina and there discharged by Genl. Morgan, who gave me a written discharge. I continued nevertheless for several years to carry on the partisan war against the Tories, who were so enraged by me that I could not stay at home in safety and who did me great damage. I could relate much of the occurrences of the Partisan War in the back parts of North Carolina and South Carolina in which I was previously engaged. Judge Murphy of No. Carolina, when about to write a history of that State sent a man to me requesting a detailed account of this war believing that I could furnish a more connected history of those events than any other man he knows. I however was upon the eve of moving to this county, and answered I have no time to devote to such matters. I was born in year of 1761 or 2 in what was then called Butte but now Franklin County, North Carolina. At about the commencement of the Revolution War, my father moved to Randolph County where we were living when I volunteered in the horse company as aforesaid. At about the close of the war we moved to Rowan County, No. Carolina where there are many persons by whom I could prove my services. In the year 1823, I moved to this county Tipton, Tennessee and where I have resided ever since. I was once told that if I would send my discharge to Capt. Williams of Virginia, I should draw my pay. I gave it to a man by the name of Davenport. When he returned from Capt. Williams he informed me that Williams said that he had nothing to do with it, that Capt. Fuller, the man under whom I volunteered, was to make out the payroll. When I commanded my discharge, Davenport said he had fallen into a river and lost his pocket book and all the papers. I did not believe him. I was unable ever to reclaim it and have never received a cent for any Service ever rendered by me for the United States. I have no documentary evidence and know of no person in this State who can testify to my service.

I hereby relinquish every claim whatever to a pension except the present and declare that my name is not on the pension roll of this agency of any State."

HENRY YARBROUGH SEN.

And we the said Court do hereby certify and declare their opinion that the above named applicant was a Revolutionary Soldier and served as he states.

FROM A LETTER OF WILLIAM D. KIZZIAH, GENEALOGICAL RESEARCHER OF SALISBURY, NORTH CAROLINA, DATED OCTOBER 24, 1957

"The Yarbroughs were very prominent here, having large land holdings in the county as well as here in Salisbury where as you mention, President Washington stopped. The site of his old home is marked on a HISTORICAL MAP OF ROWAN COUNTY that I helped to design for our Bicentennial of 1953, as well as many other historic names and places."

FROM A LETTER OF MRS. NELLE JENKINS, OF ECELLE, ALABAMA, MAY 2, 1957

"---Mr. Wagner, the Herald of the College of Arms in England, is getting up the authentic line. Mrs. Reeves corresponded with Captain Guy Yarbrough, Lord Alvingham, Earl of Yorkshire, about the line. But C. W. Yarbrough met him and visited in his home and they together had Mr. Wagner work on the line. I have the Yarbrough genealogy back to 1066 as prepared for the Earl for seating of King George's Coronation and the same was used in Queen Elizabeth's Coronation. Mr. Wagner says that Richard Yarbrough the immigrant, married Frances Proctor in London in 1635 and applied for emigration in 1643. In a court proceeding in Virginia, Richard stated he was born in Lincolnshire, England. He lived in Big Reedy Creek area in Virginia from 1643 to 1649. He probably married several times - tradition says once to Elizabeth Williams. Richard was in the vicinity of the present day Petersburg, Virginia at the age of 85 and died there in 1704. He gave his age as 87 on a deed in 1702. It is known that he had sons Thomas, John, Henry, Richard, Jr., James, Charles and three daughters. In a court record in which Richard was a witness he stated that Thomas had children Edmund, Elizabeth, Nancy, John, Richard, Patsy, Abraham, Hezekiah, a child who died in infancy and Eleanor. We are descended from the first Henry, son of Richard. All this from G. W. Yarbrough who did a 20 year research on the line and for the American Genealogical Society and for which he was made a "Fellon".

The College of Arms can't furnish anything on Christopher Yarbrough but he is supposed to be a son of Richard, Sr. or he might have been a younger brother who came along as a member of Richard's family in 1643.

In King William County on 20 May 1704, John Yarbrough to William Aylett 22 A -- Deed acknowledged 12 Nov. 1691 -- Conveyed to Richard Yarbrough, father of John (this deed acknowledged 12 Feb. 1695) with Abigail, wife of John giving consent.

The Yarbrough family is reportedly the eleventh oldest family in England.

The first settlement of the county was made near the present site of Covington in 1821 or 1822 by Jacob Tipton and Nathan Hartsfield. The following year settlements were made on the Mississippi River below the second Chickasaw Bluff by Jesse Benton and M. Phillips and on Indian Creek by M. Holshouser, Henry Yarbrough, William Kulbreth and J. Matthews.

Page 809

As the County began rapidly to increase in population the old hand mills disappeared and horse and water powered mills were erected. The first water powered mill was built on a small stream seven miles southwest of Covington in about 1824 by Henry Yarbrough. The mills and steam cotton-gins of the County outside of the towns at the present are as follows: Fourth district, one grist mill and gin and one saw mill owned respectively by Don Yarbrough and Evans and Mitchell.

TENNESSEE COUSINS BY WORTH S. RAY

H Yarbrough was one of the first settlers of Tipton County.

Tipton County like other Counties carved out of the "Western District" had its quota of Revolutionary soldiers who sought lands in the country for their services. Known to have settled and lived in the country was Henry Yarbrough, Sr. aged 84 years.

THE ROWAN STORY 1753 - 1953

Hardly had N. C. entered into the new Union than the President of the U. S. paid her a visit early in 1791...May 29. As Washington entered the town and pushed his way through the crowd to the court house that stood in the public square where he was to be officially received, a cannon fired 15 salutes in his honor. After the reception the party moved down Corbin Street to the Yarbrough House, located in the middle of the west side of Main between Innes & Council, where they breakfasted.

Another society, the Thalian Association, began giving performances in the summer of 1829 at the home of Mrs. Edward Yarbrough, the place where Washington had spent a night.

Highway 59W in Tipton County was also known as Liberty St. and Randolph Road.

TIPTON COUNTY, TENNESSEE

TIPTON COUNTY ESTABLISHED OUT OF SHELBY COUNTY TERRITORY

Prior to the establishment of TIPTON COUNTY, the territory comprising it had been included in SHELBY County, which had supervision over it.

TIPTON COUNTY was established October 29, 1823. It was named by the Act "in memory of CAPT. JACOB TIPTON, who fell at St. Clair's defeat on 1791", and who was a son of COL. JOHN TIPTON of the WATAUGA VALLEY.

GEN. JACOB TIPTON, under whose supervision SHELBY COUNTY had been organized three years previously, is listed as one of the first settlers of TIPTON County. GEN. TIPTON is said to have had his residence in the county by 1821.

JUDGE Sam C. Williams names among the first settlers in the county:

Col. Jacob Tipton
Jesse Benton, Jr.
H. Yarbrough
Geo. W. Frazier
Henry Turnidge
K. H. Douglas
William Simonton
Robert Simonton
Robert Sanford
Andrew Greer

The JESSE BENTON, JR. named on this list is said to have been the brother of the famous THOMAS H. BENTON, JESSE BENTON lived at Randolph and was very active in promoting the interests of the place, which, for a time endeavored to rival MEMPHIS in importance. It did become an important center of the trade for the Western District at one time.

CAPT. TIPTON, the father of COL. JACOB TIPTON married Mary Bradford of Washington County, Tennessee; raised a company for the defense of the northwest against the Indians under GEN. ARTHUR ST. CLAIR. He was killed while leading a charge. He and his wife MARY had a son they had named ARMISTEAD BLEVINS TIPTON, whose name was changed to JACOB TIPTON, after the death of his father, and, it is said, at his request before leaving home on his Indian campaign, in the event of his death. This son was GEN. JACOB TIPTON of Tipton County.

ORGANIZATION OF TIPTON AND THE NAMES OF ITS FIRST OFFICERS

The first Court for TIPTON COUNTY was held on December 1, 1823 at the home of Nathan Hartsfield, which was located about two miles wouthwest of the present town of COVINGTON, which became the County seat of the County.

The first magistrates of TIPTON COUNTY commissioned and sworn into office at this meeting were:

JOHN C. McKEAN
NATHAN HARTSFIELD
JOHN T. BROWN

JACOB TIPTON
GEORGE ROBINSON

JOHN C. McKEAN was the first Chairman of the County Court, ANDREW GREER the first Clerk and JOHN TO. BROWN, the first Sheriff.

COVINGTON was selected as the County seat of TIPTON COUNTY, Land for the location of the town were donated by JOHN C. McLEMORE AND TIRRE RHODES, each of whom have been previously mentioned in these notes. RHODES was from VIRGINIA and McLEMORE from North Carolina.

MEMUCAN HUNT AND OTHERS FROM NORTH CAROLINA RECEIVE GRANTS

MEMUCAN HUNT, of North Carolina, the first State Treasurer after independence for that State and his son THOMAS HUNT and grandson, ANDERSON HUNT and other notables from North Carolina, received large grants of land in what is now Tipton County.

Others from North Carolina receiving big grants included ROBERT and THOMAS LOVE, brothers; R. T. MUNFORD, ANDREW GREER (of the Watauga family), JOHN RICE, ANTHONY BLEDSOE and COL HARDY MURFEE, of Rutherford County, Tennessee and North Carolina.

A commission who were to have charge of the survey of the new town of COVINGTON, and the sale of lots, was composed of several notable personages, as will be shown.

MARQUIS CALMES HELPED TO LAY OFF THE TOWN OF COVINGTON.

Among the men who helped to lay off the lots and survey the townsite of COVINGTON, TENNESSEE, was that certain MARQUIS CALMES, whose family came originally from Maryland to the Valley of Virginia, and who were intermarried so much with the RICHARDSON family of Maryland. From Maryland, the Calmes Family, spread out and went from near Winchester into both Kentucky and Georgia, always accompanied by some of their kinsmen the RICHARDSONS and BUCKS. Others on the commission to lay off COVINGTON were JOHN ECKFORD, ROBERT G. GREEN, E. F. POPE and ALEXANDER ROBERTSON.

CALMES' TAVERN was the first hotel or public house of entertainment in the town of COVINGTON. Later the same hotel was taken over by a man by the name of WILLIAMS.

ROBERT G. GREEN, of this commission, was a lawyer, and he and THOMAS TAYLOR were the first legal practitioners in the town and county seat. It is said that the first physician of the town was DR. CHARLES C. FISHER.

The town of RANDOLPH, a rival in the early days of COVINGTON for the honor of being the county seat, was also the home of a number of notable families, including JESSE BENTON, from North Carolina, ORVILLE SHELBY, relative of the Governor of Kentucky, originally from the Watauga settlement in east Tennessee, and several members of the ALSTON FAMILY, of VIRGINIA, North Carolina, and SOUTH CAROLINA, of which latter State it furnished an early day GOVERNOR. The town of RANDOLPH is said to have been named for JOHN RANDOLPH of ROANOKE, who had several kinsmen and old neighbors who lived in the town. Also, in and near the town of RANDOLPH there are records that show that

K. H. DCUGLAS
GEORGE W. FRAZIER
THOMAS ROBINSON
M. PHILLIPS

R. H. MUNFORD
A. N. McALLISTER
W. P. MILLS
ANDERSON HUNT

and families named SIMPSON and CLEMENT lived there for a time, at least.

THOMAS RALP built a horse mill not far from COVINGTON, the first in TIPTON CO.

RESIDENTS OF SEVERAL EARLY TIPTON COUNTY "SETTLEMENTS".

Naturally, like other frontier counties TIPTON had several "settlements" along the banks of the HATCHIE and the FORKED DEER tributaries. Among these were one on BIG CREEK, which was the home of

Henry Turnage
Captain Jones
Captain Newman
Alfred Hill
Major LaGrande

In the Indian Creek "settlement" there were families by the name of SMITH, OWENS, KELLERS, KINNEYS and WALKS.

There was also a WHITE and ARCHER settlement; where C. C. ARCHER, certain members of the WHITE FAMILY - their names unknown - GEORGE SHARKLEY and a WILLIAM McGUIRE resided.

E. T. POPE, H. TERRELL, R. W. SANFORD, MAJ. LAUDERDALE (probably a member of the family of COL. JAMES LAUDERDALE, killed at the battle of NEW ORLEANS, CAT. SCURRY and DR. HOLD are attributed to early settlement in the county, without mention of where they lived. Also families of the name of DURHAM, MITCHELL, GARLAND, PARRISH, PRYOR, HILL and DAVIS.

Some of the original area of TIPTON COUNTY, TENNESSEE, was appropriated in 1835 to make up the territory assigned for the establishment of LAUDERDALE COUNTY, but just what part and how much, the compiler has been unable to ascertain, from any record that has come to his notice.

TIPTON COUNTY HAD MANY REVOLUTIONARY SOLDIERS

TIPTON COUNTY, like the other counties carved out of the "Western District" had its quota of revolutionary soldiers who sought lands in the county for their services. The names of many of them appear in the foregoing notes. Others who are known to have settled and lived in the county, were: COL. THOMAS GOOD, 81 years of age (1840); WILLIAM McFERRIN 85 years of age; VINCENT VOSS, who was 84 years of age and also HENRY YARBROUGH, SR., aged 84 years.

building; the earliest resident physician, Dr. Samuel L. Teator, and the first lawyer, Charles McAlister.

TIPTON COUNTY

This county was given its name by legislative act "in memory of Captain Jacob Tipton, who fell at St. Clair's defeat of 1791." His son, Colonel Jacob Tipton²¹ was one of the earliest settlers of the county, in 1821.

Other early settlers were Jesse Benton, Jr., H. Yarborough, Geo. W. Frazier, Henry Turnidge, K. H. Douglass, Wm. and Robert Simonton, Robert Sanford and Andrew Greer.

North Carolina grants laid in this county included those of Robert and Thomas Love, 15,000 acres; R. T. Mumford, 8200 acres; Andrew Greer, M. Hunt, and John Rice, 5000 acres each; Anthony Bledsoe, 4700 acres, and Hardy Murfree, 1260 acres. An incident connected with the re-location of these old grants in 1819-20 was the death of one of the surveyors, Richard Hightower, father-in-law of the distinguished lawyer of Nashville, O. B. Hayes. This occurred at a fine spring a few miles south of the site of Covington, afterwards known as Hightower's Spring.

On the first day of December, 1823, the first court was organized at the house of Nathan Hartsfield, two miles southwest of the present Covington. The first magistrates commissioned were: Nathan Hartsfield, John T. Brown, Jacob Tipton, Andrew Greer, John C. McKean and George Robinson. McKean was the first chairman; Greer first clerk, and Brown the first sheriff.

COVINGTON

When the county seat was located, the honor fell to Covington, the site being donated by John C. McLemore and Tyree Rhodes.

²¹ Captain Tipton was of the East Tennessee family of the name. He married Mary Bradford, of Washington County; raised a company for the defense of the northwest against the Indians, under Gen. Arthur St. Clair. He was killed while starting out to lead his men in a charge, on November 4, 1791. His last injunction to his wife, to change the name of their son, "Armistead Blevins," to "Jacob"—his own—was complied with.

"The principle of the center" operated here against the bluff on which Randolph later stood.

The commission having charge of the survey of the new town and the sale of lots, as given in their advertisement in the Jackson Gazette, was composed of Marquis Calmes, John Eckford, Robert G. Green, E. F. Pope and Alex. Robinson. They set forth as the chief attraction "a copious spring that breaks out of a bold bluff west of the square." The sale of lots brought an aggregate of about $8,500.00. The town was incorporated in 1826.

Calmes' Tavern was the first house of entertainment, later taken over by the father of Joseph S. Williams, author of Old Times in West Tennessee.²² The tavern is described as two stories high, built of hewn logs; sixty feet long and twenty feet wide; fronted by a broad gallery; and it had a "ball-room." The town was not without a dancing master.

Robert G. Green and Thomas Taylor were the first lawyers; and Dr. Charles G. Fisher, perhaps, the first doctor.

The county was noted, during the period, for its superior educational facilities, which naturally made it a cultural center.

RANDOLPH

This town, named for John Randolph of Roanoke, was laid out in 1828, but improved but little until 1830. Its history is outlined in preceding chapters. Jesse Benton, Jr., Orville Shelby, and the Alstons, all of historic families, lived in or near the town. Phelan says that "Randolph soon became a flourishing town. Indeed, at first all indications pointed to its future success in the contest for commercial mastery which geographical position forced upon the two towns Randolph and Memphis."

WEAKLEY COUNTY

The new county of Weakley took the name of Colonel Robert Weakley (1764-1845), a distinguished citizen of Davidson County.²³

²² Many interesting and amusing reminiscences of Covington, Randolph and the county may be found in the book, now rare.

²³ Speaker of the State Senate at the time the county was created; and had held the same office in 1819; member of Congress 1809-11, and

DAR To Mark Grave Of ^{Nov 2, 1963} Revolutionary War Veteran

The Tipton Chapter of DAR will place their bronze marker at the grave of the only Revolutionary soldier known to be buried in Tipton County on Nov. 2 at 3 p.m.

The soldier was Henry Yarbrough (or Yarbrow) who is buried in Indian Creek Cemetery. The DAR graveside ritual will be presented by Mrs. Shuler Jamieson, regent, and other DAR members with Judge Mark Walker making the address. A cordial invitation is extended to the public and to his many descendants living in Tipton County.

Henry Yarbrough was lineally descended from the Earl of Yorkshire of Lincolnshire, England, who was a Dane and one of the 60,000 who helped the Duke of Normandy conquer England in 1066. The earldom still exists.

In 1643, Richard Yarbrough and his young wife ~~Frances~~ Practor, sailed to America, settling in Amelia County, Virginia.

← FRANCES

Their descendant, Henry Yarbrough born 1765 and died 1843, in company with Smith, McQuire, Matthews, Tipton and other families, came to Tipton County, Tenn., in 1823. He was the fourth white settler and first magistrate of Tipton County.

He settled on a 75-acre tract of land bought from Newton Cannon of Williamson County for $1700. The land was located on Indian Creek where he was an early operator of a grist mill.

In 1830, David and Thomas, sons of Thomas Yarbrow, followed their uncle to Tipton County. His first wife was the widow, Brigett Davis, who died in Rowan County, N. C., and his second wife was Mary Cunningham, widow of Thomas Cunningham of N. C.

In will book A; page 81 in Tipton County, he names the following children:

Edward who married Jane Culbreath; Anderson C., married Mary Larimore; Elizabeth, married Willis Treedle; Jane, who married Henry Billings;

Biddy (Obedience) who married John Smith; Mary, who also married a Smith; Martha married Charles A. Smith; Catherine, who married a Smith. Henry Jr. died unmarried and is buried by his father.

At the September term of Tipton County Court in 1833, he personally applied for a pension for Revolutionary War services which was granted. He received $12.50 per semi-annum. In this record he describes his service as a private in the Horse Company of Capt. Fuller in 1779 and 1780 in the partisan war.

DEED RECORDS OF TIPTON COUNTY, TENNESSEE

The Deed Records of Tipton County, Tennessee are located at the Tipton County Courthouse, Covington, Tennessee. These records were copied and abstracted during the month of May, 1984.

The Yarbrough name is spelled in all cases as it appeared in the Deed. In some cases the name is spelled "Yarbro" on the index and in the heading of the instrument, but spelled "Yarbrough" in the body of the deed.

Some deeds had blanks - apparently the clerk or registrar had intended to fill in the space later and it was never done - these blanks are denoted by a line (_____) in these copies. When a word was illegible it is shown with a line and question mark (____ ? ____)

Other words or names that were not legible are shown with a question mark following the word (?).

Holiday Inn Riverfront - St. Louis, MO

Dear Yarbrough Cousins and Descendants:

Over 350 years ago Richard Yarbrough, the Lincolnshireman, sailed "The Great Western Sea" to become a Virginian. He was followed in 1732 by Ambrose Yarbrough, the Yorkshireman, who came to Virginia to join his cousins, descendants of Richard Yarbrough. Most of today's Yarbrough (all versions of the spelling) researchers agree that we Yarbrough descendants are from one of these two lines.

Numerous individual Yarbrough families have held annual reunions for many years. However, until 1982 no national reunion for all the clans had been held. The first was in Petersburg, Virginia (burial site of Richard Yarbrough). Since that first reunion there have been three more held: 1984 - Nashville, TN; 1985 - Fort Worth, TX; 1986 - Charlotte, NC. Plans are now underway for the fifth National Conference to be held in St. Louis, Missouri on August 7, 8 & 9. It is hoped that this early notification will enable many more of you to add this to your calendar and plan to attend.

The Holiday Inn overlooks the famous Gateway Arch and is within walking distance to the new St. Louis Centre Mall. There is a downtown shuttle that connects Union Station, St. Louis Centre, Laclede's Landing and the riverfront. There is transportation to and from the airport every 20 minutes. The room charge will be a $55.00 flat charge for double, triple or quad rooms. A sitdown dinner will be served for $16.00 a person which includes tax and gratuity. Many of the rooms have small kitchens with a stove and sink. Parking is free in the underground parking garage which is patrolled by security guards. There will be a $5.00 registration fee. A Promenade connects the hotel to the Riverside Conference Center where the banquet facilities are located.

For those attending who are not interested in the genealogy workshops, activities will be planned. There is much to see in St. Louis.

Attached are registration forms and hotel registration forms. Plan to join us!

Sincerely,

Arlene Weidinger, Chairman
1987 Conference

Yarbro event set for St. Louis

The fifth national Yarbro Conference will be held at Holiday Inn Riverfront in St. Louis Aug. 7, 8 and 9.

Over 100 Yarbro family and related members from all over the United States have registered for the national meeting. West Tennesseans will make up the largest delegation with 27 signed to attend.

Former U.S. Senator Ralph W. Yarborough of Austin, Texas, and Lt. General William P. Yarbro of Southern Pines, N.C., will be principal speakers at the Saturday night family banquet. NASCAR race car driver and crew chief Cale Yarborough of South Carolina, and rock and folk singer Glenn Yarbro of California, are scheduled to appear.

Also on the memorial program, Charles H. Yarbro of Reelfoot Lake will eulogize Robert Price Yarbro of Charlotte, N.C., who died almost a month ago, July 10, 1987. Mr. Yarbro, a native Mississippian and retired specialty timber mill manager, is being remembered as "Father of the National Yarbro Conference," spearheading all the sessions and hosting the first and last year's conference. He was working on the program for the St. Louis meeting when he died. He led the movement to permanently mark the grave in Blandford Church Cemetery at Petersburg, Va., of the earliest known Yarbro immigrant, Richard Yarbro, who came to America from England in the 1640s and died in 1702. Mr. Yarbro was also author of the book "Yarbro, A Branch through Ambrose the Emigrant."

On the banquet program Mrs. Charles Yarbro will speak on genealogical research and Alfred Henry Yarbro will give the invocation. Karen Martin Mazock of Virginia will talk on the role of Yarbro women in the family history and conduct a "red rose" ceremony honoring the wives and daughters of family leaders who have died recently.

Mr. Yarbro of Route 1, Tiptonville, is editor of the "Interim News Sheet for the Yarborough Family Magazine," publishing nine editions yearly. He is also a member of the NYC board of directors. Alfred Yarbro serves the board as secretary.

The Missouri meeting, hosted by Ms. Ariene Weidinger and her mother, Mrs. May Y. Sidney, of St. Louis, will also feature genealogy workshops Friday and Saturday, board meetings, entertainment, and a "farewell" breakfast Sunday.

The Saturday evening Banquet program began with the door prizes being awarded by the Hostess of this years conference, Arlene Wiedinger:

Door Prize: Complete set Yarborough Family Magazine to Jerry Yarborough.

Door Prize: Nelle Jenkins Quarterlies: Elizabeth Baker

Door Prize: Yarborough Newsletter set: John Villinger and Greta Miller (they were just present for the workshop during the day).

Allen Yarborough will be our Master of Ceremonies.

I could tell by the activity that has been going on for the past couple of days that nobody has enjoyed this conference so far -- everybody has been working too hard. But that is why we came here and if you look around you, and for those of you who have been here in the past, you'll see that the crowd continues to grow and get bigger, so one of the things that we are looking forward to, your Board of Directors, is participation from everybody. We had hoped to have a questionnaire to pass out but in order to be here at 6:30 this evening, we finally finished up at 5:45 and there was just not time to get one produced for this banquet. But any of you that have any ideas, feel free to send a letter to me, to Arlene or to any member of the Board of Directors. I think everybody has enjoyed the research, there have been some who have been looking for several years that have found answers to some of the questions they have been pursuing for a greater number of years than the organization has been in existance. The most thrilling aspect is to find something you are looking for and the second best thing is to find something that someone else is looking for and you can share the glory with them. So we hope that each and every person will continue to participate and we will continue to get bigger and we will produce the entire Yarborough history before it is over with.

I am reminded of a little story about one of the researchers that was discussing some of the activity and their find today and everybody likes to have pictures to go along with the research that they have and so this one lady came over and looked up the local artist and wanted to commission him to do a portrait so that she would have something to put in the front of the genealogical book that she was writing on her family history. She did successfully meet this young fellow and he said, "Well; lady, I'll have to be honest with you, my fee is $4,000."

She said, "Well, that sounds reasonable enough -- I have paid almost that much in xerox paper trying to copy down all these things that I have found so far. There is, however, one special request that I would like to make in the painting of this portrait in as much as you have been recommended as being the best in St. Louis, I would like to have this done in the nude."

He said, "Well, I am sorry lady, I just don't do things like that." She said, "Well, you are getting your fee---top dollar, $4,000, and I don't see why it should make any difference to you one way or the other."

He said, "Well, I am sorry lady, I just don't do things like that." She said, "Well, you are getting your fee---top dollar, $4,000, and I don't see why it should make any difference to you one way or the other."

He said, I just don't do things like that." She said, "Well, I'd be glad to pay you $8,000, which is double your normal fee if you will accomplish this for me. He said, "No, madam, I just will not do it and I don't care how much you talk or how much you offer."

She doubled that to $16,000 and it finally got up to $32,000 and he scratched his head and said, "Well, that is an awfully lot of money, lady, but if you insist, then I will on one condition."

She said, "Well, all right. What is that?" He said, "Well, you need to let me keep my socks on." She said, "Well, why?" He said, "Well, I will need some place to keep my brushes."

So, some of the books that we find in this day and time have just about this much value to them. You are continually getting bombarded by people who profess to be researchers and they have the rare name of Yarbrough on their mailing list and they want to sell you a $32.50 book and the only thing it has is pages out of the telephone book and out of that $32.50 they pay the postage and they make $30.00 and you don't get anything but a bunch of pages out of a phone book and a little brochure on how to look up your family tree and research records.

To my knowledge there are currently three Yarbrough publications that are available. There are others coming out and we hope there will be many more soon. If you get any advertisements in the mail, don't hesitate to run it through your organization so that we can help you research the matter. The last one -- they had changed their modus operandi a little bit and have been substituting the name that they are trying to sell a book to with the so-called maiden name of the author...I believe it was Elizabeth Yarborough Ross that was coming out with one who wanted to sell you a $32.00 and I received one in the mail and so far they have failed to respond to any correspondence because I told them that we had a national organization and if their book was all they claimed that we would be glad to help sponsor or to endorse their book ... and then I didn't hear from them anymore. Then my neighbor brought me the same card only it was an Elizabeth Williams Ross --- I don't know how many times she has been married. I guess about every time there has been a name to come up on the list -- it becomes her maiden name. So, be careful. Spend your time and energy with the organization. We are trying to keep this thing going to where it will give you good bona fide research.

The Board of Directors meet this afternoon and we have two new members of the Board. I'd like very much if we could to have Mrs. Frances Lockwood to stand up please. And, Roger Yarbrough would you please stand. Hopefully we will continue to grow to where we will have more people on the board. It is more than any two or three people can do at this point in time. So, if you will bear with us and give us some input -- we would like to make this even better. I know that the man that is most responsible for this, I guess probably the two most responsible people for this organization, were Charles D. Yarborough of Texas and Robert "Bob" Yarbrough and I think they would be extremely proud of the progress that we have made thus far. We sure want to keep it going if we possibly can.

Tomorrow we plan to have a departure breakfast. The facility is relatively small and there have been about 80 people sign up so far, so we are going to hope to have a meeting along about 8:00 (when I say a meeting, it is everybody buy your own breakfast and drink your own cup of coffee) just to say goodbye and we have enjoyed it and we hope that you will continue to come because as far as we know, we anticipate having these every year. Next year we plan to meet in Memphis, Tennessee. We searched through and that is the best spot at this particular time. There are other places we would like to go, but we have a tremendous representation from Tennessee. I guess the closest one to that would be Texas and we still want to get where we can get the most people to come to these meetings. Next year, also, we are looking forward to and we would like to have some input from the representatives here at this meeting --- we would like to have our own tour group to go to England and we would like to have a show of hands of those who would be interested so we can start working towards putting one of these together at the most convenient time which would probably be next fall -- somewhere in the neighborhood of September or October as I understand that is about the best time to make such a trek over there. How many of you would be interested in trying to put something like that together for this organization?

All right, that looks good to me and that is a good start and that doesn't mean to say you can't join with the group... if we can get enough I would just as soon take a 747! And if the donations are sufficient we will just buy the Yarborough Castle and go over there every year. That would be a tremendous stroke. What we would like to do at some point in time is to get to a position where we will have home of our own that we can have a library or depository of records so that anybody would be proud to go there. We are a long time for that coming to pass, I guess, but if you don't start out shooting high you will never get above your knees. So, what we hope to do is continue the interest; have enough people to participate and to move on forward and, if we can do that, just keep in mind that if you are persistent long enough you are bound to win out in the end.

I have really enjoyed being with everybody. I hope we will continue to do this. It is always gratifying to see new faces but it is always extremely gratifying to see the old ones coming back continuously. Even though you find everything that you are looking for, you develop certain habits and just can't quit looking. So, we will just keep looking and we will have every Yarbrough recorded because I would hate to go away just leaving one out there that is not recognized or that nobody knows who he is.

The next speaker on our list that I would like to introduce to you is Frances Ann Yarbrough and she is from Memphis, Tennessee and all of those who have come more than once know old Frances and Tennessee Charlie over there and so we would just like for her to come up and tell you a little bit about her research.

FRANCES ANN YARBROUGH:

The first thing I would like to tell you all about -- I meant to get this out earlier and I failed to. This is the Yarbrough House that was in Raleigh, NC. It was a hotel and it was more like a palace. I have a glossy print of it and some of you I have been able to get copies. But, if anybody is in the workroom tonight and wants a copy of it I will provide it. I have it in five stages. This picture shows it in the most grand stage and I think it is worth having because it was very impressive. It was the place to stay at the time. If anyone wants to know more about it, I will let you know after this meeting.

The Yarbrough family has something infectious about it that inspires one to search for their roots. Some of the Yarbrough family's most dedicated, active researchers have married into the family. For the last seven years I have been working with my husband, Charlie, and my son, Alfred, on Yarbrough research and have wanted to trace my ancestors, too. I had a very big problem. I was adopted when I was two years old and did not know who my parents were. My search started when I was in college and at one time Charlie had held my sealed record in his hand. At first there was a local judge who blocked every effort I made to find out about who my parents were. When he finally retired, it gave me a new ray of hope that the new judge would allow me to see my records. I was really excited the day he gave me permission to see them. Then a new snag! They could not find my papers. The court clerk let Alfred and I go down in the basement and search. We spent two whole days looking through everything. Nothing. At this point I virtually gave up. Last year the Memphis Commercial Appeal had a story on adoptives who had found their their parents through the Department of Human Services. They gave all the information and even who to contact, so I didn't even wait to get a letter out, I called immediately one of the ladies that was listed in the article. I was really surprised to find out how nice they were. She told me exactly what to put in a request and exactly how to word it. Not only were they very helpful, they were very concerned and really interested in it. Not only did they give the information needed, they also make every effort to find the people for you. Through their help, I not only found out who my parents were, but my mother and sister had been trying to find me. So, in trying to find my roots, I got a bonus. My whole new family. My mother even got the letter from the Department of Human Services on my birthday. Since then they have visited me and are coming back to see me again this month.

I just want everyone who is doing a search not to give up because they run into a snag. Keep trying everything you can and you will find something and may even get a wonderful surprise you are not expecting like I did. Now I have two lines to work on.

(NOTE: While Charlie Yarbrow was aware of his wife's search for her family, he did not know until his wife's talk that she had found them. It was a wonderful surprise that was shared with the whole family.

ALLEN YARBROUGH:

So, that is first hand and I know that each of you that even found just one generation further back than you had to begin with when you start searching can appreciate a lot of that feeling although you may know who you are looking for -- you just can't find them and she knew she had a mother, too, and kept the search going until she finally found out. So, let's don't give up and once we find who we are looking for, turn around and help your cousin over there because all of us are kin no matter how you spell it. Like it or not, you are stuck with me from now on, honey, let me tell you! But, I love it.

We have even discussed the idea, in addition to research seminars and conferences like we have, we are getting to be such a family now that I miss all you guys from year to year and it would be nice to get together somewhere just for a weekend or if you have a Yarbrough living close to you, get over and see them. None of us have guarantees for tomorrow. I didn't realize how close that came to home on a couple of occasions and a lot of you know better than I....but I had no idea that I would ever be standing here before you tonight. My time, I thought, had come three years ago. Fortunately, I have been given a reprieve and I will continue on and I hope they have to knock me in the head on judgment day.

Our next speaker is Tennessee Charlie, Charles Henry Yarbrow.

CHARLES YARBROW:

This is not actually a speech but is a remembrance of our dear friend and cousin, Bob Yarbrough, and each of you have a copy in your program. We wanted everyone to have a copy.

It is with great sadness and heavy hearts that we dedicate the 1987 National Yarbrough Conference to Robert Price Yarbrough, known affectionately to all of us as "Bob".

Bob was born the 31st of October 1911 in Meridian, Mississippi, the son of Robert Earl and Susie Bell (Price) Yarbrough. He died in Charlotte, NC, 10 July 1987. Bob married the former Jane Bair, a marriage that was filled with love and laughter for 45 years. To this union were born three children: Robert Ted Yarbrough and daughters Pat Beckner and Linda McCannell.

It is no great secret that Bob was a favorite of the Yarbrough family because he was a cousin to us all and each of us carries within our heart a special memory.

He always had a compliment for the ladies and could be called a southern gentlemen in the truest definition of the words.

He was an entertainer. His family remembers well his attempts to clog dance at the office Christmas party. His larger family gathered here at the conference remembers well his jokes and entertaining talks.

He was a rescuer. Even though he didn't like cats at all, he climbed up a ladder, maybe 30 feet, resting on a tree, to rescue his mother-in-law's cat -- only to bring the darn thing down with its claws firmly implanted in his chest. More importantly, he was a rescuer of people. Anyone who ever turned to Bob with a problem knows that it was met with sympathy and empathy. He was the kind of friend you didn't have to ask for help. He knew what you needed and was there with it before you called. Anyone who needed genealogy information on the family received immediate response and he shared all that he had gladly. When a missing link was discov-

But, all across the nation Yarbroughs wanted to gather to have a dedication ceremony. It came together ... it was held in Petersburg, Virginia August 14 and 15, 1982 ... and this was the first Yarbrough National Conference. As you know, it was such a success that it is now held annually.

Bob's love for all the Yarbrough "clans" (as he always called us) and his selfless devotion to the correction of a tombstone were the very basis and roots of our National Yarbrough Conferences. So, we say:

Kneel before us, Robert Price Yarbrough, in your spirit presence and in the memories within our hearts. With not the royal sword in the ways of our ancestors, but rather with a gentle touch of family love, we dub thee Sir Robert Yarbrough, father of the National Yarbrough Conference; those past, this one tonight, and those yet to come.

We miss you, our very dear friend, we miss you.'

ALLEN YARBROUGH:

Now, how can you follow something like that?

Our next speaker is someone that all of us should be proud of. Those who know her are, without a doubt, extremely proud. Karen Mazock has given that extra touch, walked that extra mile, pounded the typewriter that extra hour, to make a lot of this possible and she will be our next speaker so let's have one of the warmest welcomes for our sister.

KAREN MAZOCK

When Bob and I were discussing the program for the banquet, we discussed previous programs and the topics discussed. Somewhere in the conversation it was mentioned that while we had heard about the Yarbrough lords wife, caring mother and active in the Community and church. It is important that you know this so you can understand how her life changed completely and forever in less than one month's time.

As you know from history, taxes were unmercifully high in the colonies. The Regulators were formed to try to bring relief. You will recall how they met Governor Tryon at Alamance in an attempt to find a solution ... and received an answer written in their own blood. After the battle at Alamance, Governor Tryon marched his men westward, arriving at the Jersey Settlement about two weeks later, Saturday, June 1, 1771 ... the night that turned Jemima's dreams into nightmares.

Let us turn to the North Carolina State Records, Vol. 29, page 849, for an account of that night:

"June 1, 1771. Tryon's army camped on Benjamin Merrill's plantation, a valuable tract of well cultivated land in the Jersey Settlement, near the Yadkin River. The horses belonging to the army had been turned loose that night to graze, each animal having a bell tied to its neck to aid in finding any which might stray. In the immediate neighborhood was the residence, gardens and grounds of Benjamin Merrill, a planter, who owned and took a great deal of pride in an extensive apiary which was located in the gardens. A foraging party from Tryon's army were attempting to steal honey from this place and in the darkness, several beehives were overturned and the bees began stinging both men and horses. The horses thereupon began to run pell-mell at a full gallop around and through the camp, ringing several hundred discordant bells, the sound of which made the night hideous. The sentinels, guards and pickets fired off their pieces, and the cry 'stand to your arms' run thoughtout the camp. Tryon no doubt thought all the regulators in the world had suddenly swooped down upon him. However, the cause of the tumult was soon ascertained and quiet was restored."

Captain Merrill was arrested that Saturday, put in chains with the other prisoners and dragged through the country to Hillsborough. These prisoners were to be tried from June 4 through June 8. Governor Tryon made it known that he would listen to the petitions of the prisoner's wives and mothers. Jemima Merrill, with her children, went to the Governor, she knealt at his feet and made her plea ... only to be told that it was now beyond his power to pardon anyone (though six of the twelve men tried were later pardoned). Benjamin Merrill received no pardon.

Jemima Merrill and her children attended Benjami's trial. Turning to Vol. 8, page 6423 of the North Carolina Colonial Records, we can read the words of the Chief Justice:

"I must now close my afflicting Duty, by pronouncing upon you the awful sentence of the law: which is that you, Benjamin Merrill, be carried to the place from whence you came, that you be drawn from thence to the place of Execution, where you are to be hanged by the neck; that you be cut down while yet alive, that your bowels be taken out and burnt before your face, that your head be cut off, your body be divided into four quarters, and this be at his Majesty's Disposal, and the Lord have mercy on your soul."

On June 19, 1771, Jemima and her children were in Hillsborough ... not because they wanted to see the execution, but in the hopes that they might have a few more moments with their beloved Benjamin. As he was led to the gallows, the guards allowed him to stop and say a few words with his family. From the gallows he was allowed to speak to the crowd. The full text of his gallow's speech is recorded in the North Carolina Colonial Records, Vol VIII, page 42. I just want to share with you here the ending to the speech:

"Believe me, I would not change stations with any man on the ground. All you who think you stand, take heed lest ye fall. I would be glad to say a few words more to you before I die. In a few moments I shall leave a widow and ten children. I entreat that no reflection may be cast upon them on my account; and if possible, shall deem it as a bounty should you gentlemen petition the Governor and Council that some part of my estate may be spared to the widow and fatherless; it will be an act of charity ..."

He then sang a Psalm very devoutly, stepped forward and died like a Christian and soldier.

It was very silent. Captain Merrill had the support and sympathy of the entire crowd .. including Governor Tyron's men; one of whom was overhead to say, 'if all men went to the gallows with a character such as Captain Merrills' then hanging would be an honorable death.'

Jemima and the children heard this, and saw the execution. The memory etched itself into her very soul. In A History of the Libery Baptist Association, Rev. Henry Sheets wrote:

"Mrs. Jemima Merrill remained faithful and active religiously after the death of her husband. She was blind. Whether the blindness was caused by some natural defect or from excessive grief at the sad and untimely death of her husband was not known. She was never herself after the death of her husband -- she never recovered from the cruel fate which befell her in thus being bereft. She suffered great mental distress and spent much of her time walking to pass off the melancholia which clung to her only to darken her days of grief and bitterness. Her mind was scarecely ever free from her affliction while awake."

Jemima lived 30 years after Benjamin's death ... Because she could not keep up the plantation alone (it was restored to the family), she married one of the elders of her church and lived to see him try to take her children's rightful inheritance.

Jemima (Smith) Merrill - born 1730, d. 1803.

Jemima's son Samuel was a Revolutionary War soldier. He married a girl named Susannah -- her maiden name seems lost to us -- and they had a daughter named Jemima who married Thomas Yarborough of Davidson County, North Carolina, making Jemima Merrill a grandmother to most of the large line of Yarbroughs in (or from) the Davidson County, NC area.

PENELOPE (THOMPSON) VAN PRINCES STOUT
1622 - 1732

In 1634 Penelope Thompson was a pretty girl of twelve living in Amsterdam, Holland. She wore ribbons in her cap over yellow ringlets and her eyes sparkled --- everyday an adventure to her. Not far from her home lived a young portrait painter, Rembrandt Van Ryn who was surrently the rage of Amsterdam. Penelope had a tutor who, besides teaching her French and English, told her how proud she should be of her small country's history of expansion ... especially now that the dutch West India Company was carrying on a thriving trade with the wild men -- the Indians -- of the northeastern parts of America ... how these Indians could be dealt with if one observed a strict policy of fair and open terms. So, by the time she married Ken Van Princes, both of them age 20, she must have carried in her mind a pleasantly colored picture of the Dutch settlement in the new world. When Kent proposed that they leave Holland and set forth for New Netherland to see if they could make a home there, Penelope 'went with willingness.' There is little on record of Kent, but it comes down to us of that time that Penelope herself was a woman blossoming into beauty with a cheerful and loving disposition.

Kent was ill from the day the ship set sail; growing steadily worse; delirious with fever. On the 58th day in the murky gloom of a stormy afternoon, the ship made landfall of a sort -- it crashed into the rocky shoals off the coast of Sandy Hook. In fright and confusion, the settlers shinnied down hand-burning lengths of rope into life rafts, some of which capsized in the heaving surf. Penelope, aided by sailors, managed to get her unconscious husband off the ship and most of the passengers and crew managed to reach the shore. They found themselves on a barren expanse of beach, lined with dense woods. They held a short conference and decided to press on toward their destination, New Amsterdam, that very hour. Fear of the wild men decreed that no one spend a night on the unprotected beach. They urged the young Mistress Van Princes to come along and Penelope pleaded with them to help her carry Kent. Stern, pitying faces denied her; carrying Kent would slow down the party on their way to the safety of the town and surely she realized he was all but dead anyway. She refused to leave him and they left, promising to return as soon as possible with help.

The night came on. Crouched beside Kent she slept fitfully. With the morning came events more terrible than this pretty, sheltered young bride from Holland could have possibly imagined. For, in the morning the wild men came.

She saw little -- three or four men with feathers sticking up from shaved and coppery heads. Then their arms were swinging down upon her with knives and with something she was later to learn was a tomahawk. One blow and the dying young man was dispatched. Penelope was deftly scalped, a knife slashed into her shoulder and another stroke drove into and across her abdomen. They left her for dead.

She crawled to the edge of the woods; found dew in the hollow of leaves; ate fungous excrescence and the gum growing on the trees. The emotional and physical pain can only be imagined. On the 4th day she saw a deer run by with arrows sticking in its flanks. she hid in a hollow tree. But a dog came racing across the beach and stood barking at her -- baring its rotten teeth until the wild men came up.

This time there were only two of them -- one young; one older. The young one raised his tomahawk but the older one stepped in front of him, frowning at the girl. In an action that mercifully caused her to faint, the older man threw his coat over her body and carried her off.

When she awoke, her first realization was that the terrible pain had gone. Slabs of a sort of mud had been applied to her bloody head. Her stomach was wound tightly with cloth. Her mouth felt fuzzy as if she had swallowed some drug; and for the moment she did not even feel panic.

Days passed with her waking, sleeping, having double vision, screaming, nausea; light as painful as splinters, blackness that terrified, now and then a rough hand on her forehead, chills, consuming heat ... and constant nightmares of being chased by yelling wild men waving knives chasing her down an endless stretch of sand.

When she was finally fully conscious, she sat up and could see across from her a few women sitting, eating with their fingers out of small bowls. They brought her a bowl and to her surprise, the taste was delicious and she realized she was starved. She was cramming the food into her mouth so fast that it ran down her hands and arms, but she didn't care. She was out of pain and didn't seem to be in any apparent danger.

Suddenly she looked up and all the fear returned. Standing before her was a wild man ... and she realized it was one of the wild men from the beach and she drew in her breath to scream. But before this could happen she realized the man was speaking to her and she was somehow able to understand him. "I save you. I Chief. You stay here." The memory of her tutoring came flooding back. He was speaking English! She wanted to thank him for saving her life -- but she fainted.

It was dark when she awakened again. All of a sudden she remembered all that had happened to her and put her hands to her head. She was completely bald! She was a widow,

She was sent one day to gather clamshells. With her heart in her throat, she searched the bushes at the edge of the woods not knowing what would happen to her if she were caught. She found a canoe pushed up into the thicket. Escape by day was impossible as she was always watched ... she promised herself that on the next moonless night ...

The very day after the discovery of the canoe, the younger brave who had wanted to finish her off as she had huddled in the hollow tree appeared in the longroom she shared with the other unattached squaws. He grinned at her evilly, and deposited a large gray-white fish at her feet. At this the other squaws burst into shouts of laughter. Penelope, frightened, ran to the chief. Tisquantum told her that this was the same man who had scalped and killed her husband; who had been with him when she was found alive; and since she had survived, he felt "possessive" toward her. He had brought her the fish, a type of salmon, for her to eat because it aroused sexual desire. Penelope was horrified. Tisquantum told her calmly that she need not accept the first brave who made such overtures. She might turn down two more. After that there was no more leeway in choosing a mate. The fourth man would be her mate.

Penelope had been wearing a piece of fur around her shaven head. Now she went without it. This did not seem to make any difference. Soon after the incident of the gray fish, another young buck began following along wherever she went. Number two! Now she was sure she could not afford to wait for a moonless night ... she had to escape.

Penelope learned that a three-day religious festival was to be held. Each year in the dead of winter the tribe honored a great spirit Manibus in the hopes that Manibus would cause the spring to come again. Inspired, Penelope hoped this would give her the chance to escape.

On the first day of the celebration there was too much activity. No one slept. It continued through the second night and there was a full moon that turned night into day. On

At last she looked up and could make out lamp-lighted windows drawing nearer. With the wild energy that comes out of desperation, Penelope started paddling as hard as she could ... succeeding only in turning the canoe over. So weak was she that she sank under immediately. But instinct took over and she struggled to the surface, thrashing about and swallowing water. And the realization came over her ... her feet were touching ground!

She made her way to the houses and was taken into the home of Lady Deborah Moody at Gravesend, New Amsterdam -- or New York as we know it today.

Penelope was not yet 21 years of age. But here ends the part of her life I wanted to share with you tonight. It is not the end of Penelope's story. When she was 22 she married Peter Stout and they had ten children. She remained friends with Tisquantum and it is recorded how he would drop into her home, sit in her kitchen and talk with her. Once heaven came to warn her of a planned massacre of her town which enabled Penelope to warn the others and save the town.

Penelope lived to be 110 years of age. She saw her offspring multiplied into 502 in about 88 years. She told her story over and over, to her children, her grandchildren, and great grandchildren. It was first recorded in 1765, just 33 years after her death. In 1823 Nathan Stout used this, along with other family papers and official records for a history of the Stout family. In his research he spoke with a Mrs. Henry Seabrook of Keyport, NJ, who told him the following:

"My grandmother, Helen Huff, told me how her grandfather, John Stout, had felt the wounds of Penelope Stout, and that he blushed like a school boy. She wished the knowledge of the Indian assault transmitted to her posterity and it has been done, for there are but two hands between Penelope and me."

You can find Penelope in nearly all of the New York history books and record books.

Now I would like to ask the following women to stand up: Jane Yarbrough; Pat Beckner; Opal Yarborough; Laura Yarborough; Charla Yarborough; Martha Yarborough.

In his book, Bob Yarbrough's dedication reads: "To my wife, Jane Bair Yarbrough, and all the loving patient ladies who were in generations past, are now and will be for ages to come the strength of the Yarbrough Clan.

Jane Yarbrough and Pat Beckner, the wife and daughter of Robert Price Yarbrough. Laura Yarborough and Charla Yarborough, the wife and daughter of Charles David Yarborough. Martha Yarborough, the stepmother of Charles David Yarborough and Opal Yarborough, wife of Senator Ralph Yarborough and mother of Richard Yarborough.

As all of you know, each of these ladies has lost a very special person in their lives and in our lives in the last two years. We the members of the Yarbrough clans present each of you this single red rose. It is the symbol of love. We want you to know that as we have shared with you your triumphs, so have we walked with you in your sorrow. Like Jemima and Penelope, you represent to us the strength of the Yarbrough clans, and we love you.

ALLEN YARBROUGH

As though of you who have been fortunate enough to listen to him in the past know, we will always be proud to listen to him in the future. It is my great pleasure to introduce our next speaker, Senator Ralph Yarborough.

SENATOR RALPH YARBOROUGH

I have given this talk before but they say that each time I talk that fifty percent of the people here have never heard it and we want to go ahead and say this as this is Yarbrough family history so we will know these instances. So we have only this great realistic story of what these people who were responsible for the present generation of Yarbroughs endured. I'll give you some background, most of it from England so you will just fill that in on the duller pages where you have blank pages in your book --just fill it in with this. There are some facts in here, dull in comparison to what you have just heard but interesting in the context of history.

You know where you study history in school, after all, history is my favorite subject but I thought most of it was dull. I read all of it to get those chapters I enjoyed most. So, tonight you are on the program for that part that does not have this great emotional feel to us as we think back on people who were scalped and lived.

In Texas history there were several and one of the most famous ones was a surveying party that was out near what is now Austin, Texas but was then the frontier. The Indians attacked the surveying parties the most vicious of all -- the Comanches had a word for compass -- the thing that steals the land. They knew when the surveyors came the whites wouldn't be far behind and they were the most vicious attacks. They attacked one surveying party and one, named Will Barker, a famous case in Texas, was scalped and left for dead under a tree and he survived and was, I think, able to crawl, despite some wounds, to a spring of water where he could drink. His wife, at the very hour he was scalped, in the town down the river, dreamed that she saw her husband scalped lying there and the others that got away came back and said that her husband was dead. They went back and couldn't find him because he had crawled away. They said that he was dead and there was no use looking. She said, "I saw him lying there scalped" and she insisted that they go back. About two or three days later they went back and found him. He lived but wore a cap the rest of his life. It was a big scalping. Some of Shawnees took a little strip; Comanches took the whole hair off the whole scalp of the head. So, these stories are moving and touching to all of us and that is part of our actual history there, so knowing kinsmen and descendants of those people, it teaches us something about what those who went out on the frontier risked to settle it to reclaim it for the rest of us.

But let me get back to some of the aspects of English Yarbrough family history because ,that is what you are studying; you are looking for your roots to go to the background and I stand here with a great deal of humility after seeing the starting of this after seeing Charles, my nephew Charles, stated his research on our family history. He was a student at the law school at the University of Texas, already married and trying to rear a family. That is a very tough law school...Harvard and Texas are the two largest in numbers in the nation and that means that the competition is so keen, it is very tough to pass it. Charles told me he was starting this little magazine. I thought "how on earth can you pass those tough law courses and print this Yarbrough Family Magazine"..but he did. And he started this work and it spread and spread and tonight you have the largest meeting we have ever had, the most successful and after we lost Charles and then a few weeks ago we lost Bob and I thought, "My goodness, two of the most active workers, two from the very start on having the conference are gone -- how can it last now?" Now we see how it will last. For scores are beginning to arise and will carry forward their work and expand it into many new fields beyond what they had envisioned and the plans that Allen, your chairman, has here are looking forward to greater things -- not merely just to learn what happened then, but an inspiration for the future because we need that -- times are hard. They are going to get harder for this nation and we are no longer top dogs -- we are not the only ones with atomic bombs. Even small nations have the atomic bombs now and our lives are going to get rougher because we have been rough on little nations -- so rough that a good part of the world doesn't agree with us on the way that we treat them and when we alienate the world, we are in trouble and we have alienated a majority of the world and we will have to pay that penalty and we are going to have to be determined as a nation to survive and undergo great hardships.

But back to what our ancestors suffered -- nothing equalled the hardships that they had and they survived. I am glad we had the opportunity to listen to what people could survive and then do and accomplish.

Growing up as a boy in east Texas, a little country town on Nueces River, a wonderful little river where the Cherokee moves in there. They surveyed it and picked that river to settle on -- the Spanish gave them permission to pick any tract of a limited area of Texas to settle that they wanted to -- that is before the anglo settlers came to Texas -- they picked the Nueces because they found there were more species of edible fish in in than any river in Texas. I grew up a mile from that river in a little town of 500 people and was interested in family history. Every Yarbrough I've ever known is interested in family history. That is one attribute of the Yarbrough blood. I think it is just in the blood.

I asked my father about it and I'd get interested and I'd want to hear something great and there wasn't any George Washington or Thomas Jefferson in our family .. or Benjamin Franklin. We didn't have a glamerous ranger captain in our family. But, my father told me what he could and I picked out three of the things I thought were the biggest and for one of those he told me that there were seven brothers that came over from the old country together. That was the beginning ... Seven brothers came from the old country and settled. I took by "old country" he meant England. Well, the Yarbroughs had been in Virginia about a hundred years and he had heard the people talk about the old country during the middle of the 1700's - seven brothers with families -- I learned this later. I thought that was a myth... that there was nothing to it at all. But seven brothers with families moved from Virginia into North Carolina and to them the old country was Virginia because they had been there about a hundred years. My father's thought that by old country they meant England through me off some. I found that wasn't a myth... that was reality.

The second myth I grew up on, I was disillusioned. Finding no seven brothers had ever come from England -- not only not together on the ship but in the entirety of migration insofar as I could find out from talking with colonial experts.

The second thing that he told me that was inspirational was that it was handed down in the family that our ancestor in England was a great judge in England. I lived on that until I got in the law school at the University of Texas and found a book "The Judges of England" .. it had every judge listed in England from 1066, the Norman Conquest, up to 1888. There wasn't a single Yarbrough in there and they had the trial as well as the appellate judges. I thought, "Well, that is a myth, that is a goner." That was before I found out about the seven brothers being a myth.

He then told me of one about the family where when all the men died out they had a provision that the woman who had considerable estates, the women, if they married, they had to have a covenant that the husband would take the family name to preserve that. He thought that was in the United States. I couldn't find any such record in the United States. I thought that was myth number three.

Now on the myth number 2, on the famous judge, in research I found the answer to that I think, I found it in a book published less than 30 years ago by the University of Texas Press and the Press of Oxford Joint Venture. It was about John De Yerdebeurgh -- that was the teutonic spelling of Yarbrough. The French spelling was Yerbrec. That was in what was called the Daneland of England on the east coast on the Umler River that the Danes had settled in and lived there for 400-500 years. So there grew up there grew up there a man, a son of a king, he was son of king and called John of Ghent. His name through life was John of Ghent, Duke of Lancaster, King of Castille. Spain was divided into two nations at that time and Castille and Aargon and he married the daughter of the king of Castille so he called himself the King of Castille because when the King of Castille died, his wife (John's) was the oldest child and she claimed the right to rule Castille as Queen. John of Ghent went over and fought two wars there but the Spanish would not put up with an Englishman as the King of Spain so he lost and could not win that kingdom. But he had a man on his staff, John De Yerdebeurgh, who was keeper of the royal seal and keeper of the royal wardrobe. That royal wardrobe, the Lord of the province in England was the only one who had a bunch of fancy enough clothes to wear to a wedding of nobility. When they had a great wedding, the keeper of the wardrobe would issue that out -- it was kept under lock and key -- issue costumes out for all the kinfolks to wear to this wedding of nobles like you can see in those processions in the movies with all the people with the glamerous costumes on. And the royal seal meant that he was virtually a secretary of state -- he signed the warrants, he signed for pay, he kept the rolls, he was a clerk -- some would call it a clerk now but it was really about the power of a secretary of state. But John of Ghent did one very unusual thing -- this was along in the 1300's. When his father died, a younger brother was succeeding to the throne. He was grown. What they normally did at that time was just strangle that kid and he would get to be king. That happened a lot of times in English history. He didn't strangle him ... he swore a feildry to him. He protected him, and as a result, as he grow up with the regents they gave him, though he couldn't be king of Castille, a lot of the attributes of royalty. He carried the revenue with him the rest of his life in England like he was a king to and they gave him patronage. So he appointed a certain man a notary public. That man was a brother-in-law of John of Ghent. His name was Chaucer. He wrote the Canterbury Tales. He lived on those grants from John of Ghent, his brother-in-law, and then he promoted him and made him a customs collector for the port of London. A notary public paid right well for that time. You had to pay a pretty stiff fee for deeds to be acknowledged and so forth and that collector of port customs got a cut out of everything they brought through there. That was really a lucrative job. That kept Chaucer going while he was writing the Canterbury Tales which scholars tell us are really the item that when England was hanging on the brink; they had been speaking (all the court people) French since the Norman conquest of 1066, and this was 1300, and it was about to go French as the real language of the people of England that the Canterbury Tales -- that was before printing but they were copied and read all over England -- that turned the people for the English Language. But John De Yerdeburgh was signing those warrants and the most they know today is that the warrants that he signed --he was the ancestor of probably all of us here -- there were so few Yarbroughs then, so few people in England. He signed the warrants on which Chaucer wrote the Canterbury Tales and made English the language of England. And that is the distinguished judge -- he had certain attributes of a judge. And that was a legend handed down in our family that I learned from my father. The legend was true.

Now, to the other legend about the giving lands and seeing that certain people took the title of the Yarbrough family -- that is in fairly modern times. I have the names and dates right here and I will read them. The Yarbroughs up in Lincolnshire and Yorkshire had considerable lands. The lands use system that they had there made it hard for the widows to save the Yarbrough name. So they moved in ways -- and this is the third myth -- the third myth began operation in 1852. The male line of the Yorkshire Yarbroughs became extinct with the death of one Edmund Yarbrough. That was in 1852 and he died unmarried. His sister had married John Graham and left issue of Yarbrough Graham. They named their son Yarbrough Graham and the father died and he immediately had the right under succession there to take the Yarbrough name. He took the Yarbrough name to save the Yarbrough name and he, in turn, died in 1856 without issue and the representation they called it then went to his sister, Elisha Marie. On her death it went to her eldest son, George John Lloyd, itself a distinguished English name. He assumed the Yarbrough name. In order to keep it alive, he assumed the Yarbrough name. So that is two cases where they assumed the name to keep it alive...they got the lands on the side, too. He died in 1868 leaving a daughter and the eldest one was married to a George de Bateson in 1862. Now George De Bateson became the second Lord Dere-more and he then moved over ... he could be Lord Deremore but they had the other name under it. He assumed the name of de Bateson of Yarburch. He took the name. That is the third one in 1884. And then the representation of the Yorkshire Yarburchs evolved upon the Robert Winfred de Bateson Yarburch Lord Deremore. The present Lord Deremore (and I am skipping two or three here in the interest of time) still lives -- not that one of 1880 -- there have been two more in between. He has no issue. He is the last of the line. When he dies the Lord Deremore title will die. Lord Yarburch name today is a Pellham -- he is not a Yarburch. The Yarburch title had died out so the Pellham became entitled to a title for great service to the crown and they gave him a choice as to what he wanted to be and he wanted to be Lord Yarburch. It shows the esteem in which that name was held in England. The fact that these men would give up their own name -- and in some instances they didn't have to in order to get that land -- they willingly gave it up to assume the name of Yarburch. It shows the great esteem in which that name was held without any great crimes. There is no instance in English history of any great crime being committed by a Yarburch.

The Yarburchs were serving in the British Parliament as early as the 1300's. I looked that up in the Library of Congress while I was in Washington. They had their revolutions and civil wars and their records burned and they do not have complete records of who served in the Parliaments but have separate ones. Others served a hundred years later in the Constitutional Parliament -- that is the one that kicked out King Charles over the religious issue and brought over William and Mary of Orange to reestablish a protestant succession in England. The last one was the brother of this man right here who wrote this book about the Yarburchs "Some Notes on our Family History" by E. R. Yarburch. They just published about 100 of these and I was fortunate enough to find a copy in a bookstore in Boston and he gave this to his daughter, Mary Yarburch in 1912. At that time he dedicated it to his brother who was a member of Parliament and that brother, he tells us in the back, had served in the completely mapped it. He mapped over into their territory.

I was in Washington in May and went to the National Archives. You can't see it with this light, but the reason I have this scratching part of this which is in blue and part which is in green because I wanted to show the difference between the ocean and where the land was. They didn't know at that time that he was the first man ever to map the north slope. I am marking this with a heavier line so you can see out here to this side -- the blue is the Arctic ocean and over here is Alaska. They didn't know where all of it was. And out to the furthestest point that he got, John Franklin, was Yarbrough Inlet. He named an Inlet there for a Yarbrough. We don't know why -- probably a great supporter of his in England. It could have been an officer on one of the ships. He named some of those bays -- he named all the bays, islands, places to pass. The biggest ones were for English Royalty and others for captains of ships or people who had helped him or gotten his expedition together. I have a copy here I got out of the rare book room (I couldn't even get in there when I was in the Senate) and I picked the books off the shelves to look at them and then this copy I made there from the London account written by John Richards, the medical doctor they took with them on that trip. This was printed in London in 1828 and he says in there "and steered it to the westward across the mouth of Yarbrough Inlet, soundings varying from 5 feet to 2 fathoms (5 feet to 12 feet).

Now I wrote the proper two or three bureaus in Washington trying to find the one that named these places in America and they couldn't find it in a directory -- it was kind of hidden away somewhere. I got the word back that the Yarbrough, that name has been taken off the map. We couldn't find a reason; he wasn't a captain of a ship; he wasn't important enough. They left all those other names on it. I think I know the reason they took it off, they were leaving that for some crony -- wanted to name one of their cronies for that inlet. Well, I have just been recommending to the chairman that we have a committee on geographical and historical names and places and I think we ought to blow the roof off of that committee up there. That name was put there by Sir John Franklin who, as you know, lost his life in Artic exploration.

These are British Admiralty maps. These copies I got from the Map Archives of the Library of Congress. I made those there in research. Here is another one on a little bit bigger scale. That was a reprint by the British Admiralty. They were doing lobster surveying maps of the oceans at that time. This Yarbrough Inlet they say is non-existent. If you were up close enough to look at this map, the Inlet is three times as wide as any river flowing into the Artic Ocean. They said they couldn't find it. Three times as wide! This map is dated in the 1850's. We have got to fight to save our heritage. That is the point I want to bring up. There is more than finding out what they did, but seeing that they get credit for what they did and that we get credit for what they did.

Now, here is something that has come within the past year, found by the man who made the dedication speech for the Yarbrough monument in the cemetery at Petersburg from North Carolina -- Charles Yarbrough. He was in the Republic of Baliese, former British Honduras. A while back he called me and said that there was a Yarbrough Lagoon in Baliese, named for Yarbroughs in the port there, the port city which was the capital city subject to great overflows in tornadoes, hurricanes, etc. so they have moved it inland and are building them a new capital inland, kind of like we did with Washington or the Australians with Canberra. Now that Lagoon is a big lagoon so I went to the map archives in the Library of Congress while I was there and got maps of that area and that Lagoon is on there just as big as all outdoors and somewhere I have a picture of it to show you.

That lagoon -- I talked with the Baliese Embassy and they wouldn't encourage me to do anything about it because the city is divided into eight areas, precincts we would call them -- and that is down on the old waterfront, the earliest area settled. They indicated it was a very poor district and wouldn't be very enthusiastic about the appearance of things there. They thought it wouldn't elevate their image any to illustrate that area. But, that is the original area and it has a very interesting history because the British were in there as early as 1640 with ships and cutting diewood. I don't know what that diewood is used for. It was selling on the London market from $90 to $120 a ton which was paying even better than raiding Spanish gold ships because they didn't always capture them. They took African slaves in there with them and pretty soon there wasn't anybody there but those planters and their slaves and I think that they are the descendants of them are about the only people left there. The Spanish sent fleet after fleet into there to wipe them out but they would retreat into the mountains where the Mesquito Indians were and those indians would let them come on in there because the Spanish had never conquered those Mesquito Indians along that coast.

In looking at these maps, right by this Yarbrough Lagoon, it is wide. Right by it is the Yarbrough Playing Field. I figured that was probably a soccer field or a polo field but I saw that the street that leads down to it is the Race street. So, it must have been horse racing. Next to that is the Yarbrough Cemetery and Charles Yarbrough of NC told me the Yarbrough cemetery was adjacent to a cathedral. So we have a lot of research to do down there. So, we find that the Yarbroughs were not only here in our South 48 states (as they call it in Alaska), they were on the rim of America to the north; they were in the deep Central America in the tropical areas. So when we get the full data on that we can take a map of North America and stretch a line from up there to Point Barrow (that is close to where the Yarbrough Inlet is today) to down in the southeastern part on the Carribbean and say that the Yarbroughs got from North to South.

So, it is an interest subject, this Yarbrough research. So, if any of you are down there in that area, look that lagoon over, that racetrack, that cemetery, what leads up to the cathedral, see who is buried there and find out. You can find very little. I have found that very little has been written about British Honduras. I've been to the Library of Congress and there is very little said. They just don't know anything about it. The people down there weren't writing. They were cutting trees; they were raising the crops of that area and some they claim were practicing some piracy up and down the coast ... they might have been for a little money on the side. But anyway, they survived. They were survivors and they survived.

You will find all kinds of interesting experiences whatever your interest is in studying this Yarbrough family. You have heard this thrilling story of the grandmothers that endured being scalped and then rearing great families, living over a hundred years -- got tough enough from that indian experience that I guess the other events in life were mild after that if you could endure that and I promise you that from what I have learned the last two years thinking I'd learned a little about the Yarbroughs, why it gets more exciting every year and wider spread and more interesting.

Thank you for your kindness and waiting till we could wade through that first part that I know is old hat to most of you here. It is a great pleasure and a thrill to come and meet with the Yarbroughs. I used to, growing up as a boy, hear the old folks talk about Alabama. Alabama sounded like the promised land where they came from. They talked about the great days in Alabama and I wondered what the Yarbroughs were going to be like if I ever got to see them back in the old states. Well, we know what you are like. You are wonderful people and it is a privilege to have this organization; to meet with you; to meet over and over and I want to congratulate all this committee that have had this chairperson here to put on this wonderful national conference. It has made this year the biggest and best ever and I wish for all of you many more to come and a greater discovery; greater explorations and much pleasure out of what you will learn and that we will learn more about what we need to do for survival for the future.

Thank you and God bless you all.

ALLEN YARBROUGH

For those of you who are here for the first time, you can understand why so many of us continue to come back. You never tire of hearing the fine things that we are a part of history. Most of you have shown that by getting into the research area you like history, and history is what made us what we are today and this country what it is today. I hope that we will always pursue that.

We had one interesting conversation and Senator Ralph and I talk about a lot of things. Every once in awhile a little politics. You know I had to get that joke in there. It is amazing how many male and female, out of all of those who have been participating in the years that we have had this organization are school teachers. Male and female. And if you stop to consider what they have done to educate the people in this country, not about Yarbroughs necessarily, but the rules still apply, whether you are teaching any part of the history of this country or any subject that you may teach in this country, if it wasn't for the mothers, the grandmothers, the school teachers and I married one, thank goodness, somebody had to look after me ... that this wouldn't be much of a country. If you can't walk down the streets of this country with pride, then you don't belong. To me, I have yet to find anybody who has really contributed anything to this country who didn't carry that since of pride. You go back and look at the wars, from the very earliest and biggest one that we had as far as the beginning was independence in 1776 and we have fought somebody ever since then. We like to get in pretty good scrap every now and then, but we aren't going to give it up. This is just one part because we have contributed, this family, members to every war that has ever been fought in this country. We are pursuing the list of all of those who have participated in all military actions in this country and we hope we will have that available one day in the not-toodistant future. All the historical aspects of this country where our family, whether it be directly as a Yarbrough or an offspring of a Yarbrough with Yarbrough blood has sacrificed to this country, for this country and those who carry on and teach about this country will be here forever. Until such time as it comes to an end, I hope everyone will pursue it with the amount of vigor that has been shown in the past few days.

This has been the fastest and shortest Yarbrough National Conference that I have attended, regardless of the fact that I have been here more days. There aren't enough hours yet. When you keep the room open until 2:00 A.M. and you get back up and open up again 6:00 and there is always somebody bumping on the doors ... when are you going to open again? Keep it up. Let's make a bigger and better organization because it is your organization, not mine, it is all of ours and I am proud of it and I want all of you to be equally as proud.

I am looking forward to seeing you in Memphis next year. In the meantime, any suggestions that you may have to make it bigger, better, and more enjoyable, your Board of Directors would appreciate very much hearing from you. Anyone who wants to serve on any committee of any aspect to lend your talent, and believe me, we have some extremely well qualified talent among all of you and throughout the country. So, let's put it to good use and make it a bigger and better organization for the betterment of our country and of our family.

This being the biggest that we have had so far, and I look back and I tell you -- for a little lady sitting on my right over here, she has got as much stamina -- she has really put forth the effort -- not only that, her mother, her sisters and other contributions by members are very long and I won't try to go over the names again, but one who left us right in the middle of it -- we will miss him because he contributed an awful lot, too. But to you and your family, Arlene, thank you very much, we enjoyed it and you have done a remarkable job.

Does anyone else have any business to bring before the organization before we terminate this conference?

(Question from the floor regarding the date of the next conference). The date has not been set but will be announced in the near future.

There will be a farewell breakfast in the morning.. • on a first come, first serve basis as the restaurant only holds 80. However, some have early morning departures so we will get there at staggered times.

How many were here? There were 139 at the dinner and 150 at the workshop. We haven't got the exact total yet.

There is one other thing that I almost forgot and to you I apologize. We have two more board members. We have a honorarium who was made on Charles David's brother, John Yarborough today at the board meeting and also we have a new board member, not a replacement but in her own right because Bob contributed a lot and he was a member of the board of directors. He cannot be replaced but his lovely wife, Jane, has agreed to become a member of the board of directors and to carry on in Bob's behalf and in her own right. So we have two more board members that we would like to welcome at this time and I apologize for not doing this sooner.

If there is no other business, we stand adjourned until our meeting in Memphis. However, we will be glad to see any of you at any time and hear from you on a regular basis if at all possible to offer any suggestions.

Searching for Indexed Terms¹

First, find the name or phrase (search term) in the index. Then, from the menu bar, select “Edit”, and then “Find” or press CTRL+F. A search field will appear in the upper right corner of the page. Enter the search term into this field and press ENTER. If the search term is not found, nothing will happen; otherwise, the search term will be displayed on the first page in which it occurs. Repeated pressing of the ENTER key will high-light other occurrences within the file. Use the left and right arrow buttons to the right of the search field to look ahead or to look backwards for other occurrences of the term in the document

A directory (folder) or even an entire hard drive may also be searched². First, high-light the selected folder or drive and then press SHIFT+CTRL+F to obtain a listing of all the files in which the search term appears. Next, select and open an individual file to find the first occurrence of the search term(s) in the file, as described in the preceding paragraph.

That is, post-scanning processing cannot overcome poor print quality of an original document. With this caveat, each volume has been made searchable by Adobe Acrobat, version 9 or later.
